

CHIPS

By Bruce Campbell

FOR YOUR BENEFIT

We realize the fact that it may take some time and effort on your part to read the stories contained elsewhere in this paper. We also realize that once in a while you may be slightly puzzled by the jargon employed, especially as regards sports stories. Therefore, for your benefit, there has been compiled a glossary of terms in common usage among the rag reporters and headline writers. To simplify matters, the question and answer method will be used.

Q. How is a party usually described?
A. A party is thrown, tossed, given, held or postponed.
Q. What do candidates for various positions do?
A. Candidates aspire, run, get presented, get elected, try-out, and compete.
Q. What kind of material is available for tackle and guard positions on the football team during spring practice?
A. Husky, rugged, fast, potential greats but inexperienced.

Q. What words describe a beauty queen, or any other holder of a female honorary post?
A. Pretty, attractive, prominent in activities.
Q. How is the fact that a student gets a job phrased?
A. He accepts a position.

Q. How is a convocation speaker described?
A. As an eminent authority in his field.
Q. What is a person who has been out of college five years and has a job?
A. He is a prominent graduate.

Q. How does a person interviewed by a reporter talk?
A. He states emphatically, declares, tells, relates, points out.
Q. What is the headline for a sports story wherein Nebraska triumphs athletically by a single point?
A. Huskers Crush Foe Underfoot.

Q. What is the headline or lead paragraph for a sports story wherein Nebraska loses by a single point?
A. Huskers Meet with Hard Luck.
Q. What do students hang onto around here?
A. Pins and the words of speakers.

Q. What kind of an orchestra is secured for a dance in the coliseum?
A. The best available, the tops in rhythm, the biggest name band in Nebraska's dance history.

COUNSELORS TO INSTALL NEW OFFICERS, CABINET

Jean Marvin Presides Over Ceremonies in Ellen Smith Today.

Installation services for newly elected officers and cabinet members of Coed Counselors will be held this afternoon in Ellen Smith hall. Beginning at 5 o'clock, the services will be conducted by Jean Marvin, retiring president.

Bible Group Discusses Minor Prophets Today

"Messages of the Minor Prophets" will be the topic taken up by the Bible Discussion Group at their regular weekly meeting today at noon in Former Museum. The group will be led by C. D. Hayes, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. Preceding the discussion a lunch will be served.

Professor Describes Need For Definite Foreign Relations Policy.

By Ellsworth Steele.

While congress debates a bill providing for what has often been termed the "super navy," there still remains uncertainty as to what is the American foreign policy. Norman L. Hill, professor of international relations, explained that the formulation of a naval program depends on the estimates of naval experts of the equipment necessary to carry out the foreign policy that has been decided upon.

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Student Newspaper of the University of Nebraska
VOL. XXXVII, NO. 101. LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1938 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Players Go on Air In Third Campus KFOR Broadcast

Theater Group Dramatizes Queen Elizabeth's Life On Radio Tuesday.

Stepping backward into the seventeenth century, the University players will interview Queen Elizabeth this coming Tuesday night over the third weekly Kampus Kalendar radio program, sponsored by the publicity committee of the Student Council. The program will be in the form of a playlet, written especially for the occasion.

Since the Kampus Kalendar will go on the air over KFOR at 7:15 Tuesday evening, at approximately the same time that the second night's performance of the Maxwell Anderson play "Elizabeth the Queen" is being presented on the Temple theater stage, the University Players in the cast of the drama will not appear in the radio broadcast. Names of those participating in the radio program will be announced Sunday.

Exhibit Depicts Unusually Modern Art of 18 Century

"Voluptuous School" Now On Display in Romance Language Library.

Showing a sizeable amount of manly and maidenly pichtritude playing hide and seek, the "voluptuous school" of 18th century French painters is on display in the romance languages library in U. hall until Thursday, when the pictures will be returned to Morrill hall.

"Born a hundred years too soon," Fragonard, most advanced of the four painters represented, lived in the latter half of the 18th century. A favorite of Madame Pompadour, who commissioned him to paint her boodier, he was very popular with the high society of his day, because much of his work was "immoral."

Omaha 'N' Club Honors Presnell on March 24

The Omaha "N" club announced that its dinner honoring the Nebraska basketball team and Glenn Presnell, new varsity backfield coach, has been postponed from March 15 to March 23.

'Super Navy'-For What? Asks Prof. Norman Hill

At Jehovah's own command, so the ancient scripture story goes, Moses, prophet of the Israelites, climbed to the top of Mt. Sinai and there received two tablets of stone. Inscribed on them by the hand of the Almighty were ten commandments, which were to become the fundamental moral law for one quarter of the peoples of the earth.

AK-SAR-BEN SHOW STAGED SATURDAY BY BLOCK, BRIDLE

AG HONORARY HOLDS EIGHTH LIVESTOCK EXHIBITION IN HORSE BARN.

The eighth annual Junior Ak-Sar-Ben show will be staged Saturday by the Block and Bridle club in the college horse barn which has been re-named "Equine auditorium" and arranged to accommodate the record crowd which such promising attractions as a milking contest and mock livestock auction are expected to attract.

Agricultural college and short course students will compete for prizes in showmanship contests which will parade highly fitted, well-groomed animals in five different classes, horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs, and sheep.

FILINGS FOR A.A.U.W. SCHOLARSHIPS CLOSE SATURDAY, MARCH 19

Society to Grant Awards Of $50 to Sophomore, Junior Women.

Sophomore or junior women who desire to apply for one of the scholarships of $50 offered annually by the Lincoln branch of American Association of University Women have until March 19 to file their applications at the office of the Dean of Women in Ellen Smith hall.

EDUCATION INSTITUTE OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS

Five Woolley Recognitions Go to Unmarried U. S. Citizens.

Five scholarships worth $600 and a room in the United States House at the City university in Paris are offered for the coming year thru the sponsorship of the Institute of International Education.

NAZI RULES . . . Dictatorship Tells German Student to Avenge in Blood

1. German student! It is not necessary that you live, but it is necessary that you fulfill your duty toward your people. Whatever you are, be a German!

15 BEST DRESSED GIRL CANDIDATES UNDERGO JUDGING

A.W.S. BOARD SELECTS MOST STYLE-WISE COED TO BE REVEALED MARCH 24.

A. W. S. board members voted last night for the Best Dressed Girl of 1938, after a final review of the fashion-smart coeds, who gathered at Ellen Smith Hall at 5 o'clock, for the ordeal.

The name of the girl elected will not be revealed until she is presented at the climax of the Coed Follies style show in a "strikingly unusual modern setting," Irene Sellers said.

Railroad Employee, Joe College Use Same 'Line'

'Hard Up,' 'Crummy' Found In Both Vocabularies, But Two Meanings.

The most collegiate university sophomore and the most illiterate railroad lineman share some of the same slang words, according to D. V. Snapp of Lincoln in an article in the February issue of American Speech, a magazine of which Dr. Louise Pound is an editor.

The student and the lineman have a common stock of slang, the former Burlington official declares, but a world of difference lies between the meanings which the two draw from it.

Y.M. Cabinet Members To Meet This Evening For Supper, Business

Members of the University Y. M. C. A. cabinet will meet tonight at 6 p. m. in the Temple for a supper and cabinet meeting.

Henry Brahinsky Gives Junior Violin Recital On Sunday at Temple

Henry Brahinsky will present his junior violin recital at the Temple theater. Mr. Baker, who is a student with Emanuel Wishnow, will be accompanied by Margaret Baker at the piano.

Former N. U. Professor Leaves Oklahoma Post

Sooner Daily Cites Low Wage as Cause of Dr. Sears' Resignation.

Formerly associate professor of botany at Nebraska, Dr. Paul B. Sears has resigned as head of the Oklahoma university's botany department to take up a position in Oberlin college. His move is attributed by the Oklahoma Daily to the inadequate salaries paid by that institution.

THEATER LEAGUE OFFERS PRIZES FOR SHORT PLAYS

Judges to Base Decisions On Humor, Satire, Comedy.

Announcement has been made by the New Theater League of a contest for one act plays and short skits based on progressive social themes. Decisions will be made on a basis of humor, satire, and comedy.

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Friday Marian Anderson will step out on the stage at St. Paul Methodist church as "one of the world's greatest living singers."

Symphony Goers Hear 'Voice In a Century' Friday Night

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Her formal debut came in a Negro school in Atlanta, Ga. church, friends aiding her to finance her study of music. Their reward came in 1925 when, out of 300 applicants, Marian Anderson was chosen to solo with the New York Phil-

Student Union Program Brings Billiard Artist

STERNIE STERNBURG PLAYS FOR AG BOARD PARTY ON MARCH 25

Charles Peterson Displays Trick Shots at C. of C. Today at 1:30.

Nebraska's Student Union Activity program will open today with an exhibition by Charles Peterson, world's champion trick shot billiard artist in the billiard rooms of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, 11th and P st., at 1:30 p. m.

Peterson will present a free exhibition of his talents. According to Ray Ramsey, alumni secretary and member of the Student Union board, Mr. Peterson, a professional billiard player, feels the game has degenerated, and is devoting his life to elevation of the game, concerning himself mainly with the establishment of billiards in universities and colleges all over the country.

DR. REINHARDT SPEAKS AT VESPERS TUESDAY

Sociologist Urges Individual Training Versus Laying Down of Precepts.

An unprincipled education which teaches an individual to be prepared emotionally and intellectually for the world would be justifiable in our society today, according to Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, sociologist, who spoke before the Y. W. C. A. vespers yesterday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall.

THEATER LEAGUE OFFERS PRIZES FOR SHORT PLAYS

Judges to Base Decisions On Humor, Satire, Comedy.

Announcement has been made by the New Theater League of a contest for one act plays and short skits based on progressive social themes. Decisions will be made on a basis of humor, satire, and comedy.

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Friday Marian Anderson will step out on the stage at St. Paul Methodist church as "one of the world's greatest living singers."

Symphony Goers Hear 'Voice In a Century' Friday Night

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Her formal debut came in a Negro school in Atlanta, Ga. church, friends aiding her to finance her study of music. Their reward came in 1925 when, out of 300 applicants, Marian Anderson was chosen to solo with the New York Phil-

Student Union Program Brings Billiard Artist

STERNIE STERNBURG PLAYS FOR AG BOARD PARTY ON MARCH 25

Charles Peterson Displays Trick Shots at C. of C. Today at 1:30.

Nebraska's Student Union Activity program will open today with an exhibition by Charles Peterson, world's champion trick shot billiard artist in the billiard rooms of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, 11th and P st., at 1:30 p. m.

Peterson will present a free exhibition of his talents. According to Ray Ramsey, alumni secretary and member of the Student Union board, Mr. Peterson, a professional billiard player, feels the game has degenerated, and is devoting his life to elevation of the game, concerning himself mainly with the establishment of billiards in universities and colleges all over the country.

DR. REINHARDT SPEAKS AT VESPERS TUESDAY

Sociologist Urges Individual Training Versus Laying Down of Precepts.

An unprincipled education which teaches an individual to be prepared emotionally and intellectually for the world would be justifiable in our society today, according to Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, sociologist, who spoke before the Y. W. C. A. vespers yesterday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall.

THEATER LEAGUE OFFERS PRIZES FOR SHORT PLAYS

Judges to Base Decisions On Humor, Satire, Comedy.

Announcement has been made by the New Theater League of a contest for one act plays and short skits based on progressive social themes. Decisions will be made on a basis of humor, satire, and comedy.

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Friday Marian Anderson will step out on the stage at St. Paul Methodist church as "one of the world's greatest living singers."

Symphony Goers Hear 'Voice In a Century' Friday Night

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Her formal debut came in a Negro school in Atlanta, Ga. church, friends aiding her to finance her study of music. Their reward came in 1925 when, out of 300 applicants, Marian Anderson was chosen to solo with the New York Phil-

Student Union Program Brings Billiard Artist

STERNIE STERNBURG PLAYS FOR AG BOARD PARTY ON MARCH 25

Charles Peterson Displays Trick Shots at C. of C. Today at 1:30.

Nebraska's Student Union Activity program will open today with an exhibition by Charles Peterson, world's champion trick shot billiard artist in the billiard rooms of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, 11th and P st., at 1:30 p. m.

Peterson will present a free exhibition of his talents. According to Ray Ramsey, alumni secretary and member of the Student Union board, Mr. Peterson, a professional billiard player, feels the game has degenerated, and is devoting his life to elevation of the game, concerning himself mainly with the establishment of billiards in universities and colleges all over the country.

DR. REINHARDT SPEAKS AT VESPERS TUESDAY

Sociologist Urges Individual Training Versus Laying Down of Precepts.

An unprincipled education which teaches an individual to be prepared emotionally and intellectually for the world would be justifiable in our society today, according to Dr. J. M. Reinhardt, sociologist, who spoke before the Y. W. C. A. vespers yesterday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall.

THEATER LEAGUE OFFERS PRIZES FOR SHORT PLAYS

Judges to Base Decisions On Humor, Satire, Comedy.

Announcement has been made by the New Theater League of a contest for one act plays and short skits based on progressive social themes. Decisions will be made on a basis of humor, satire, and comedy.

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Friday Marian Anderson will step out on the stage at St. Paul Methodist church as "one of the world's greatest living singers."

Symphony Goers Hear 'Voice In a Century' Friday Night

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Her formal debut came in a Negro school in Atlanta, Ga. church, friends aiding her to finance her study of music. Their reward came in 1925 when, out of 300 applicants, Marian Anderson was chosen to solo with the New York Phil-

THE WEATHER

Better put on some warm clothing beneath your raincoat today, because the weather man predicts that it will be partly cloudy and much colder after yesterday's half inch rain.

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Friday Marian Anderson will step out on the stage at St. Paul Methodist church as "one of the world's greatest living singers."

Symphony Goers Hear 'Voice In a Century' Friday Night

Marian Anderson, Favorite Carnegie Hall Contralto, Sings at St. Paul's.

Her formal debut came in a Negro school in Atlanta, Ga. church, friends aiding her to finance her study of music. Their reward came in 1925 when, out of 300 applicants, Marian Anderson was chosen to solo with the New York Phil-