

BY THE HAUNTRESS

Another Cornhusker issuing forth... a crowd at the Student U. peering over each other's shoulders for a glimpse of some of the candid camera shots... Barbara Meyer, Olive Speith, Eva Jane Sinclair and Irene Seybold, four of the six latest beauty queens, all from Omaha... everyone gasping at the snap shots of Peggy Pascoe and Margaret Munger in their Coed Follies costumes... an elevator in Andrews hall, something we never noticed before... Mary Fisklar and Bev Finkle still blushing over the pseudo announcement of their engagement at the D. U. party Saturday night... La Verne Marcy, Kappa Delta, unsuccessful in hiding her latest annexation, George Gray's D. U. pin... Jimmie de Wolfe as usual feeling very low on Monday morning... the Sig Alphas taking John "Rochester" Hayward with them on a picnic as bartender... and so much to look forward to tomorrow.

Another day, another Phi Psi pin astray. Sunday night Louise Mackey lifted Thursty Phelps' fraternity hardware in the Theta library, so now one more man about the campus is off the fancy free list.

Two D. U. pins left their owners last week. Saturday night at the D. U. shindig, the orchestra leader announced the engagement of Barbara Huffaker and Dale Ganz. The other deal is yet in the slip stage, a well known couple very much in the spotlight now, but we won't tell. Nice work if you can find out. Same time, same place, and we find Bill Sachett asking all the brothers for nickels to make a phone call, until he had $1.35, enough for refreshments for his dates, proving it's the little things that count.

SOCIETY

One of the gala social events took place Saturday afternoon in back of Teachers college, for the Ace Baseball Club, composed of three Kappas, two Thetas, two D. G.'s and a Chi O., triumphed over the Betas in a hard struggle for the title as champion baseball club. All members of the team have just completed a course in baseball in the Physical Education department, so it was known from the start that they had the advantage, and odds were against the Betas until someone suggested that the girls bat left-handed, use no gloves, only have two outs, and a ball hit over the fence was out. To see that everything was fair and square, Ada Dobson, served as umpire. He certainly showed his true Sigma Nu love for the Betas as he called all Oolie Anderson's perfectly pitched balls high or outside, and Bob Stoddart, whose pitching certainly showed a mark of amateurishness had the pleasure of seeing innocent victims put aside with the count of three strikes. Despite the terrible handicap, the Ace Baseball Club won 12 to 10. For an excuse the Betas claimed that their manager, Bob Gammon, had to attend to some "Cornhusker" business, and for that reason couldn't be there, and that he is their inspiration.

As a compensation for losing, the girls allowed the boys to take them over to the Stud Onion for a coke and then on to the Beta house for some rough treatment such as a water fight with hoses, and other minor things.

Candy passings are really coming into prominence as the year is ending. At the Chi Phi house, Gordon Uhri finally came across with the sweets for the Tri Deltas in honor of Betty Van Horne. At the A. O. Pi house, Wilma Pulliam and George Shackelford finally let the cigars and candy loose, too. Perhaps the periodic tubbings were instrumental in bringing these about.

Theta Xi's have just taken the same measures by passing the candy at the Alpha Phi house. The couple is Joy Vallery and Bobette Colton. Also Neil Jones and Betty Lou Stringer, Alpha Delta Theta, announced their engagement.

Another Sig Alph has broken bonds with all the universities fem's except one. Leonard Jacobson and Betty Ray, of the Kappa house, has decided to go steady for the last few days before all affairs break bonds for the summer.

Alumnae are doing their bit to help along the social whirl at this late date. At a recent meeting Alpha alums elected officers. Mrs.

Milton Anderson was elected president; Mrs. Harry Pecha, vice president; Mrs. John Wynkoop, treasurer, and Mrs. George Eager, secretary.

Phi Mu alums entertained the active chapter with a tea from 4 to 6 Sunday.

Chi Omega alumnae entertained the seniors at a buffet supper Monday evening at the home of Mrs. R. L. Cochran at 6:30. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Robert Chase, Mrs. Karl Arndt, Mrs. A. M. Gaddis, Mrs. J. A. McEachen, Mrs. John Mohr, Mrs. Ted Barger and Mrs. C. C. Wiggins.

Candy passing really took fraternity row by storm last night. At the Gamma Phi house, Marion Bradstreet and Bill Buchanan passed the candy in their own little way. Bill, being quite a camera fiend, had their names on a scroll in a film box to announce the event which wasn't a surprise, for the girls all put on an extra lot of lipstick just to add a little color to the festivities. It seems that the boys got right in there too, for the Sig Alph's had a contest as to who could kiss Marion the longest. Also Lloyd Wright was in line about four times. No doubt but what he made it a business.

Jane Barbour and Johnny Howell came across for the D. G.'s last night, too. They had a very festive box in the shape of an anchor.

Kappa Delta's had two candy passings. One was that of Lorraine McCauley and Willie Andrew of Farm House. The other was that of Billie Suing and Lowell Jackson, Alpha Theta Pi.

Alpha Chi Omega was host to the D. U.'s again when Ruth Minor and Plinty Moody passed the stogies and sweets. Also Betty Stewart and Phil Sutton, Farm House, did their share.

At the Alpha Phi house, Virginia Pederson and Ray Elliot, a Delt from California, treated the Phi girls to some of the better things of life.

Among others, there were two other candy passings, which although not legal, kept the girls from starvation. At the Gamma Phi house it is a custom for all seniors who have not passed the candy, regardless of prospects or not, to eat a raw egg. Last Monday night all seniors were forced to except Henrietta Wilson, who fatefully promised to pass it last night. Monday arrived and so did the candy, but they were suckers with the note attached to them: "Suckers, do you thing I'd eat those eggs?"

The Sigma Kappa's had their annual senior breakfast Sunday, May 22 at the chapter house. Genevieve Hoff, former prexy, read the last will and testament. Barbara Marston read the prophesies. Each senior was presented with a crested spoon.

One of the more important events during the breakfast was Ross, Lincoln, and Glenn Klingman, Chappel, Neb. Little match books tied with little bows of the sorority colors were passed around to each girl. "Match of the Season" was engraved on the cover, and on the inside was the announcement of the engagement. After that, the candy was brought forth.

Not long ago, the Junior chamber of commerce took the Gamma Phi Beta Coed Follies skit to Fremont for presentation. Afterwards at a dance, the crowd got Helen Kovanda to truck with the orchestra. The mayor, a rather sober and sedate man, asked Helen to dance with him after the exhibition. Believe it or not, within a short time, Helen had the mayor trucking with her.
