Campus Episcopal Greets Students

Sunday morning at 8:30 at the University Episcopal church will open the Sunday services for students, and another service will be held at 11 a. m. Rev. Mr. McMillian, asked if there would be a special service, replied, "We have a student Sunday every Sunday. All students old and new are invited and there will be a special welcome to new students."

have contributed toward making the Grier organization America's leading entertainment attraction.

Breaks Bowl Records.
The Biltmore Bowl in the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, where Grier broke all records with a 208 consecutive week run, seats more than 1,500 persons, and for years has been the traditional gathering point for larger stage, screen, and radio activities.

Firmly fixed in the lime light, the exceptional popularity of this band destined it for a place with the nation's "top notchers."

Fame from his Cocoanut Grove sensations as well as the record set at the Biltmore Bowl has rated the Grier band in west coast opinion with names such as Tommy Dorsey, Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees, and Dick Jurgens.

Because Grier players have been able to "settle down" with a home, Jimmy's band has attracted the nation's ranking musicians. The fact that he has "found" more than a dozen now-famous stars in the past few years attests to the efficiency of Grier's players as talent scouts.

Pinky Tomlin, song hit writer who wrote "The Object of My Affection," the Three Ambassadors; and latest, Julie Gibson are only three of the many "Grier Graduates" to attain world fame.

Julie Gibson was winner of Eddy Duchin's 1936 talent search in the Utah district, and will sing with the band at the Student Union Saturday.

After the eventide worship Dr. Oggel will lead the university group in a discussion of the question, "How Good Is God?" This is the first of a series of discussions on "Great Christian Beliefs."

Because of contracts in the east, Grier will appear only Saturday night, opening this year's name band series for Student Union dances.

Church Day Challenges Youth

All Denominations Welcome Students

Lincoln churches of every denomination open their doors on Sunday morning with a particular welcome for university students. Ministers have taken up the task of giving spiritual guidance to more than 6,000 college men and women, and are building their sermons to challenge youth.

It is the only day of the year officially set aside for exposing the college student to the religion offered by the Lincoln churches, and the ministerial body is optimistic for an extensive attendance in all churches, according to the general opinion expressed by student pastors.

Young people's fellowship organizations in many churches, serving as the organ to give college youth all the fun and friendship and religious experience that their church can offer, have planned unusual programs for Sunday evening, following up the gala parties and receptions held Friday night.

for the donation of $1,000 with which to buy books for the Union's browsing library and Prof. John D. Clark, Cheyenne, for furniture equipping the faculty lounge.

A successor to Miss Parks, former director of the ag campus home ec cafeteria, as a faculty member of the board of managers is to be chosen by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.
