Huskers Should Stay Out of Big Ten?

Alan Gould, sports editor of the Associated Press, was in town the other day to look over the Husker football team. He told a Rag reporter that he considered the set-up here at Nebraska an ideal one. He also complimented the fans on the support given the teams and the fine enthusiasm shown for the sport.

Gould thought that Nebraskans would be foolish to link up with the Big Ten conference because he believed that the Huskers would have trouble in scheduling games out here. He also put little faith in the fact that Chicago will drop out of the conference making room for the Huskers.

Met 3 Big Ten Schools.

With the last point we have nothing to say since Mr. Gould propounds to be an authority on the condition of the Chicago university, but we do disagree with his statement about

ALAN GOULD

Nebraska's not being able to schedule a sufficient number of games according to the existing rule in the Big Ten conference. Each school is required to meet five loop teams. Last season Nebraska met three Big Ten schools, and in Lincoln. With

The Lincoln Journal, Minnesota, the Huskers have a home and home agreement which will last thru 1940. Iowa was on the schedule last season and will be replaced this year by Baylor university, but in 1939 the Scarlet will resume a home and home series with the Hawkeyes. Indiana comes to Lincoln for the 1938 game and then the games will alternate between Bloomington and Lincoln until 1940.

The matter of being on the edge of the conference and being too far from Big Ten schools doesn't seem to hold water when last season's schedule is scrutinized. Ohio State met Texas Christian on the home grid and journeyed to Southern California at Los Angeles. Chicago met Princeton in the Windy City and Wisconsin met Pittsburgh in the Panther stronghold. The University of Michigan played Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and Michigan State encountered Manhattan U. in New York City. Temple at Philadelphia, and the University of San Francisco in the Golden Gate City. The Iowa Hawkeyes met Washington university at Seattle and Purdue journeyed to New York to play the Fordham Rams.

This evidence seems to indicate that the Big Ten conference does

Trackmen Chalk Up High Marks in Timed Drills

Wibbels Flings Discus 155 Feet for Individual Track Honors.

In the first timed trials outdoors this year, the Husker cindersmen rewarded Coach Schulte with some top notch performances. The best mark of the day came when Edsel Wibbels, a freshman, hurled the discus for 155 feet. Second to Wibbels was Bob Mills, varsity man, with 136 feet. Third was another freshman, Ray Prohaska, with 133 feet.

Eldon Frank, conference high hurdle champ, negotiated the 120 yard high sticks in :15.5, with Bill Gish, conference low hurdle champ just a few yards behind. Harwin Dawson, indoor broad jump champion, turned in a :22.5 220.

Bob Simmons, 440 titleholder, did :51.1 for the quarter mile. Franks got :32.9 for 300 yards. John Brownlee and Al Kuper got 2:04 for the 880 and 4:41 for the mile.

Nine men will make the trip to the Texas Relays on April 2 for the opening of the outdoor season. This group includes, besides the six men, who won individual championships in the Big Six indoor meet, Al Kuper, John Brownlee and Wilson Andrews.

not in the least confine its opponents to the area encompassed by the loop schools.

Boxers Tonight.

Tonight the aspiring boxers will mix the leather in the coliseum ring. These matches always prove to be interesting and should provide plenty of excitement for lovers of the sport. Boxing never has had a strong hold in Big Six circles and as an intercollegiate sport has been quite unsuccessful but here at Nebraska the sport is enthusiastically received once a year when the all school bouts are held.

tional form, meaning "Come in" or "Enter."

AYNYET—(Of Tibetan origin.)

Frequently used in everyday conversation—as "Aynyet hot?" Much simpler than its forebear "Is it not?" but means the same.

HOZZHER—(Believed to be from the Mongolian.)

Now used as a modern interrogatory form—as "Hoozher friend?" "Hoozher favorite moon pitcher star?"

JAVA—(Very evidently Japanese.)

Used in the interrogatory form: "Java good time?" "Java nuff test?"

GUNNA—(Of Norwegian extraction.)

Replaces the outmoded English phrase "Are you going to?" Example: "Gonna be home tonight?"

IVA—(From the Icelandic.)

A timesaving contraction of "I have a..." Example: "Iva lot tuh tell yuh."

SWATI—(Origin obscure.)

Pronounced "Swat-eye." Modern condensation of "That is what I..." As "Swati thought." "Swati told yuh."

'BIFFER' CENTERS PRACTICE AROUND PASSING OFFENSE

George Porter Presses Phelps for Post of Wingman.

The airplanes must look good to Biff Jones as he had his pupils constantly flipping and snagging airway heaves during spring football practice yesterday.

To keep the defense guessing, a few end sweeps and line smashes were employed during the 45 minute scrimmage in the drill, but most of the yardage came thru the air.

Thurston Phelps, one of the foremost passers engaged in college football today, and Jack Dodd, shifty little halfback, are developing into a fine passing combination.

Ready to step into Phelps' shoes at any time is George Porter, who can also send the ball spinning with accuracy into the waiting hands of a potential receiver.

PERRY, VINES VISIT LINCOLN THURSDAY

Tennis Peers Make Single Nebraska Appearance at Coliseum.

With unorthodox Fred Perry trailing 19-21 in his battle with Ellsworth Vines for the professional tennis championship of the world, these two former Wimbledon and world amateur champion

Berkeley Bell, diminutive Texan and volley artist, will meet Walter Senior of California, a newcomer to the ranks of pro tennis, in the warmup match. Bell has won the title of the "Tumbling Texan" for his antics of spilling on the court while trying for apparent irretrievable drives. Senior Vines and Perry play the feature match as the troupe swings through the middlewest. The winner of the year's tour is odds-on favorite to face amateur Don Budge on the next season's circuit and with this incentive, accompanied by the lure it will mean, these two peers of present time tennis are extending themselves to the limit.
