Weinberg Talks

A. I. E. E. Hears U. P. Man Discuss Streamliners

Featured by the address of Mr. H. C. Weinberg, of Omaha, the local chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held their regular meeting, last night.

Mr. Weinberg, who is an engineer with the Union Pacific railroad, described the complete equipment of Streamliners and how this equipment functions.

After Mr. Weinberg's talk, the group discussed and made plans for a trip to Omaha, Oct. 19, where they will be guests of the Nebraska section of the institute and the Omaha Engineers club.

The next meeting of the club is scheduled for Oct. 12, at which time, the guest speaker of the evening will be Pat Moulton, a Nebraska graduate, who is now employed by the Nebraska Power company.

INTERVIEW WITH CITY EDITOR

Laramie, to the Denver Post, to Kansas City, to Atlanta, and finally to New York. We found out that he had come up the hard way—as most desk men have—through the dreary district assignment, the monotonous beat, the months of service as a "leg" man.

Private Wireless.

"Mr. McCaw, what provisions does the Times make for coverage of an important foreign event, such as the Czechoslovakian crisis?"

"We send our men from the various Times bureaus to the trouble spot immediately. You see, we have our own offices in Paris, Warsaw, Rome, Berlin, London, Prague, a man with each army in Spain, and we used to have one in Vienna—but it's closed now."

"How do their flashes reach New York?"

"All our correspondents file their reports through the Paris bureau. In southern France, the Times and the Chicago Tribune have located a press wireless station, which sends our news directly to our station on Long Island. The dispatches are then relayed to the Tribune. This enables us to save an immense amount in cable tolls, and keeps our news from passing through foreign hands."

Ads in the Cold.

"Has the radio made any appreciable difference in your circulation?"

"The radio whets the public appetite for news. After hearing a short flash, people are more apt to buy a paper just to see what it's really all about. It does take the edge off spot news—but in the long run it has boosted our circulation total." (600,000 daily—850,000 Sunday).

"How does the Times rank as to circulation?"

"We've never gotten up into the higher bracket, but we represent people of more than average intelligence." Lowbrows just don't read the Times."

"Is there ever any conflict between news matter and ads?"

"Yes, but we have the last say, if it comes to a question of news versus ads, we can even throw out the ads entirely. That is one of the ideas that has made the Times great."

"How does the campus look to you now?"

"This is the first time I've been back when the University has been in session. You've got a snappier group of young people here now than we had in 1907. Say, what about this football game Saturday? John Bentley has got me fixed up in the press box."

"The Cyclones are out to avenge last year's defeat, so it's plenty hard to say."

Like My Obit.

"Look out for Pitt. Minnesota has the old powerhouse but Pitt is the real team. I remember back in 1905, when 1,200 of us made the trip to Minnesota and back for $6. It was cold, the ground was frozen, and the players skidded around on their faces all afternoon. We won, 6 to 0, but I've never seen such a wrecked team."

We rose to leave.

"Don't treat me too rough—last winter I had pneumonia, just about died, in fact. Well, the boys at the office dug up the stuff and wrote my obit. When I came back to the office, there was the proof—a column and a half of it. I cut it to a half column and sent it to the morgue. See, two-thirds of that was bull. Well, so long."
