REGENTS REVEAL '38 SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST AWARDS

Pawnee City, Gothenburg, Friend, Laurel Youths Win Competition.

Three-fourths of 1 percent was all that separated the first place winner from the fourth place winner in the annual regents scholarship contest of the University, winners of which have just been announced. Daniel Atkinson of Pawnee City was the high student in the state with a grade of 98.80. Elsie Rejssek of Friend was second; William Buddenberg of Gothenburg, third; and Reuben Silver, Laurel, fourth.

The winners were selected from a group of 2,200 high ranking Nebraska high school seniors in 425 high schools who took the academic tests in the contest. The four top students have several points in common. All four of them are 17 years of age and all have been leaders in Young Citizens Contests. Atkinson was state winner in the contest in 1937, and is interested in the college of agriculture.

Miss Rejssek was state winner in the 1937 Young Citizens Contest and won first place in bookkeeping in the 1937 district No. 1 commercial contest. She is interested in the teachers college. The third and fourth place winners are both interested in engineering. Buddenberg was a district winner and Silver was a county winner in the 1937 Young Citizens Contest.

A total of 250 regents scholarships were awarded among the 2,200 competitors. Each scholarship, which is good for tuition fees at the university next year, is valued at $70.

DR. FOSCUE TO SHOW FILMS OF U. S. PARKS

Geography Professor Gives Lecture Open to Public Tonight in Union.

Illustrating with colored moving pictures a talk on "The Geography of the National Parks west of the Missouri," Dr. Edwin J. Foscue, visiting professor from Southern Methodist university, Dallas, will address a gathering of persons from the geography department and any others interested tonight in the Student Union building. Parlors B and C will be used, with the program beginning at 7:30. Dr. Lackey is in general charge of the program.

Dr. Foscue made a tour of the western parks last summer after his work here during the summer session, taking 800 feet of film, much of it in color.

Included in the showing tonight will be pictures taken throughout the tour, which included visits to the Black Hills of South Dakota, with Devil's Tower; Yellowstone park; the Grand Teton park; Glacier National park; Glacier Watertown National Peace park of southern Alberta, Canada; the Grand Coulee dam of southern Washington; the Oregon Coast highway; the Redwood Forest highway; Boulder dam; Bryce canyon; Zion National park; the Grand Canyon, and the petrified forest of Arizona.

MISS SHELBY DIES AT HOME IN INDIANA

Miss Matilda Shelby, physical instructor here since 1934, died Saturday night at her home in Indianapolis, Ind., and funeral services were held there Tuesday. Miss Shelby was graduated from Northwestern university in 1923, obtained her master's degree from Welesley, and had studied abroad. She taught at Iowa State university and at Knox college at Galesburg, Ill., before coming to Nebraska.

FOUR ONE-ACT PLAYS PLANNED WEDNESDAY FOR STUDIO THEATER

Summer Series Continues With Drama, Comedy Mixture Offered.

Another evening of four one-act plays is planned by the speech department for next Wednesday in the Studio theater in the Temple. Starting at 7:30, the program as usual will be presented free of charge.

"Ten Flights Up" is a comedy about ladies of the chorus and featured in the stage girl roles will be Eloise Otto and Leila Massie. Maxine Titler will portray the part of a hostess and Ruth Carr will play a housewife.

Herb Yenne, assistant professor of speech, will direct "Wrong Numbers," described as a crook play. Wanda Crawmer will take the role of the waitress and LaVern Munger and Clydene Rosseter have the roles of crooks one and two.

The nagging wife is the theme of the play, "His Wife." Armand Hunter will portray the husband, but his part is most unusual, inasmuch as the audience sees only his arm flash thru the curtain at various intervals. Marjorie Corrington will play the wife.

"Eggs" is a melodrama laid in the future when, according to the action, 1980 costs will be extremely high. John Gaeth will carry the role of the husband, Virginia Nolte will play the wife, and Robert Johnston will take the part of Harold.

Arena Stage Proves Novel For Studio Theater Plays

"Bond Between" Appears Outstanding in Opinion of Reviewer.

Novelty of production technique featured last night's Studio theater program when four one-act plays were presented from a central arena type of stage built in the middle of the room with the audience seated on all four sides. Between the plays, the spectators were invited into the hall for refreshments while the stage settings were changed, and all in all everyone seemed to have quite a gala time. This less formal mode of production somehow seems admirably suited to a summer's evening.

"The Bond Between" was perhaps the outstanding play presented last night, with Gladys Neff and Ruth Carr doing particularly able work. Also good were Ruth McDuffee and Janette See-

Burnett Finishes 11th Year; C. S. Boucher Named to Post

Newly Appointed Chancellor Comes From University of West Virginia.

Dr. C. S. Boucher, president of West Virginia university at Morgantown, West Va., and former dean of the arts college of the University of Chicago, was announced yesterday as the new chancellor of the university, the announcement coming simultaneously with that of the retirement of Chancellor E. A. Burnett. Dr. Boucher is in Lincoln at present. He will return shortly to his home in West Virginia, and on September 1 he will assume his duties at Nebraska. His salary was announced as $12,000 a year.

The new chancellor is 52 years old and has served on college faculties for more than 25 years. He received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan in 1909, his Master's the following year, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1914. From 1911 to 1914 he studied at the Harvard Graduate school.

He has served on the faculties of Michigan university, Washington university at St. Louis, Ohio State university, the University of Texas, Wisconsin, the University of Chicago and West Virginia university.

NEBRASKA ART STUDENTS WIN AWARDS AT EXHIBIT

Painting by Thelma Kohler Takes First Prize at Boulder Show.

First place over all other entrants in painting and two honorable mentions were recently won by Nebraska art students when their paintings were submitted in an exhibition of original art work at Boulder, Colo. The report comes from Miss Dorothy Glenn, delegate from the Nebraska chapter of Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity, which sponsored the exhibition.

Twenty-two chapters competed in the exhibition. A painting by Thelma Kohler of Hastings took first prize; and Helen Reynolds, Lincoln, won two honorable mentions, one on a tempera painting and one on an illustration done on scratchboard.

berg, Wanda Crawmer was the director.

Mildred Burnham and Elsie Coleman performed capably in the roles of Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Sawyer in the second play, "All My Life." Mary Hibbard in the part of Mary Sawyer and Hilda Wiebe as Miss Jarvis, the wise representative of a publishing company, both gave convincing portrayals also. Directing was LaVern Munger.

"Fleurette & Co." was rather a charming little play featuring Jane Keefer as Madam and Inez Thompson as Mrs. Poynter. Jean Gist directed.

Extremely funny was the concluding play of the evening entitled "Rollo" and featuring the eternal triangle situation. Extremely good performances featured the action with Robert Johnston portraying the husband, Claudine Burt the wife, and Betty Rowland the other woman.

RAY RAMSEY SHOWS PICTURES OF MEXICO

Alumni Director Describes Tour Wednesday Night In Union Building.

Mexico, land of extremes and contradictions, where rich and poor, old and new, courteous and rude alike are found, was described graphically last night by Ray Ramsey, alumni secretary, who showed pictures of his tour through Mexico last summer to the crowd which gathered in the Student Union ballroom.

One hundred colored pictures taken in and around Mexico City were shown. "Mexico City is far from being the hot, dry, dusty city which most people think," Mr. Ramsey stated. "In this city is the most ideal climate of North America. Throughout the year the temperature is between 68 and 74 degrees."

In the high valley in which Mexico City is located lies much of the beauty of Mexico, the alumni director stated. "Here we find a high type of civilization extending back 9,000 years. We find pyramids bigger than those of Egypt, built 5,000 years ago. But we also find present day methods, present day facilities. For Mexico City is one of the most modern of western cities."

Head of University Served on Nebraska Faculty for 39 Years.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett, head of the university for the past 11 years and a member of its faculty for 39 years, has retired at his own request from active leadership of one of the largest educational institutions in the country to become chancellor emeritus. Announcement of his immediate retirement at the age of 72 was made by the regents Wednesday at the same time as their announcement of the appointment of Dr. C. S. Boucher of Morgantown, W. Va., as the new chancellor.

Chancellor Burnett informed the university board of regents several weeks ago of his desire to relinquish active leadership of the state university because of the increasing strain and demands of the position. He plans to remain in Lincoln for a few days to aid in introducing the new chancellor to the faculty and the work of the office. He and Mrs. Burnett expect to leave Friday to make a short visit with their son, Knox, in New York City.

Chancellor Burnett came to Nebraska from South Dakota in 1899, first as professor of animal husbandry in charge of farmer's institutes from 1899 to 1907. In 1901 he was made associate dean of the industrial college in charge of agricultural instruction and di-

STUDENT UNION PLANS SWIM, DANCE EVENTS

Splash Party Opens Today At 5; Beck-Jungbluth To Play Friday.

Summer students will again swim in the coliseum pool in the second mixed splash party of the season scheduled this afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock. Various novelty games have been planned, and with the enthusiasm displayed at the first swim party, Miss Marian Steele, social director, predicts a highly successful affair.

Friday night dancers in the Student Union ballroom will swing to the rhythms of the Beck-Jungbluth parties. Admission will be ten cents, with identification cards necessary.

A matinee dance on Saturday, from 3:30 to 5:30 and a symphony recordings concert on Sunday from 3 to 5 are also included on the week's schedule. For next Wednesday, July 13, at 5 o'clock another matinee dance has been announced.

Registration for bridge, checkers, chess and ping pong tournaments has been extended until 9 o'clock tonight, the social director explained. Registrants must turn in their names before that time so that several games of the tournaments may be played off this week.

More than 1,200 persons are being served daily in the grill, the cafeteria and the dining rooms, Kenneth Van Sant, Student Union director stated. Large numbers are taking advantage of the air cooled lounge and study library.

Dr. Georgi to Attend Bacteriology Meeting

Dr. C. E. Georgi, bacteriologist, will attend the meetings of the Society of American Bacteriologists in San Francisco Aug. 30 to Sept. 1.
