SCHULTE NO PESSIMIST

Track Coach Henry Schulte's pessimism before the Big Six track meet doesn't look so pessimistic now that Missouri has been officially crowned champion of the circuit. "Pa" picked the Tigers to win a long time before the meet actually began, but nobody would believe him. Even when Bill Gish fell last Monday in hurdle practice, no one was willing to take Schulte's predictions.

Friday evening, the Nebraska mentor said that it looked like Missouri by 10 points. This was after the Tigers had qualified 18 men to the Husker's 16. Schulte said then that a number of our qualifiers were weak men and could not be counted on for points.

When Chauncey Simpson, track coach at Missouri, was informed of Schulte's predictions he merely laughed at the idea and said that he had "heard that before."

Schulte was wrong, however, as Missouri beat the Huskers by only six points. Had Mills won the discus and had not Al Kuper stubbed his toe in the relay and a whole lot of other "ifs," the meet could have been tucked away.

Eldon Frank, hurdler and javelin tosser, put Nebraska back into the running and at the same time put himself out of commission. The Huskers were trailing Missouri by a matter of one point when the 220 yard low hurdles were called. Frank won the event putting the Huskers in the lead as Missouri failed to score in this event, but as he was taking the last barrier he pulled a ligament forcing him to high jump the hurdle. He just barely made it to the tape ahead of the field.

The battle between Charley Mitchell and George Hofsess, both of Kansas State, for supremacy in the two mile run was a thriller. After the first lap or two, Mitchell set the pace with Hofsess only a stride or two behind. As the last lap was reached, Hofsess put on a sprint in the back stretch and took the lead from Mitchell, but as they came into the home stretch, the two mile king put on a spurt of his own and beat Hofsess across the tape by about a stride. Mitchell broke the record for the event when he turned in a time of 9:29.9, just one-tenth of a second faster than the 9:30 mark established by Putman of Iowa State.

Lonesome John Munski of Missouri wasn't so lonesome yesterday afternoon in the 880 as he had more company than he could stand in the person of one Barrett of Oklahoma. The day before in the preliminaries, Gahan of Oklahoma beat the Tiger but it was evident that he was just putting forth enough effort to qualify.

Harwin Dawson, Nebraska's ace broad jumper, was hard put to it to keep Nebraska in second place even after it was certain that the Huskers would not be able to capture the first spot. He finally turned in a jump of 23 feet 9 3/4 inches to beat out Irich of Missouri.

SCHULTEMEN LOSE

(Continued from Page 6.) Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Articleholder for the past two years. Following the leaders were Oklahoma with 42 1/2 tallies, Kansas State with 40 1/2, Kansas with 36 1/2 and Iowa State with 9 1/2.

Three marks fell in the two day meet. Wildcat Elmer Hackney started it off in the prelims Friday, having the 16 pound iron pill 51 feet 10 inches to eclipse the former shot put record of 51 feet 9 1/2 inches, set last year by Sam Francis. Sophomore Hackney predicted Friday night that he would push the record up farther on Saturday, but failed to do so.

Missouri's sophomore javelin thrower, Robert Waldram, lived up to advance notices by heaving the spear out for a new record of 209 feet, one-half inch. This added one and one-half inches to the old mark of 208 feet, 11 inches set by Paul Harrington of Kansas in 1934.

Mitchell Wins 2-Mile.

Running his last race in college competition, Charley Mitchell, of K-State, barely edged out his teammate, Hofsess, to win the two-mile run and lower the record to 9:29.9. This betters the old mark held by Ray Putman of Iowa State by one-tenth of a second. Putman set his record in 1930.

John Munski, much vaunted Missouri sophomore middle distance man, proved to be a disappointment. He was supposed either to break or come very close to Glenn Cunningham's mile record of 4:14.3, set up in 1932. He had been under this mark several times this season and was shooting for a new mark. Instead he was almost nine seconds over, finishing first in 4:23.2. In the half mile, which he was also doped to win, he finished second to Barrett of Oklahoma, who did the distance in 1:53.8.

Eldon Frank chalked up 14 points to take individual scoring honors. Nebraska's only entry in the hurdles, he copped first in both the high and low barriers. He was second to Waldram in the javelin, with a heave of 190 feet 4 inches. Approaching the last of the low hurdles, Frank lost step and sprained a ligament in his leg.

Three men of the Husker squad were competing in their last meet. Another was on the sidelines with a badly sprained shoulder which kept him out of the meet.

Gish on Sidelines.

Gish's absence probably cost Nebraska the crown. He has been one of the conference's leading hurdlers, and finished either first or second in all dual meets this year. Had he run, he could probably have accounted for eight points, which would have been enough to push the Huskers up into first place, two points ahead of Missouri.

Elmer Dohrmann failed in his attempt to win his twelfth major letter, as he was shut out in the javelin. Dohrmann has received

"N's" for three years in football, basketball and baseball, and was after his third in track. He has been troubled with a sore throwing arm since the California baseball game.

Bob Simmons revenged himself for an early season defeat in the 440 by Thim Finley of Oklahoma by nosing out the Sooner in this event, and in doing so he came within two-tenths of a second of the conference record, negotiating the distance in 48.8, the best time he has ever run.

M. U. Takes Early Lead.

Missouri took an early lead, and was 12 points ahead of the Huskers with only six events left to go. Frank's victory in the low hurdles, in which the Tigers were shut out, put Nebraska out in the lead, 40 to 29. Missouri came back with a second, good for four tallies, in the mile relay, in which the Husker squad ran sixth. Both teams failed to score in the pole vault, which was divided among Iowa State, K-State and Kansas.

The Tigers clinched the meet by placing three men in the final event, the broad jump, which was taken by Harwin Dawson with a leap of 23 feet 8 3/4 inches. Irich of Missouri was second, Klamm third and Slayton fifth, giving the Tigers eight points to Nebraska's five and making the final score read: Missouri 51, Nebraska 45.

First places were evenly divided among five teams, Iowa State being the only team failing to register a single first. Nebraska led with four, one by Simmons, two by Frank, and one by Harwin Dawson. Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas State and Kansas had three firsts apiece. There was a tie for first between Bird of Kansas and Ebright of Kansas State. The best Iowa State could do was a tie for third and fourth in the pole vault. Byers and Sargent, both Cyclones, cleared 12 feet 8 inches in the pole vault.

Three Women Receive Prizes In Annual Psychological Writing Compet.

Three prizes for outstanding papers dealing with some phase of the relationship of emotion to the mental health of the child were awarded by a University of Nebraska committee representing the George Davis Bivin Foundation, which institution made prize money available this year in several schools over the country.

In the graduate division the first prize was split because of the excellence of the two following papers: "Speech Problems and Constructive Methods for Use with Children" by Lucile Cypreansen, Lincoln, who has been particularly interested in speech correction work, and "A Preliminary Investigation of a Scale to Measure Self Reliance in Pre-School Children" written by Mrs. Ada Petrea Jorgensen, Lincoln, of the psychology department. Both winners received a cash award of $20.

In the undergraduate competition, a first prize of $15 was given to Dorothy D. Nuetzman, Lincoln senior in the agriculture college, who submitted a paper on "A Study of the Resistant Behavior of Young Children."
