Highlights On the Air

Stuff about stars... Summer plans of CBS personalities: Major Bowes has bought an 80 foot yacht which is anchored off his Rumson, N. J., estate and on which he expects to spend most of the hot summer days... Mary Margaret McBride, CBS air columnist, is combing the countryside for a suitable farm to buy... Gabe Heatter, whose "We, the People" program goes on vacation May 12. (Thank Heaven), is having a hard time deciding which one of the scores of invitations for extended visits he'll take... poor guy, such a problem... Hal Kemp's swiny "Time to Shine" will move into the Paramount theater for a personal appearance on May 18. Ben Bernie will have a new guest star, Doris Rhodes, on his May 10 program... she'll sing "I Do"... The Phil Baker's are expecting a blessed event in the near future and Phil hopes it will be a girl to balance things.

Norman H. Davis, recently appointed chairman of the American Red Cross, has accepted membership on the Board of Awards which will pick the winner of the second annual William S. Paley Amateur Radio award. This award is made annually by Mr. Paley, president of CBS, "to that individual who, thru amateur radio, in the opinion of an impartial board of awards, has contributed the most usefully to the American people, either in research, technical development or operating achievement." The winner is expected to be picked by the Board within the next fortnight. Presentation of the trophy that goes with the award will then be made at a luncheon given by Mr. Paley.

Walter Huston, noted actor of stage and screen, again will be heard on the Kraft Music hall program over the NBC Red Network, tonight at 9 p. m. He will do a novelty number besides an interview with Bob Burns and Bing Crosby. Other guests on the program will be Alec Templeton, blind pianist, and Beulah Bondi, motion picture actress.

Benny's Maxwell lost to Fred Allen's "Titmouse."

Yep, the two cars were pitted against each other last Friday and Allen's can nose out Jack's pile of junk in a tight race.

Fresno State college students piloted Benny's entrant and Allen's "Titmouse" in a nip and tuck battle for the claiming race championship. Ed Vandiver, piloting Benny's car in the absence of Rochester, declared ineligible by race officials, was credited with victory after successfully negotiating the cactus-strewn obstacle course. Benny, listening in on the NBC broadcast, was jubilant.

Before Jack could celebrate, the judges reversed their decision. First place was awarded to Allen's

Newman Club to Hold Breakfast on Sunday In Union Dining Room

The University Newman club is sponsoring its last activity of the year, a May breakfast at the new Student Union building Sunday, May 7. The breakfast will be served in the main dining room on the first floor at 11 o'clock. Students desiring to make reservations may do so by calling James Kelly, Jozeta Helfrick, Bob Sullivan, Bill McManus or Rosemary Kane. All reservations must be made by May 6.

"Titmouse" and its driver Jim Pearson.

Benny's humiliation was not ended with the loss of the race. The affair was a claiming race and Benny's car, supposedly the victor, was put up for sale. The first bid was $6.00, made by a Fresno junk dealer. In self-defense, Benny's agent raised the bid. Then Allen's agent upped him. Before the auction was closed, Benny was forced to buy his own car back for $150.00.

"N" CLUB DANCE HONORS FORMER HUSKERS MAY 13

 performers live in Nebraska, and a great many of these are expected to attend the dance, especially since many will be in Lincoln for the state high school track meet that weekend. There are about 1,500 Nebraska lettermen who have been graduated from the university, but many of these are scattered over the entire country and some in foreign countries. A few of the outstanding high school coaches at the track meet will be asked to the dance even though not graduates of the University of Nebraska.

Bob Ramey, president of the "N" club and Fred Shirey originated the idea of this get-together in the form of a dance, and they are being assisted in its presentation by the other officers of the club consisting of Charlie Brock, vice president; Robert Simmons, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Mills and Charles Miegel, sergeant-at-arms. Chaperons will be Major Lawrence Jones, Ed Weir, Henry Schulte, and Adolph Lewandowski.

BUSINESS EXECUTIVES TO INTERVIEW SENIORS

Representatives from Halsey-Stuart and Company and from the George A. Hormel Packing Company will interview seniors in the College of Business Administration this week in their guests for capable young men according to Prof. Theodore Bullock of the biz-ad faculty.

The Halsey-Stuart representative will interview seniors today, and the Hormel representative will continue today the interviews begun yesterday.

Rain Or Shine

It's Ivy Day again. And with it comes the traditional planting of the ivy, crowning of the May Queen, tapping of innocents, masking of Mortar Board members, and all that goes with it to make the day one of Nebraska's few times when tradition reigns and festivities make up the schedule of the day.

There isn't a great deal that can be said about the day that those who have heard anything about it wouldn't already know. It's just one of those occasions which are counted among the university's traditions, and it's one of those things which tends to draw a large portion of the student body together in a common interest.

Naturally the primary purpose of a university is and should be to offer an opportunity for its students to get at least a taste of an education. But it is through such means as its traditions that a university is able to bring its student body closer together, and instill a better spirit of cooperation between students and the university administration. Perhaps, a few more such traditions would be advisable. At least it's something to think about.

An Opportunity

Some time ago the city library reported the loss of an extremely large number of books.

This loss was attributed to the carelessness of individuals who unintentionally carried away the books with other belongings and then, because of the embarrassment involved, failed to return them. The report, likewise, revealed that many of the losses were undoubtedly due to intentional thefts. Still other losses occurred as the result of students checking out books, losing them, and when finding them again, failing to return them because of the large fine attached.

In all cases had the books been returned, the library would have undoubtedly avoided all embarrassing situations and would have made some concessions concerning the accumulated fine. Since, many have failed to be convinced of the library's almost certain concessions, the Nebraskan is going to make an attempt to bring about the return of books through other channels. The city library serves as a supplement to the university library, and consequently is of importance to university students. Thus, the Nebraskan feels that it should aid in anyway possible in encouraging the return of the books. Students who may have aversions to returning the books directly to the city library, may bring them to the Daily Nebraskan office in University Hall, and the volumes will be returned to the city library.

It's an opportunity for those who feel they might be embarrassed in any way by returning the books personally. It's an obligation that the books be returned in some manner.

COEDS SELECT CAMPUS BACHELORS WHOSE FRATERNITY PINS ARE GENERALLY SOUGHT

Hans, Jim Beltzer and Bob Ramey. After hurried consultation, the Steuterville twins came forth with Clayton Ankeny, Al Moseman, Ed Steeves, Adna Dobson, Dick DeBrown, Harold Niemann, Bud Tallman and Bill Williams, and Betty Rowland thought the list of ten should contain the names of Thurston Phelps, Bob Gannon, Don Kellogg, Ned Steinberg, Roby Bruoyhill, Bud Tallman, Grant Thomas, Bill Williams, Bill Fickling and Don Durfee.

Rating a space on every list but one, Grant Thomas took top honors as the number one bachelor of the campus. Ed Steeves and Bill Williams also polled heavily.

For the information of puzzled coeds, then, the Daily Nebraskan presents this list of attached men. With the open season on fraternity hardware well launched by a number of moonlit nights, and with the number of available men already sizeably reduced by more than 40 pin hangings this spring, this sheet respectfully advises co-eds to get to work! Only three more weeks before school lets out.

LIBRARY ADDS NEW BOOKS

Works of Special Interest To Students Obtained.

The university library announced a few of the new books recently acquired that would prove of interest and value to students.

Listed among the books are a number of popular interest among book readers. These are: Balkans and Europe, by Doris Alastos; Unvanquished, by William Faulkner; Great Leveler, by Thomas F. Woodley; and Swan and Lichfield by Anna Seward.

CLASS OF 1891

...and how it grew and grew!

In 1891 this writing desk type telephone was installed in a Long Island general store. It was a good telephone, but it could be connected with only a part of the Bell System's 250,000 telephones in the country at that time. Service was slow and expensive.

Year by year this strange looking telephone, with a more modern transmitter and receiver substituted from time to time, grew in usefulness as the Bell System grew longer in reach—shorter in time needed for making connections—higher in quality of service—lower in cost.

In 1937 "old faithful" was retired to become a museum exhibit, but 15 million modern Bell telephones "carry on."

During the summer season when multi (informal dress, to you) seems to be the order of the day, you can do so better than to slip into a pair of slacks and finish off with one of our bush jackets or sport shirts. Better have several pairs so that when one's on the cleaners you won't be out of luck.

English Type Slacks
 Slacks in Palm Beach Cloth, Gabardine, Flannel and Unfinished Worsted. Light in weight and cool on the hottest day. Finished with pleats, belts and slippers. See the new special Hollywood Goucha Slacks. Made with narrow belt to match and in five high shade pastel colors.
 $4.95 to $10

Sportswear Shirts
 Smart new patterns as well as plain colors in the new sportswear shirts, in crash, mesh, sackcloth, celanese and gabardine. Long sleeves and short sleeves, button front and pull over collar styles, and in outer models as well as those with shirt tails.
 $1 to $5

Bush Coats for Summer
 The new light weight bush coats come in crashes, sackcloth, meshes, twills and gabardine and in all colors including plain white.
 $1.95 to $4.95

Campus Creepers
 These new lating shoes are going strong with the fellows. Casual collegiate smartness—crushable, spineless uppers—comfortable as a house slipper, thick crepe rubber soles and five styles to select from.
