

SCHULTEMEN FACE LOSS OF FOUR VETS AS SEASON CLOSES

Frosh Prospects Buoy Hopes As Tracksters Close Fair Season.

As Pa Schulte's track squad regrettably put away their equipment yesterday, they brought down the curtain on one of the most successful Husker track seasons in recent years, brought to a climax by Nebraska showings in the Big Six meet last week end.

Altho faced by the prospect of losing four of his most capable men—Frank Gish, Dohrmann, and Baxter—Schulte has been heartened by the appearance of such new men as Edsel Wibbels, Vike Francis, Bob Beltz, and Ray Prohaska, and the return of veterans Dawson, Simmons, Brownlee, Andrews, Cooper, Mills, Brock and Pfeiff.

A survey of this track year shows an indoor championship won, and a dual meet lost to Oklahoma.

After placing six men in the Texas relays, six in the Kansas relays, and five at the Drake meet, the Huskers took a triangular season with Kansas and Kansas State, clipped Kansas in a dual meet, and topped off the year with an excellent showing in the circuit championships.

In Saturday's meet, Missouri annexed its first Big Six title in conference history. With a team composed largely of sophomores, Missouri shapes up as a powerful foe in coming cinder clashes.

Nebraska's high point man in the loop season was Eldon Frank, who garnered 14 points to annex top scoring honors with first both in the high and low sticks and a second in the javelin. "Pappy" Dawson, the 26 year old veteran sailed out 24' 9 1/2" to take the broadjump honors. Had injured Bill Gish been in condition to enter the meet, he would probably have grabbed another eight points.

OKLAHOMA ENDS CYCLONE THREAT FOR BIG SIX TITLE

Sooner Diamondmen Stop Iowa State Hurlers In Two Games.

The Oklahoma Sooners dropped Iowa State in both ends of a double header last week end, to put the Sooners in a position to win the Big Six title.

Iowa State's double loss leaves the Huskers a chance of finishing the season in third, the spot now occupied by the Cyclones. Nebraska has finished its schedule but can move up if Iowa State loses its only remaining game.

Oklahoma can win undisputed possession of the title if Kansas loses its two games to Missouri while the Jayhawks and Tigers divide their series.

Oklahoma won the first game mainly because Iowa State failed to hit when hits meant runs. The Cyclones loaded the bases with only one man down on three occasions, but were shut out until the ninth when one run came across on an infield grounder.

The second game was tight all the way, with the lead changing hands several times during the fray. Vernon Oth, fourth Sooner moundman, was given credit for the victory as he held the Cyclones scoreless from the seventh inning on while his teammates were pushing over the winning run on a triple by Jack Baer and a single by Eddie Beavers in the ninth.

Husker Tennis Stars Annex Doubles Crown In Win Over Sooners

For the first time in 20 years Nebraska's scarlet wears a Big Six doubles tennis crown. Harold Rundle and Johnny Detrich beat the Oklahoma duo composed of Ray Clement and Gene Roop, 10-8 and 6-3 in the finals at the coliseum Saturday.

Joe Champion of Oklahoma nosed Rundle out 9-7 and 6-1 in the singles finals.

LOOP OFFICIALS TO APPOINT GRID COMMISSIONER

Big Six Moguls Plan Circuit Director, Approve '39 Maple Schedule.

Big Six officials approved of a plan which provides for the appointment of a conference commissioner of football. This plan has already been adopted by several sectional conferences, including the Pacific Coast and Southeastern conferences.

Under the plan, the selection of grid officials will be taken out of the hands of the individual schools and turned over to the commissioner. The officials will be chosen on a strict merit basis.

Final details of the system will be worked out next fall at meetings of athletic directors and faculty men, at which time it will be decided whether the policy will be put into effect. The idea was presented by the athletic directors and approved in principle by the faculty representatives.

At the same meeting, the following basketball schedule for 1938-39 was approved:

Jan. 7, Kansas State at Ames; Kansas at Norman; 9, Iowa State at Columbia; 10, Kansas State at Lawrence; 14, Oklahoma at Columbia, Kansas at Lincoln; 16, Oklahoma at Ames; 17, Nebraska at Columbia, Oklahoma at Lawrence; 20, Kansas at Manhattan; 21, Nebraska at Columbia; 23, Kansas at Ames; 24, Nebraska at Norman; 29, Iowa State at Lincoln.

Feb. 4, Kansas State at Norman, Missouri at Ames; 8, Kansas State at Lincoln; 11, Missouri at Norman, Iowa State at Manhattan; 14, Nebraska at Lawrence; 15, Kansas State at Lawrence; 18, Missouri at Lincoln; 20, Missouri at Manhattan, Iowa State at Lawrence; 23, Kansas State at Columbia, Oklahoma at Lawrence; 27, Nebraska at Ames; March 2, Kansas at Columbia; 4, Oklahoma at Lincoln; 6, Oklahoma at Manhattan.

Harry Lloyd Weaver, who was voted into Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honorary fraternities this spring, has been given an assistantship at Columbia university, where he will work on his Ph.D. next year. # Ed Wibbels Shines In Frosh Weights

This Wibbels of Wolbach is really just another kid. His success hasn't made his head grow any larger and Wolbach is still a swell place to be from. When the newspapers started spreading his name across their columns it was fun to him and it still is. He is taking the education idea quite seriously. He wanted to come to Nebraska university for that education, and so he came, much to the chagrin of coaches all over the country. His studies and his athletic activities have kept him busy but he managed to take in two movies during the semester. That is about all the wild life that he has allowed himself.

Carrying 205 pounds with a 5 foot 7 measurement he is well fitted to dash it out in any of the sports in which he competes. He has hung up discus records, but he also excels in the shotput, javelin, baseball and hurdle racing. In high school he was considered the one-man team and scored most of the hundred and some points that Wolbach chalked up. He will appear with the Husker football team next fall, but he says that he prefers other types of sports to football.

Wibbels copped the state and national interscholastic records for the discus while in high school. Last week in a telegraphic meet with University of Minnesota freshmen he heaved the discus almost five feet past the conference mark, 155 feet, 11 inches set by Mel Thornhill of Kansas university. Wibbels' heave was measured at 160 feet, 6 inches.

Wolbach All-Star to Work For Omaha Exchange This Summer.

Edsel Wibbels, Coach Schulte's pride and joy, is planning to put his brain and brawn to work for the Omaha grain exchange during the coming summer. Immediately following the national intercollegiate meet at Minneapolis Wibbels will report in Omaha for work, but fall will find him back in Lincoln doing things to make Coach Schulte's blood pressure go up.

The one-year residence rule from entering intercollegiate competition deprived the Cornhuskers of Edsel's ability for the past year, but Husker fans are fairly panting with impatience to see him in action next year.

Sigma Nu's Win Intramurals Cup For Most Points

Department to Award Best Trophy to League Champions.

Sigma Nu has copped the Jack Best trophy by virtue of garnering most points in the interfraternity intramural race, although the finals of the softball tournament between them and the Alpha Sigma Phi has not been played off.

The game was scheduled for yesterday afternoon but was called for darkness when the score was tied up in a knot at four all. The game will be played this afternoon. Whether Sigma Nu gets first of second in the finals of the softball league, they have the trophy clinched by a 28 point lead over their nearest contender, the Sig Eps, who snatched a third in softball, and are playing off a game to see whether they get second or third in tennis, but that will not realize enough points to close up the lead.

Sig Alphas nosed out. The fourth spot, also undetermined, is between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the A. T. O.'s. Earlier in the season the Sig Alphas were leading the entire pack, then were pushed aside by Sigma Nu, and now must be content with either a third or fourth.

Acacia won the Jack Best trophy last year with Sigma Nu second. Had Acacia won the intramural title this year they would have been entitled to keep the cup for it goes to the winner for permanent possession who wins three times in a row, yet Sigma Nu snatched them out of this honor. Acacia hasn't even been a strong contender this year, ranking quite a ways down the list.

Engrave Winners' Names. The cup is a memorial to Jack Best, years ago the Husker trainer. On this huge cup are engraved each year's winner. Averages and scores are figured up and kept by the intramural department under the guidance of Harold G. Peitz.

Competition this year was in touch football, basketball, volleyball, water polo, tennis, golf, handball, basketball free throw, ping-pong, and softball. Twenty-nine fraternities are listed in the student directory, nearly all of which competed in the intramurals. Since ten men are required for a softball team, the sport would require 300 men, and when different men complete in the various sports, it can easily be seen the amount of recreation which is provided to a large number of the male students.

Sigma Nu ranks tops by virtue of firsts in touch football and folf, seconds in water polo and volleyball, and either first or second in softball. In the semi-finals of softball yesterday the Alpha Sig beat the Sig Eps 3-2, and in the consolation the Sig Alphas trimmed Acacia 1-0.

GUSTINE PICKS FROSH BASEBALL SQUAD OF 25

Ames Lists Seven Pitchers On Yearling Diamond Aggregation.

AMES, Ia., May 23.—The freshman baseball squad at Iowa State college will be composed of 25 men, Coach Clarence Gustine announced this week. Four coaches, seven pitchers, ten infielders and four outfielders are the final choices of Gustine, former Cyclone football and baseball ace.

Here are the members of the squad: Catchers: John Thompson, Mason City; James Ferry, Burton, O.; Paul Brasch, Dunkerton. Pitchers: William Donnan, York, N. Y.; Bob Wynn, Kenmore, N. Y.; Willard Mylenbusch, Dana; Ray Gipple, Columbus Junction; Paul Hewitt, Des Moines; Bob

Second base: Ray Stone, Fort Dodge; Bob Dennis, Killduff. Shortstop: Harley Miller, Keokuk; Henry Enback, Manning. Third base: Douglas Strohbehn, Treynor; Francis Baldus, Goldfield.

Outfield: Paul Visser, Bussey; Lyle Hoyt, Rockwell City; Meredith Woynt, Vinton; Ray Wedding, Nemaha.

Inez Heaney and Floyd Ebaugh, Delt, did their good deed by the A. O. P.'s last night. The candy was in a box the shape of a big basket ball, and really lots of it. The girls had anticipated the event and had a step ladder for them to stand on to kiss Floyd. As I've always said, "Necessity is the mother of invention."

AND ITS—'THIRTY'

With today's issue of the Rag, this sports staff hands in its time sheet and concludes reportorial activities for this semester. Some of the persons who have written the stuff you have been reading, this advisedly, will be here again next fall in other positions and capacities, but it shall not be my honor to serve the readers of the Nebraskan again. All of our efforts have been to the best interest of the reading public. At least that has always been foremost in our minds, but we have failed on some occasions to discharge our full duty to the public. This failure has not been because of lack of effort but because of the lack of facilities with which to work. We hope that the next staff will not be so handicapped.

We have, I believe, covered the major sports amply and have presented a vivid picture of Big Six athletics with the emphasis upon the teams of the university. It has not been our intention to subordinate the Scarlet and Cream at any time, but to broaden our coverage as much as our meager news services would afford. A telegraphic wire would help the department in following our own teams while on the road as well as giving the Nebraskan readers a more complete view of the conference.

A New Champion.

For the first time in the ten-year history of Big Six track and field championships, the University of Missouri has won the cinder diamond. The team that Chauncey Simpson used last Saturday to win the meet will not be materially decimated by graduation as most of the members of the team are sophomores. This should mean that the Tigers will be a certain threat to retain their outdoor crown at the annual meeting next season.

Eighteen of Nebraska's points in the meet Saturday were earned by seniors who will be lost to the team next year. Eldon Frank accounted for 14 points in both hurdle events and the javelin while Ray Baxter contributed 4 tallies to the cause. Had Bill Gish been able to run, the Huskers probably would have scored 8 points more. Besides these three men, Elmer Dohrmann, javelin tosser, will be lost to the team. Of course there will be Edsel Wibbels who will bolster Nebraska's chances in the discus and the javelin and possibly the shot.

Then there will be Vike Francis who will make the shot ranks stronger, and Harry Hopp who will be pretty good in the javelin. Ray Prohaska is slated to run the hurdles, and hurl the shot and the discus. Despite the fact that Nebraska lost the crown this year, Big Six coaches aren't counting their chickens before they hatch. They contend that the way things look now, Schulte doesn't have a team for next year, but they say that Henry will find a team somewhere.

Not Aggies.

Elmer Hackney and several members of the Kansas State track team informed the Nebraskan staff that K-State does not like to be called "the Aggies." What's more they don't like "K-Aggies." It is either Kansas State or K-State.

There is a story circulated about Missouri's John Munski to the effect that one time before a meet he approached Coach Simpson saying that he did not think he should run in the meet as he had drunk a glass of milk before the meet. "Skipper" Patrick, publicity agent for the Tigers said that, although Munski is a religious trainer there is nothing whatever to the story.

The subject of responsibility for hiring officials for the football games next fall has been taken away from the individual schools and has been placed in the hands of a conference commission. Now the charge that the referee will letter at a certain school cannot

As I See It

BY JUNE BIERBOWER.

Approval of a modified training table by Big Ten authorities should revive hopes in the breasts of those Big Six followers who have been talking in behalf of such action on the part of the conference for quite some time.

The proposed plan would pay for the evening meals of football men during training and regular season, but probably will not become effective until next year, for 60 school days are allowed for protest from member schools, and the period will not end until late during the football season.

Big Six officials have been reluctant to go ahead, preferring to follow the Big Ten in such matters. Now that the "old maid" of college conferences has put its okay on the training table, the Big Six could follow suit without fearing charges of subsidization.

Nebraska had the grandpa and the baby of Big Six champions Saturday. Harwin Dawson, junior broadjumper, is 26, and Bob Simmons, junior 440 men, is only 19, and younger than the four sophomores who won titles.

Still concerning the Big Six track meet, we find that ten of thirteen boys who won individual titles were six feet or more tall. Only champions under six feet were John Munski, who missed by one inch—he's 5' 11"; Charley Mitchell, K-State's two miler, who is 5' 10"; and Ed Ehrhart, Kansas State, who tied for first in the pole vault, who is 5' 11". All members of Oklahoma's winning relay team topped six feet save Lin Trueblood, who was only 5' 8".

Notre Dame's weekly magazine, The Notre Dame Scholastic, has an interesting feature on Bill Faymonville. Notre Dame discus man, who won that event with a record toss at the Penn relays. Faymonville, a high strung athlete, was unable to sleep for two nights before the meet and lost five pounds, yet had done 157 feet 1 1/2 inches for the new mark. The Notre Dame man was waiting for his last attempt while Bill Watson, be made. This was heard recently at a baseball game when a visiting team, chagrined about bad decisions from the ump, shouted that the umpire would probably letter in baseball at Nebraska. With this new commission, these charges will be unheeded in football circles. Our hope is that this system of selecting officials will be expanded to other sports.
