Hiva Mills and Helen Elghmy were installed as president and vice president, respectively.

Mrs. Cecil E. Molzen, national editor of the Kappa Phi magazine and an alumna of Zeta chapter, gave the address of the evening.

BANQUET BUSHWA

You know what time of year it is, don't you? Don't say you don't know! Why, long ago, when you were a little kid and cheating at marbles or jacks, this date was one of the most important in your juvenile life.

If you have smaller brothers or sisters, the only joy about May day for you is that it affords an opportunity to snitch jelly-beans, popcorn, and home made candy out of May baskets received or to be sent.

It marks the month of many banquets. A great number of things seem to terminate in May; various organizations change officers; founder's days are numerous; and honors are given at the end of a collegiate year.

Food For Thought.

Banquets must have food for thought as well as food for the digestive tract, else they would be merely suppers or feasts.

The most difficult part of speech listening while at the dinner table is the matter of physical posture.

Believe it or not, there is one remedy which will cure every uncomfortable situation. Just listen closely to the speaker and when he says something slightly clever, emphatic, caustic, or important, burst out into laughter or murmur of approval and start a hand clapping rally.

Red Bandannas Proclaim Farmer's Fair Saturday

In case anyone thinks that the red bandannas which ag students have been wearing the past few days, (and trying to sell to city campus students) are only to keep their necks cool, well, they're not.

The 17th annual fair will be staged next Saturday, and includes many highlight performances. In the main, the whole thing will be an equestrienne circus.

Doyle to Police.

Chief of Police for the day will be Ted Doyle, star tackle on Nebraska's last three football teams, whose duty will be to administer tankings to those men who are so forgetful as not to wear overalls starting tomorrow, for an entire week; and to those ladies who are so modest as not to wear cotton dresses during that same period.

Saturday morning, a two and one half mile parade will be marched down "O" street, which has been "chartered" for the affair. Prize live stock, ag students, and other features of the fair will be on display.

Dance Climaxes Day. Saturday night, the greatest show on earth will climax the day, the Farmers Fair Dance in the activities building.

Another feature of the Fair will be the Dough raffle in which football players and other huskies will wrestle in dough, the winner to be awarded an appropriate trophy.

OFFICIALS SLATE FIFTH ROUND IN DEBATE MAY 3

Intramural Tournament Adds Extra Day to Eliminate Close Competitors.

Owing to the keenness of the competition in the intramural debate tournament it has been necessary to add one extra round. This will be held a week from this coming Tuesday.

The fifth round will be held May 3, at 7 o'clock. It is believed that at the end of round five, all teams that have won fewer than three of five debates will be eliminated.

The debates are held at the houses of the affirmative teams with a single judge used in each group.

The pairing for the fifth round on Tuesday are the following: The affirmative named first.

Signon Alpha Mu vs. Kappa Sigma. Delta Theta Phi vs. Alpha Tau Omega. Zeta Beta Tau vs. Beta Theta Pi.

If two additional rounds are needed they will be held the following week.

A silver gavel with the fraternity's name engraved on it will be awarded the winning team.

ARTS GROUP SPONSORS OPEN HOUSE, CARNIVAL

Classwork Exhibit, Dancing Planned for Thursday By Delta Phi Delta.

Delta Phi Delta, fine arts society, in sponsoring the combined open house and art carnival Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10, hopes to establish a precedent to be continued by the department in coming years. It has been customary each spring for Delta Phi Delta, and for the art club preceding it, to sponsor a fine arts ball. This year, however, it was decided that such a ball would not be strictly in keeping with the purpose in mind—that of acquainting the students and the general public with the art department, that of acquainting the students and the general public with the art department, that of acquainting the students and the general public with the art department, that of acquainting the students and the general public with the art department.

Observe Working Artists. Work will be combined with play as exhibitions of the best selections of all the art classes will be on display, sketch artists will do portrait studies of the visitors, and those sufficiently interested will have the opportunity to observe artists working from a professional model. Dancing will be continued throughout the evening and refreshments will be served. There will be no general admission charge.

In general charge of the art carnival is Dorothy Glenn, Chairman of the various committees are Jeanette Osborn, entertainment; Thelma Kohiro, art work; John Johnson, publicity; Gretchen Hinricks, invitations; John Johnson, refreshments, and Robert Wolfe, arrangements and decoration of booths.

Artists Auction Morrill Hall Paintings Thursday

Artists are being shocked to learn of a drastic movement in which all paintings in the hall collection and those of the Nebraska Art association hanging in the second floor corridor of Morrill hall, which have taken years to collect, will be auctioned off at open house May 5, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Katherine Faulkner, instructor in the Fine Arts department, has been selected to sell the pictures as she can point out their good points as they go on the block. She will also wield the gavel as the best selections of student work produced through the year will be offered to the public.

Hold Open House. This open house of the Fine Arts department will also be combined with an Art Carnival, both sponsored by Delta Phi Delta, art honorary. It has been customary each spring for Delta Phi Delta and the Art club preceding it, to sponsor a fine Arts ball.

The art department hopes to establish a precedent to be continued in coming years by the substitution of a carnival for the ball.

The plans this year are more in keeping with the purposes of the art department, that of acquainting students and the general public with the artist's method and procedure, as well as providing entertainment.
