One of the year's biggest weekends beginning today at four with the Rag-Cornhusker football tussle... come one—and all... house parties of Theta Chi and AOPJ Friday and DU dinner at the Cornhusker... Game Saturday, with open houses following... and at night split your entertainment between Sigma Nu, Kappa Delta, Phi Psi, Tri Delta, DU, Chi O, Alpha Xi Delta, ZBT, Theta, and Becker at the Turnpike... Sunday, also, is busy, with a convo in the P. M. Tom Phillips, DU, rushing about madly, buzzing with party plans... Bessey Hall's Hurtle, trying to crash print... Betty Hedstrom, Delta Gamma, returned for a visit, welcomed nobly, and we do mean... Betty Kennedy, Kappa, in a colorful plum colored sweater with matching bobby-socks... still raving about the southern accent of a certain genuine Phi Mu... Campus convention crowded... Sig Alph pillow fight, third floor coming out on top of second... Marty Morrow, May queen of last year, back as a visiting school-marm... and many familiar faces, which seems velly good...

To celebrate their 40th anniversary, the DU's have planned a very huge week-end, Friday night is their stag dinner at the Cornhusker, Saturday night, their dinner and house party... Alums will stream from Florida, New York, and other faraway spots to make it an outstanding affair... A very unusual house party is Saturday night at Theta, and the big theme, we hear, is a fireman's ball, carried out with unusual details...

Elite is the word for the way the ZBT's plan to entertain Saturday night, with Dave Ham's orchestra, old fashioned apple-bobbing in a new fashioned way, and spooking of decorations—my dear... and we're all invited... The TNE's did themselves proud the other night, but they should learn not to be so noisy, in front of the Phi Psi house they also had a flower labeled "Pansy," At the D. G. house, "Welcome B. H." was under their beautiful symbol. On the Theta bench was a decora-

of treatments she received in a Danish hospital which would have cost her $15 in America, but cost her only 22 cents in Denmark. Old age insurance is another fine thing, she believes, and stated that "there is not a poverty-stricken old man or woman in the whole kingdom."
"Of course this program of co-operative government costs," she said, "The taxes are about 5 percent higher than ours."
"Like all countries, Denmark has had difficult problems," Mrs. Rohde stated, "but unlike most of them, she has succeeded in solving a great number of them." The country's most serious problem, she pointed out, is a lack of natural resources.
"The government has paid dearly for its success in this form of democratic government," Mrs. Rohde said in conclusion, "but they have bought something dear for their people."

New Night Spot Opens In Union

Club in Cafeteria Supplements Grill

Tonight the Union cafeteria will be transformed into a night spot where the best orchestras in the land will provide recorded music for dancing, and the best chefs in town will serve sandwiches and light lunches. This special service according to Union directors is to supplement the grill which they feel has been long overcrowded.
This new collegiate-style night spot will be open to all University students from 10:30 to 12:30 every Friday and Saturday nights, with no cover charge or minimum rate attached.
According to Mrs. Yinger, Union social director, couples will find this an enjoyable spot after returning from a show or hour dance.

sition by purges and executions, lacking the support of the peasants and the army, suspecting even loyal party members of counter-revolutionary activities.
Next feature of communism to fall before the flail of the Comrades was the attempt to stamp out religion. Only a few of Russia's many beautiful churches remain intact, thousands of priests have been murdered and the present educational system fosters a hatred of religion in even the very young children, yet in a recent census, 65 percent of the population openly admitted that they adhere to some religious beliefs.
The self exiled comrade, who hopes to become an American citizen soon, closed her speech on a hopeful note, predicting that the bolsheviks, discredited the world over, "are going to fade. Not far distant," she said, "is the day when we will see the revival of a better Russia."

Room Contest Draws Response

Response of the student body in the name the room contest has been very good according to Mrs. Yinger, personal representative of "Miss Bonnie's" name the room committee. Approximately 800 suggestions were placed in the ballot box between the time the contest started Wednesday morning and 2:30 yesterday afternoon.

Balloons Soar If Tassels Sell

Pep Group Conducts Annual Sale Tomorrow

Tassels will conduct their annual Homecoming sale of hydrogen-filled balloons tomorrow afternoon at the Missouri football game. The balloons, red with white "N's" and white with red "M's", have proved very popular in the past and have always contributed a source of color and fun in the stadium on Grad's Day. Members of the girls pep club will meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in Avery laboratory where where they will fill the balloons from the hydrogen tank, and tie them to strings. All members are expected to be present the entire morning.

The Tassels will arrive with their balloons at the stadium at 1 o'clock in order that they may have them all sold before game time when they will march in a body to the Tassel section.
At 4 o'clock this afternoon, those few Tassels who cannot possibly work tomorrow morning will meet to prepare the material for tomorrow morning. At 5:45, they will assemble at the Student Union to meet Corn Coils who will take them around to the various campus houses to make rally speeches.
