COFFEE LOUNGE

The Science masquerade brought out the "uh-ho" spirit in the boys . . . Gene Beck, welcoming coach, all dressed up as a Mexican bull fighter but evidently not at all frightened by him was Mazy Bloodgood, Chi Mu, Morris Lipp, SAM, Daily Nebraskan editor-in-chief, when looking very chummy with Shirley Epstein, SDY.

Norman Rody, SAM, lighting up for Beth Hawley. More of the Science masquerade . . . some of those who didn't go in for the dressing up part . . . Rubie Stephens, Chi O, and Jim Mimsick, Louis Dillman and Helen Baker. But as the old-fashioned wedding couple, Dick Morse and Roma Sue Pickering! Bill Hastings turned out as an Arabian shik to woo a Spanish dancer, Julia Ann Morse. Bruce Campbell, Sigma Nu, apparently all alone, at least the way the camera got him. Who's behind him? . . . Oh, that's Robert Taylor, and interviewer . . . your guess is as good as ours.

Masquerade in the Rocket Room . . . Marjorie Staab and Orris Quajet, Mary Brun, Alpha Xi Delta, playing cowboys with Jimmie Smith. All dressed up and on horses to ride! All hidden away are Carl Roger and Harvey Mimsick. What! No women? Wendell Graft, Aeneas alum, and Frank Johnson, seem to be alone . . . maybe the photographer missed who they're smiling at. A football man takes time out to enjoy himself at the Coffee Lounge . . . Bill Feltre, Big Five, paying up to Jimmie Bittzer, Kappa Six, student host at the Capital. —Daily Nebraskan staff photos by Harold Ruscian.
