Rallying in the fourth inning to break the TNT's one-point lead, the Zephyr nine Tuesday night clinched a 4-3 victory, holding their opponents scoreless for the rest of the game, as the two teams met in the fifth round of the women's softball tournament. In the same round the Live Wires took the Do-Its to a score of 29-5. The final round is set for tonight, with the Live Wires meeting the Zephyrs at 5 o'clock and the TNT's playing the Do-Its at 6:30.

Standings to date place the Live Wires at the top with 5 won, 0 lost; Do-Its, won 1, lost 4; Zephyrs and TNT's tied, with 2 won, 3 lost.

Outstanding players for the Live-Wires in Tuesday's game were Bernice Moore, captain and pitcher, who turned in some excellent batting and fielding, and Dorothea Bond, short-stop. Irene Vlcek and Lorine Bentzinger played a good game for the Do-Its.

Effective pitching by Hilda Boon helped the Zephyrs to hold their opponents scoreless in the last inning of their game, and Leota Dennis held down the field area equally well. Outstanding for the TNT's were Alice Johnston at first base, Theda Gann as short stop and Emma Mitchie as catcher.

sonality test" which includes talking with a director, walking, modeling clothes of all sorts from evening gowns to bathing suits, perhaps to the extent of three dozen changes. Altho Miss Corrington left Hollywood before the rushes of her test were complete, she has been assured by the studio that it was satisfactory and promised a part in a forthcoming musical. She hopes to have some sort of a part in the film other than just her dance in order to gain a chance for future acting roles, for she believes that the only real money in the entertainment field today lies in acting.

Miss Corrington attended an acting school run by MGM for four months last spring during which time she was on the payroll of the studio. She believes that her summer work at the University is proving more valuable, however, for there were some 200 students at the school and personal attentions was somewhat lacking.
