Huskers Outdo Hoosiers In 0-0 Fight

'Pore Little Boys' Let Huskers Near Goal Five Times

Huskers Get 129 Yards From Scrimmage Line, Indiana Makes 59

BY NORMAN HARRIS.

Outdowned, outyarded, held in complete check by a stalwart red-shirted line, passing attack knocked to smithereens with interceptions nipping any semblance of threat, punts bobbing in the wind and traveling only short distances . . .

Bo McMillin's "pore little boys" from Indiana held a vastly improved Cornhusker eleven to a scoreless tie before 31,000 fans, most of whom had high hopes of seeing the Huskers cart off their first win of the year.

Five times the Huskers bit deep into Hoosier territory and five times were they repulsed by a staunch line of black shirted Indians. Twice Husker runners were away in the open, only to be brought down from the side, because blocks, thrown from difficult positions, fell short of Hoosier defenders.

Chance No. 1.

Late in the second period, Clasen's kick from his own 15 bobbed high with the wind, and Nebraska took possession on the Hoosier 29. Dodd, seemingly about to break into the open on a reverse from Rohrig, slipped and fell just as he

Miss Burgess at Forum

Nursing School Director to Describe Vocation

Miss Charlotte Burgess, director of the university school of nursing in Omaha, will speak on the subject, "Nursing as a Vocation," in the third of a series of vocational forums being sponsored by the arts and sciences college this semester.

Miss Burgess will appear Thursday, Oct. 20, from 3 to 5 o'clock in room 101 of social sciences. She will discuss the various phases of nursing, problems relating to training and entry to the field, and other questions that a student should consider before deciding to enter or not to enter a vocation, according to Dr. W. S. Gregory, special adviser to freshmen, who is arranging the forums.

"Any student in the university, regardless of what college or class he or she is in, may attend this forum," stated Dr. Gregory. "Anyone interested in nursing as a possible vocation will find it informative, useful, and worthwhile."

F. W. Johnson Visits From South American

F. W. Johnson, who graduated with the class of 1934 and who is now a geologist in South America, visited the museum and several members of the faculty Saturday. While a student in the geology department at the University, Johnson worked as a collector with the museum field parties. He was engaged each summer in this work from 1931 to 1935.

AWS Begins 'N' Stamp Sale Monday

Group Orders 20,000 Stickers to Advertise Annual Homecoming

Members of freshman A. W. S. will launch their annual "N" stamp sale following a meeting tomorrow at 4 o'clock in Ellen Smith. "N" stamps, as in the past, are sold at the price of 1 cent apiece to advertise homecoming to people out of town.

Prizes will be given to the team that sells the most stamps and to the girl whose individual score tops all of the rest. The girls selling the stamps will check in their sales money Friday, next Monday and Wednesday from 3 to 5 o'clock. The final checkin will be conducted the Monday after Homecoming.

Twenty thousand stamps have been ordered in sheets of 25. The price for the stamps will be lowered for large quantities. After canvassing the campus, the freshman A. W. S. members will take the campaign downtown where blocks will be given to the various teams to contact.

The "N" stamp drive is under the direction of Pat Pope. Miss Pope states: "We know each student will co-operate in publicizing homecoming and help us to sell a larger number of stamps this year than have ever been sold before."

The regular meeting of the ag freshman A. W. S. will be held Tuesday at 4 o'clock when Helen Pascoe will speak upon the A. W. S. board in room 213 of the Home Economics building. The weekly meeting of freshman A. W. S. on the city campus will be held Wednesday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith, with Virginia Nolte talking upon the Tassel organization.

Chi Phi Pledges Students

Scholarship Prowess Amazes D Street Boys

Truth is stranger than fiction and the Chi Phi's leaped from 16th to first place in scholarship. Or, as one of the bewildered brothers was heard to exclaim on hearing the great news, "It can't happen here—I hope!"

Modest though they may be about their intellectual prowess, the D street boys have really got something there. Since pledges play so important a part in group scholarship, exasperated scholarship chairmen for would-be champion fraternities would do well to abandon their slave driving and Wheaties-for-breakfast program and listen to the strangest success story of modern times.

It seems that Chi Phi made an average more than 2 percent above any other fraternity on the campus without any such classic but unpleasant study-forcing methods as long and frequent study hall or quiz for freshmen. It all revolves around a spirit too seldom displayed toward pledges but evidently very successful, that of co-operation.

Co-operation.

And we mean the actives co-operate with the pledges!!! All upperclassmen must help any frosh who needs or asks for it.

Council Sets Nov. 5 Date For Migration

Reserves 750 Seats For K.U. Tussle; Trip Cost Totals $6.45

Cornhuskers' annual football migration will be made to Lawrence, Kansas, this year to view the Nebraska-Kansas university grid battle, Saturday, Nov. 5. Excellent tickets may now be purchased for $2.25 each in the student activities' office in the coliseum, according to the Student Council committee in charge of migration arrangements. A bloc of 750 tickets has been reserved for Husker fans.

A special train to Lawrence will leave Lincoln Saturday morning of the fifth at 7 o'clock. The returning train will leave Lawrence at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Train reservations should also be made at the Coliseum. Round trip tickets are selling for $4.20. Students are urged to make their reservations as soon as possible in order that some estimate of the number going may be made.

Student Council committee in charge of the event includes Iris Johnson, chairman; Virginia Fleetwood and Jack Glen.

Barb AWS Holds Activity Meets

In order to assist town girls and those not living in the organized houses, the Barb A. W. S. board has arranged group meetings in which the activity system will be explained. A mass meeting of Barb men to nominate the Junior and Senior class president candidates for the Barb Union party and to see the pictures of the Minnesota game will be held Monday evening in the ballroom of the Union.

All barb men are urged to be present and take part. The meeting opens a series which will bring to Barb men the first free showing of the recent games of the Cornhuskers. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Convo Hears Noted Editor

Dr. Stoke Announces Acheson of Readers Digest for Thursday

With Barclay Acheson, the well known American editor, slated to address the second University convocation Thursday at 11 a. m., in the Temple, Dr. Harold W. Stoke, program chairman, announced Saturday the names of three other world famous personages who will appear before University and Lincoln audiences during the remainder of the first semester.

Those who will speak within the next few weeks are Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, the morning of Oct. 27; Robert Briffault, Dec. 12, and Sterling North, Jan. 16.

Acheson, who takes the platform Thursday morning, is best known at the present time as associate editor of the Reader's Digest. He has established a reputation as a brilliant platform speaker because he speaks with a conviction born of close personal experience and observation of world current events.

Many will remember him for his work of administering some $0 million dollars for Near East relief in Russia, Turkey, Bulgaria and Greece. His career has been a varied one. Once he was a Presbyterian preacher; even earlier a teacher. Governments have decorated him for distinguished services. Acheson will address the Lincoln audience on the subject, "Freedom—The Mental Climate for Progress."

Tolstoy's Daughter.

Countess Tolstoy makes her appearance at the University the following Thursday, Oct. 27, speaking on the subject "Tolstoy and the Russian Revolution." Because she was the youngest daughter of Russia's illustrious novelist and was

P.B.K. to Hear Prof. Pfeiler

To Discuss German Writers Wednesday

Prof. W. K. Pfeiler of the German languages department, will address the members of Phi Beta Kappa at the chapter's opening meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the Student Union. The speaker's subject will be "A Visit to Contemporary German Writers," based upon his trip to Germany this summer.

After the address, a general reception for the old and new members, students and faculty, will be held under the auspices of the officers. Light refreshments will be served during the reception hour.

The complete program of Phi Beta Kappa for the year includes a talk by Prof. Harold Stoke on "Impressions of the TVA," Nov. 21; an address by Prof. O. R. Martin on the subject, "Problems Arising Out of the Federal Taxation Program," Jan. 17; an address by Dr. H. W. Orr on the topic, "Contributions of Pasteur and Lister to Modern Surgery," Feb. 7; and a paper by Prof. C. D. Swayzee on "Evolution in Labor Problems," March 8.

Officers in Charge.

The officers in charge of the program and chapter for the year are Prof. J. W. Wadsworth, president; J. O. Hertzler, vice president; Clifford M. Hicks, secretary; Margaret Cannell, treasurer, and Mrs. A. W. Williams, historian.

At this time the chapter is preparing a historical booklet to be mailed to all members of the local group now on the mailing list. The historical booklet includes a history of the chapter, the constitution and bylaws, a roster of its officers and a complete list of members initiated by the chapter from 1896 to 1938.
