

SOCIAL-LITES by Margaret Krause and Dixie Davis

Among the "going together this week"... Awgwan artist and Sig Chi Jim Foreman, at the Sub with Jean Fetter, of Pi Beta Phi...

almost a flash, from Alpha Phi, telling of phone calls to Hedlund, from way out on 17th and E—Hunt, you know... girls just "too-too" dated up for Jimmy Gri-r, Dusty Rhoades, Jimmy Dorsey, Mil. Ball, Ivy Day, etc., etc.

Today is the fourth week that Dutch Reichstadt has been parted from his Sigma Nu pin. What this Howley woman must have... they had just had about four dates when it happened in Omaha.

Jack Scott, Sigma Nu, had to give an autobiography in speech class. It seems that he had a little trouble with it. Afterwards some people asked him about it, and he admitted that he is too shy on how good he really is.

The Beta Theta Pi's are challenging the All-Star team made up of Kappa's, Theta's, Chi O's, and Delta Gam's for a game of football. We wonder if they expect to be beaten again. The girls are out to get Aina Dobson for referee, linesman, and time keeper.

Hauntress Cackle seems to be on the dating list again. This summer she had quite a fling with a Dartmouth man... One of their better stunts being to ride on the street cleaner late at night waving to all passer-bys.

Our latest solution for meeting capricious fall weather in great style. A broad shouldered, swashbuckling top coat that is reversible—one side gay checks and plaids for sunny fall days—zip reverse it—and a solid gaberdine coat for rainy days.

Warm Bright TOP COATS Boxy or fitted—Bright colors—black—and tweeds—Boucles and fleeces.

Directory Seeks Pledge Lists

Roll Book Goes on Sale Late in October

Blanks have been sent to fraternities, sororities, dormitories, and several literary societies for the purpose of securing a complete list of their members and pledges for the University student directory.

Work on the directory is moving along rapidly according to Joy Richardson, advertising manager of the 1938-39 edition who reports that over half the required advertising has been sold.

A complete list of the faculty members has been sent to the telephone office where numbers and addresses will be checked. This section of the directory will pass into the printers' hands the latter part of this week.

This year's issue, which will appear on the campus toward the end of October, will be the 30th edition of the Nebraska university student directory, according to Edwin Hayes, general manager of this year's publication.

Dick Coleman Heads Engineers

Elect Mierel, Howard To Executive Board

Dick Coleman was elected president of the 1938-39 engineering executive board at its meeting last night, according to Pete Burns, retiring board president.

The 13 presidents and secretary-treasurers of the various engineering departmental societies present made plans for a general engineering convocation to be held next week. The exact date for the meeting is not yet definite.

Weir Primes Track Squad

Brownlee Looks Like Cross Country Leader

With the first cross country meet scheduled with Iowa State just three weeks from this coming Saturday, Ed Weir, varsity track coach, has several men working out for positions on the five man squad which will represent Nebraska this year in Big Six competition.

Mainstay of the squad will probably be John Brownlee, letterman who finished second in Big Six competition last year, along with Al Kuper, also a letterman. Back after a year's absence from school is Leland Butler, on whom Weir is depending for some good performances.

Back also from last year's squad, although not lettermen, are Paul Owen and Roy Gatch.

The recent book on plant ecology by Dr. John Weaver of the botany department and Dr. E. E. Clements, former Nebraskan who is now with the Carnegie Institute of Washington, which was completely revised and re-edited, is now being used by a good many universities.

Mrs. E. A. Burnett, wife of the former chancellor, will preside at the tea tables during the first hour with Mrs. Samuel Avery. Chaperons of the various organizations on the campus have been invited to pour during the remainder of the afternoon. Members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honorary for women, will assist them in serving.

A cordial welcome is extended to all university women by Miss Piper and her staff, and a large attendance is expected to respond to the invitation.

Tea Opens Coed Social Season

Miss Piper to Preside At Dean's Staff Event

Officially opening the tea season, and extending a welcome to all university women, especially freshmen women, the office of the dean of women will hold its annual tea tomorrow afternoon in Ellen Smith Hall.

According to tradition, the president of the A. W. S., Helen Pascoe, will stand at the head of the receiving line to introduce the guests to Miss Piper. The guests will also meet in the receiving line Mrs. C. S. Boucher, wife of the chancellor; Mrs. Ada Westover, in charge of the office of the dean of women; Miss Esther Ostlund, Y. W. C. A. secretary new to the University this year; Miss Margarte Klinker, director of the Panhellenic organization, and Miss Clementine Newman, social director of Carrie Belle Raymond Hall.

Amid a garden atmosphere created by floral decorations, members of Mortar Board will extend additional welcome to the guests. The parlors of Ellen Smith hall are to be bedecked with palm groupings, large fern baskets and flowers.

The three musical sororities of the University will present a program of music during the afternoon. Names of those who are to participate will be revealed tomorrow.

Bizad Club Starts Year

Smoker Tonite Opens Delta Sigma Pi Year

Delta Sigma Pi, international commerce fraternity, will begin its fall activities with a smoker in par Z at the Student Union, this evening at 7:30.

A varied program for the coming year has been planned including professional programs to which business men of Lincoln are invited to give talks relating to business problems, professional tours of Lincoln and Omaha industries. Also a number of dinner dances have been scheduled through the first semester.

The Nebraska chapter has recently received word that it has placed fifth in a national contest participated in by 47 chapters of the fraternity. Every phase of fraternity administration was included in the contest which kept a high interest among all members of the fraternity throughout the school year 1937-1938.

"The Psychologist Looks at the Problem of Mental Hygiene" will be the subject of an address by Dr. Joy P. Guilford, professor of psychology, at the Tuesday meeting of the Nebraska conference of social work at Fremont. Dr. Guilford recently gave his presidential address at the annual convention of the psychometric society at Columbus, O. His discussion centered about his extensive research with color preferences, a field of study he has been invited to describe before the spring meetings of the inter-society color council at New York City.
