IOWA STATE HAS GOLF COURSE

Tomorrow afternoon Iowa State college at Ames will open a beautiful 150 acre recreational area which includes an 18 hole golf course which will be dedicated on the opening of Veishea, annual three day exposition of "Iowa on Display." This is one of the few college golf courses in the country and is convenient because it borders the Ames campus. Besides the golf course, the recreational grounds include three and a half miles of cinder bridge trails, good trails for hikers, a cross country running course and many picnic spots. Truly this is a ducky layout.

A story of Nebraska's defeat in tennis at the hands of the Jayhawks Saturday was reported in the Daily Kansan as proof that the Jays were the team to beat in the Big Six conference. In mentioning the fact that Rundle of Nebraska defeated Hooverstock, it was charged up to the fact that the Kansan was off his game. They didn't know that Rundle was just about the best tennis player in the state of Nebraska, having been defeated only by Johnny Huston in the state tennis tourney last summer.

A new type of triangular meet will be attempted this week at Ames when Grinnell college and Drake university gather there for a three way encounter. The three Iowa colleges will compete in a common set of events but the meet will be scored for three separate duals. That is, all of the contestants will run at the same time but the scores will be allotted on the basis of one school meeting the other two schools. The field will thus be Drake vs. Grinnell, Drake vs. Iowa State, and Iowa State vs. Grinnell. It's a novel idea and a certain headache for the official scorer.

LaVon Parker Linn writing in yesterday's historical edition reminisced about some of the football greats who had been seen here on this gridiron. What seems to be great to one person is his own opinion and cannot be contradicted but to our mind comes a different set of players. There was the dun of Pug Lund and Stan Kosta and Sheldon Boise and Babe Layore, all of Minnesota that gave the Huskers many a long afternoon. Then there was Red Franklin of Oregon State that thrilled a Turkey day audience for an entire afternoon and Joe Grey of the same school who a year or so later made so many scores and gains that the Huskers were forced to put on one of the most spirited last period rallies ever seen here. Vernon Huffman of Indiana, Jay Berwanger of Chicago and the famous Great Horned men are some of the greats that we think of when we think of past campaigns.

GOLFERS, TENNISISTS LOSE TO KANSAS U.

Linksmen Succumb 15 to 2, Courtmen, 5-1 in Loop Battles Saturday.

Both the Husker linksmen and netsters dropped matches to the University of Kansas teams last Saturday. The matches were held in cold, damp weather, which troubled proceedings. The golf crew was dropped 15 1/2 to 2 1/2, taking only one of the six matches. The only Nebraska victory was recorded by Watson, who downed Jones, 2-1. Jayhawker Bob Busler pulled the biggest upset of the day as he whipped McIntyre, Big Six singles champion, by a 3-0 margin. Busler also shot the low medal score, getting a 149, 5 strokes over par.

The tennis crew was beaten 5-1, the sole Husker victory being won by Rundle, who defeated Hooverstock, 6-1, 6-1 in a singles match.

Golf Summaries.
SINGLES: Busler (N) defeated McIntyre, 2-1; Watson (N) defeated Jones, 2-1; Jones (K) defeated Anderson, 3-0; Nesby (K) defeated Schwartzkopf, 3-0.
DOUBLES: Busler-Nesby (N) defeated McIntyre-Schwartzkopf, 2-0; Watson-Jones (K) defeated Anderson-McIntyre, 3-0.

Tennis Summaries.
SINGLES: Rundle (N) defeated Hooverstock, 6-1, 6-1; Red (N) defeated Dietrich, 6-3, 6-2; Nesby (K) defeated Kuklin, 6-2, 6-0, 7-5; Franks (K) defeated Epperson, 6-4, 6-4.
DOUBLES: Hooverstock-Red (N) defeated Rundle-Dietrich, 6-2, 6-1; Franks-Nesby (K) defeated Kuklin-Davis, 6-4, 6-4.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI RUSHEES ATTEND OMAHA FIELD TRIP

Group Visits Packing Plants Telephone Exchange, Holds Luncheon.

Fourteen members and rushees of Alpha Kappa Psi bizzed professional fraternity, attended the Nebraska chapter's annual industrial field trip to Omaha last Friday. Clifford D. Spangler, section chief and faculty advisor, accompanied the group.

In the morning the group visited the Swift Packing company, where they were shown the various processes by which meat and its by-products are prepared for consumers. After lunching at the Omaha chamber of commerce, the group visited the Northwestern Bell Telephone company exchange.

WEATHER FAVORS CINDER WORK-OUTS FOR CIRCUIT MEET

Schultemen Drill for Big Six Championships May 20, 21.

Track Coach Schulte named five tri-color runners, Bob Beltz, Del Moore, Dick Delfs, Bill Walker, and Leland Butler to run against Carl Saltzgeber of South Sioux City in the special feature mile which he has scheduled for next Saturday afternoon between events of the state high school track meet.

Saltzgeber, a high school runner, turned in several very good early season performances which led many to expect him to set up a new mark in the mile this year. But he has been ruled ineligible by the state high school athletic association. The age limit for high school contenders is twenty, and Saltzgeber passed that mark yesterday. The special mile has been scheduled to give the fans a chance to see him in action.

Brownlee Back.
With almost ideal weather conditions, Coach Schulte put his men through a long, hard workout yesterday. The team has had few really good days to practice this year, and the Husker mentor wants to pour it on while he can. John Brownlee, who was forced to drop out of the two mile run in the triangular meet Saturday because of an infected foot, is off the injury list. After taking some light warm-up exercise yesterday, he pronounced his foot as being in fine shape. He attested to this by running a two mile, turning in a slow 10:26.7. He was followed by Al Kuper, Wilson Andrews ran a mile and three-quarters along with Brownlee and Kuper, but dropped out at that point. Later in the afternoon, Brownlee and Andrews ran a 440 finishing in a dead heat in :55.

Fencers Foiled as Foils Cross Today Rather Than Tomorrow In Initial All-Uni Tournament

Today, and not Thursday, as was formerly announced, foils will cross as fencers gather for the first all-university fencing tournament which will be staged on the coliseum maples at 4 o'clock, to which there will be no admission charge.

Spectators will have the opportunity to see a first class exhibition of the finesse of the game, one which requires good balance, a keen mind, and a strong wrist. If this is a successful bout, it will be staged as an annual affair. The tournament will consist of elimination matches with gold, silver and bronze medals awarded to first, second, and third. The contestant who gains six "touches" from his opponent wins the match, and goes on to the next bracket. The foil must bend under the impact when hitting the opponent's body between the shoulder and

Husker Minors Hit Many Snags In 1938 Current

Two of Nebraska's minor sports—golf and tennis—are having a rough season, thus far meeting more defeats than victories. Explanation of this is partially due to rainy weather, forcing the team aspirants inside. Hopes are still fairly rosy with the golf team with Gordon McIntyre, last year's Big Six champion still on the team, and the entire squad planning to retain last year's Big Six title. Other men swinging the clubs are Bill Mowbray, Don Anderson, and Sam Schwartzkopf.

Thus far this year the Huskers have beaten Kansas State 11 1-2 to 5 1-2, were swamped by Iowa State 13 to 5, defeated by Kansas U. 15 1-2 to 2 1-2, then dropped the last dual match with Kansas State 13 1-2 to 3 1-2. Friday the Jayhawkers will journey to Lincoln to engage the linkmen at the Lincoln Country club and on Saturday the Big Six meet will take place here.

The netmen have fallen before Kansas U., 5 to 1, yet fear Missouri, but chiefly Oklahoma when the Big Six meet comes rolling Friday and Saturday of this week. Iowa State will invade Huskerland Thursday in an attempt to break a 3 to 3 tie earlier in the season. In the first game of the season our racquetment defeated Kansas State 4 to 2, the only win to date. Those on the squad are Harold Rundle, John Dietrich, Irving Kuklin, Bill Davis, and Harry Epperson.

Simmons Sprints.

Schulte pitted spring man Marvin Dawson against quarter miler Bob Simmons in a 300 yard run. Simmons won by a scant yard in the fast time of :31.6. Simmons turned around a few minutes later and nudged out John Williams in a 220, turning in a :23.1. In another 300, Eldon Frank spotted Williams and Milo Hejkal fifteen yards, and beat them in :32.2.

Bob Beltz turned in a 3:15.7 in beating out Del Moore, Jack Vincent, and Dick Delfs, who finished in that order, in a freshman three-quarter mile. Beltz was fresh at the end, and could probably have kept up the pace to turn in a 4:30 mile, which would have been the best freshman mile run on the Husker track this year. Jack Dodd was clocked in :26.6 for the 220 yard low barriers. This is good time, considering that it is the first time this year that Dodd has been timed for this event.

Pankonin Laid Up.
Elmer Dohrmann took a long practice session with the javelin, with which he hopes to win his twelfth major letter, and at the end complained of a slightly stiff shoulder. He was given a rubdown, and expects no trouble from the arm.

The weight men concentrated on the diets, with Bob Mills and Charley Brock getting off the best throws. They had several tosses of about 138 feet. Ray Phohaaka, a freshman, got off one of his best throws this year, hurling the platter for 132 feet 4 inches.

Elwood Pankonin, Nebraska's second best bet for the 440, is on crutches with an infected foot. Pankonin ran a 660 Monday afternoon and his foot felt fine at the time. An X-ray of his foot disclosed an enlarged joint, and the doctor believes that the infection has centered there.

36TH STATE PREP CINDER CONCLAVE DRAWS ATHLETES

Odds Favor Yordy's Lincoln High Squad in Annual Track, Field Meet.

Come rain, come shine, several hundred high school athletes will battle it out this Friday and Saturday on the cinders of Memorial Stadium in the 36th annual Nebraska State High School Track and Field meet. Doped as the team to beat in Class A is Coach Cy Yordy's Lincoln high Red and Black squad.

Yordy has two outstanding men in Vic Schleich and Howard Drebush. Schleich has many backers who think he will set a new record in the shot put if the going gets tough. He is also one of the top ranking discus men. Drebush pulled an iron man stunt in winning the three events, the javelin, pole vault and discus, in a recent invitational meet.

Predicts Hard Fight.
But the going will not be easy for the Red and Black aggregation. It has been hard pushed in many meets this year, but has managed to finish on top in every one. The Omaha teams are always tough, and several outstate teams will be in fighting for their share of the honors.

Several hundred entries have already been received for this year's classic, and more are coming in every day. A very large field is expected.

ington will urge students to visit the Union to leave their prints to be sent into the Federal Bureau of Investigation and placed on file in the Civil Identification division.

The campaign will continue from May 11 to 14 on the city campus and then will switch to the Ag campus from May 16 to 18. Agricultural students will be fingerprinted in the Ag activities building. The printing starts at 9 a. m. and closes at 5:45 p. m. While it is not compulsory that every student leave his prints, Alpha Phi Omega hopes that all will take advantage of the opportunity to leave their prints and thus provide a sure means of identification should mishap overtake them.

STATE CHRISTIAN YOUTH CONCLAVE MEETS JUNE 7-13

Ruth I. Seabury, Boston, will be present on one or two evenings for informal talks and conferences.

List Other Leaders.
Other leaders of the conference will be H. D. Bollinger, Chicago, director of Wesley foundations; Paul Bode, minister of the Evangelical and Reformed church of Newton, Kas.; Miss Margaret Wiener, director of young people's work at the First Presbyterian church of Lincoln; Mrs. Winona Gerhard, director of children's work in the First Christian church of Lincoln; Richard A. Dawson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Martel; E. C. Ford, pastor of the Congregational church at Grand Island, and Ray E. Hunt, pastor of the First Christian church of Lincoln.

For information concerning this conference, students should get in touch with Rev. John C. White, Lincoln, general secretary of the Nebraska Council of Churches.

KNIGHTMEN LEAVE FOR IOWA INVASION THURSDAY MORNING

Huskers Need Iowa State Win to Grab Circuit Third Spot.

Fifteen Nebraska baseball men leave Thursday morning for a three game invasion in Iowa, playing their first game at 4:00 that afternoon and their second Friday, both at Ames. The third game is against Luther college at Decorah Saturday.

The Iowa State games will help settle for a tie, at least, who is to hold down third spot in the Big Six standings. Three wins and two losses for a .500 percentage put the Cyclones in third over the fourth place Huskers who have also won three, but who have two more defeats for a .429 average. Nebraska needs both victories to dislodge the Ames boys, but will meet a Cyclone team fired to get back at the Huskers for last week's defeat.

Schmadeke Gets Call.
Lloyd Schmadeke will get the call Friday against either Don Weber or Drury, who did a fine relief job here last week. Rube Denning, who pitched four and two-thirds innings of hitless ball against the Iowans last Friday, is slated to start the second game with Ivan Borman ready for relief duty. Russell Behr, the team's only southpaw pitcher, will probably open against Luther.

Nebraska's other starters will be the same as in recent games, with Dow Wilson, shortstop; Eddie George, 3rd base; Lowell English, left field; Paul Amen, 1st base; Elmer Dohrmann, center field; Del Harris, second base; Harris Andrews, right field; Clem Sundstrom, catcher.

Other men making the trip are Don Cunningham, DeLos Johnson and Johnny McDermott.

Guessers Have Roman Holiday Over Uses of Nearly-Completed Football Drill Field, Playground

By Jim DeWolff.

Nebraska has a new athletic field just northwest of the coliseum but just what is to be done with it or what it is going to be used for, nobody seems to know. The only definite things are, fence is going to be strung around the entire field; the field will be ready for use next fall; and there will be grass on it, we hope. The most important fact that is definite is that the university pays for the fence and the sod.

Probably the least definite is the fact maybe the baseball diamond will be placed at the northwest corner, but John K. Selleck, business manager of the department, said that this wasn't too definite.

"When the time comes we'll get one of these liners out there and just start marking it off," said Mr. Selleck. Until that time the guessing will continue as to what our new plot of ground that has been worked on since fall will be used for.

The men who know most about it seem to think that the Military department will share part of the field, and that the bleachers that have been used for the basketball games, and for the overflow at the football games will be used for the baseball field, wherever it will be. Rumors have been about that the footballers will have a chance to practice on part of it. However the entire plan of the field is indefinite, and until next fall when somebody starts to mark off the lines nobody will know the plan.

A hundred couples attired in sweaters (and other clothes of course) attended the annual Renaissance Polytechnic institute sweater dance.

As I See It

BY JUNE BIERBOWER.

The baseball team's current three game winning streak is the longest since 1930 when Chappy Rhodes' team which took third in the Big Six race, won three in a row, twice. The Huskers lost 5-3 in the first of two games with Iowa State, then won the second, 12-8. Clair Sloan pitched Nebraska to a 9-3 victory over Missouri in the next game, and Ted Pickett, Nebraska pitcher, practically won the second Missouri game alone, pitching the Huskers to a 2-1 victory in 12 innings. He struck out 12, 5 strikeouts coming in a row, and scored both runs. Prosperity was too much for the Huskers, though, and they dropped their next game to Kansas State, 3-1. The next day, though, they beat the Aggies 9-5, then won their last two games of the season from Iowa State 14-1 and 8-6.

Although backward looking is no help to the future, it's nice play, especially if there's something good to see when you look, so here are the lettermen on that team aside from Sloan, Armatis, Pickett and Witte; Meredith Williams, Russell Snygg, Harold Halbjosen, Kenneth Gaston, catcher; first baseman Glenn Illstrom, second baseman Lloyd Betters, third baseman Marshall Keyes and Jake Maser, left fielder Harver Grace, and right fielder Jim Row.

There will be no number 29 around next fall when Oregon State ventures forth upon the gridiron. As anyone who saw the 1935 Nebraska-Beaver game will remember, that number was very prominently displayed by one Joe Gray. It's on reserve for his brother, Gene, who won't be eligible until 1939, and if Gene is anything like Joe in a football suit, it will suit us not to see him on a team opposite the Huskers.
