Chem Convo Honors Top Scholars

Dr. Militzer Discusses Developments in Field During Past Century

Presentation of the Phi Lambda Upsilon scholarship cup to the student, now a sophomore major in chemistry, who in his freshman year had the highest scholastic average in his class, will highlight the annual fall banquet of the chemistry honorary society at the Cornhusker hotel, tonight. The banquet will begin at 6:45.

Five graduate students and two seniors will be initiated into the fraternity before the banquet. Graduate students who are to be taken in are Henry Smith, Chadron; Rueben Olson, Columbus; Clark McCarty, Kansas City; Paul Schultz, Wichita; and Jean Jack of Tokamah. Seniors Byron Miller of Clinton and Clement Theobald of Lincoln will also be initiated.

In order to be eligible for membership in the society, a student must maintain a high scholastic average in chemistry for the four years that he has been in school.

Principal speaker for the evening will be Dr. Walter A. Militzer, of the U. C. university chemistry department. He will address the chemists on "150 Years of Truth." His subject will deal with outstanding developments made in the field of chemistry during this period and how these developments affect the common man.

Jack Clem, president of the local chapter of Phi Lambda Upsilon, is in charge of the plans for the banquet and will act as toastmaster for the evening.

The cup is awarded annually to the freshman with the highest average in a chemical major. In computing this average, grades made in chemistry count double in the general average. The winner is awarded the cup for one year and his name is inscribed on the base. The cup was first presented in 1928. Winner a year ago was Richard Schuler of Kenesaw.

Rifles Join in Pitt Rally

Drill Unit Aids Husker Pep in Panther Hunt

A fever pitch student enthusiasm, growing day by day in contemplation of a Nebraska upset over Pittsburgh, Saturday night will vent itself fully tomorrow night when rallying students will gather at the Union at 7 o'clock, and march to the east stadium.

In conjunction with the rally, an Armistice Day ceremony will be staged, with the Nebraska chapter of Pershing Rifles slated to fire a salute. The military unit will also march in the parade from the Union to the stadium.

What the rally committee promises to be the largest fireworks display yet, will be fired. A huge 12 foot square flag has been ordered and will be set off during the stadium rally.

Cheer leaders, mounted on "Algie," their model T carriage, will lead the rally, right behind the varsity band. Corn Cobs and Tassels will follow the cheer leaders, providing the impetus for cheering.

Corn Cobs Plan Busy Weekend

Pepsters Resume Sales Campaign Saturday

Corn Cobs will resume their covetly selling campaigns this week end in an effort to refill the club treasury, practically emptied by the cost of the Kansas migration.

Other activities for workers over the week end will include meeting the special coming in from Omaha, distributing slogans Friday morning, conducting, along with the Tassels, a speaking tour promoting the rally tomorrow evening, preparing the stadium for the fireworks display tomorrow evening, and marching in the rally.

All Cobs have been invited to attend the Friday evening show at the Lincoln theater, and will be admitted upon wearing the red sweater, official garb of the group.

Workers wishing to add to their credit cards should report at the following places for work Friday and Saturday:

Friday:
5:00 a. m.—North end of Sech, slogan card distribution.
1:00 p. m.—East stadium for stadium preparation.
6:00 p. m.—Student Union, for speaking tour.
7:00 p. m.—Rally.
Saturday:
7:45 a. m.—Student Union, for novelty sale start.
12:30 p. m.—Student Union, for novelty sale start.

Tassels Practice at 5 O'Clock Today

All Tassels will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the south door of the stadium to practice carrying the flag for the Armistice day parade. Miss Virginia Nolte, president of the organization, requests that all members be prompt and present.

Committee Condemns Societies' High Fees

Investigation Discloses Expensive Initiations

COLUMBUS, O. (AP). High initiation fees charged by certain college honor and professional societies were condemned by Dean Joseph A. Park of Ohio State university, reporting for the committee on Honorary and Professional Societies.

Pointing out that some societies charge as much as $50 for initiation, Dean Park said, "So far as this committee is concerned any society in any field charging more than $15 initiation fee will have to demonstrate an unusual return to the student before being endorsed by the committee."

Sale of Insignia.
"Another widespread practice is the sale of emblems and insignia at a price which yields a profit far above the cost of handling, with the purchase of such material insisted upon. Granted that insignia are desirable they should be sold at a reasonable price without concealing an important source of income to the national organization."

Dean Park commented at the same time that "most student societies are worthwhile, are carefully administered, and while their usefulness may be questioned their purposes may not."

With the rapidly increasing number of national student societies established for "every conceivable purpose," the committee was set up to give information on particular societies, to promote amalgamations, to limit duplication, to establish standards, to accredit on the basis of information accrued, and to discourage the rise and growth of needless societies.

Eliminates "Honorary."
The committee proposes elimination of the term "honorary" in connection with college societies. It sets up definitions and standards for these types of student organizations: "honor" societies, "professional" societies, "recognition" societies, "campus leadership" societies, "interest" groups, "social" groups, and "social-professional" groups.

Dean Park reported that the definitions had been submitted to 300 presidents of colleges, universities, and professional societies, meeting with a "most encouraging" response.

'Kid Stuff' to Feature Yearly Party
Tonight students in the elementary education department of Teachers college will hold their annual party in Ellen Smith hall. This year the theme for the annual festival is "kid stuff," and as the party is for students majoring in this department only, they will come dressed as children of grade school age, with their hair in "Shirley Temple" style.

Sponsored by the Teachers college the purpose of the party is to better acquaint the students with the faculty of their department. The tickets are 40 cents and may be purchased at the college.

"Stop Beating Around the Mulberry Bush" and "London Bridge is Falling Down" will provide part of the entertainment. Organized groups will present skits as "Mother Goose," "Red Riding Hood" and many more favorites of children will appear to amuse those who have become "kids" for the evening. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest and most original costumes. The judges are Miss Wilson, Miss Davis and Miss Mason.

Barb Taffy Pull to Follow Rally

Delion-Union Provides Fun After Pep Meet

Unaffiliated students on the campus who plan to attend Friday night's rally are invited to take part in a taffy pull at the Delion-Union Literary society meeting in room 203 of Temple.

Society members state that the affair will begin as soon as the rally ends, and that anyone who wishes some free fun at that time should stop at the club rooms.

Marie Willey is in charge of entertainment for the evening, while Ruth Griffith is making plans for the taffy pull.

Home Ec Grads Visit Campus

Misses Smrha, Trott Clinchard Travel Far

Graduates of the home economics department who have recently visited the ag campus are the Misses Constance Clinchard, Helen Smrha and Margery Trott.

Miss Clinchard, 1937 graduate, is now working as a laboratory technician in the Georgia hospital, Balboa Heights in the Canal Zone.

Miss Smrha has recently been appointed assistant dietitian in the Presbyterian hospital, New York City. She had previously served as a student dietitian and then as a ward dietitian in the same hospital.

Miss Trott, a graduate of the 1931 class, interned at the Stanford University hospital in San Francisco, Calif. She has served as dietitian in the Danerion hospital, Stockton, Calif., and in the Danie hospital, San Francisco. Miss Trott is now a dietitian at the Grace hospital, Detroit, Mich.

Scabbard, Blade Holds Pledging Service Tonight

Pledging services for Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, will be held Thursday evening, Nov. 10, instead of Friday night, as previously stated.

Religion-Life Week Heads Finish Plans

Students to Participate in Campus Observance of Religious Period

Advance registrations are now being made for the seminars to be conducted each day during Religion and Life Week, beginning Monday, by world-renowned Christian leaders who will visit the Nebraska campus all next week to speak, direct discussions and personally meet the students.

Several seminars will be held each afternoon at 4 o'clock Monday thru Friday. To be sure of a place in one of the eight discussions on subjects vital to college students, registration should be made by Saturday noon in either the campus Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. office, at the Presbyterian Manse, 333 No. 14, or the Wesley Foundation, 1417 R. Space permitting, students will be admitted without registration to the meetings, according to Will Reedy, chairman of the Committee on Seminars.

Dr. T. Z. Koo will head the seminar on "The Meaning of Christian Faith," accompanied by Don Rice as student leader, in Parlors A and B of the Union. Since Dr. Koo is unable to be in Lincoln for the entire week, the groups will meet on Monday and Tuesday only.

On Wednesday and Thursday in Parlor A and B, Samuel Mayerberg will conduct a discussion of "Religion and Social Justice." Ernest Wintrob will act as student secretary.

Wide Variety.
Celebrated E. Stanley Jones will be present for Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons for a discussion of "Cultivation of the Spiritual Life." The meet will be held in Union Parlors XYZ, with Muriel White as student leader.

H. D. Bollinger, fiery favorite of college students at Northwestern, will hold sway in Room 209 of the Union Monday thru Friday, with Madge Petersen as student leader. His subject is "Religion in Campus Life." Frank McCulloch, of Chicago, will conduct a seminar on "Christian Living in Social Relations" the first three days of next week in Parlor C, with Gilbert Savary as student chairman.

"Christian Marriage" will be considered by Grace Sloan Overton in Room 316 Monday thru Friday. Priscilla Wicks will act as student head, Malachi Sullivan will lead a seminar on "The Home and Future America" in Room 215 all five days of the week with Student Leader Leonard Hall.

Herrick B. Young's seminar concerning "The Christian Church and the World Community" will meet Monday thru Friday in Room 313. Will Reedy is temporarily scheduled as student leader.

Beginning Sunday, the Daily Nebraska will carry the complete program of the activities connected with Religion and Life week.

"Tsk, Impractical," Miss Faulkner Says of Pillars

Alone they will stand. Twenty-four mighty but rather lonely looking pillars. They will hold nothing up, they will hold nothing down. They'll just stand there. In short, just what part do the pillars play in the construction of the new entrance to the athletic field?

asks Miss Katherine Faulkner, assistant professor in the fine arts department.

"My personal opinion is that they just had the columns lying around and could find nothing better to do with them," said Miss Faulkner.

She feels that the entire decorativeness of the pillars is overshadowed by their impracticalness, that a thing is much more effective if it is both practical and decorative.

The dance, sponsored by the Union, will be preceded by an hour rally dance which will begin at 7:30. The Union dance will begin at 9 o'clock.

Bonnie Parsons received much publicity last spring when she finished her junior year in high school and went on tour as a singer with Jimmie Joy. A number of musicians rate her as one of the most up and coming songstresses in the country.

Admission for the rally dance will be 10 cents while admission for the Union dance is 25 cents.

Dr. Joy P. Guilford, professor of psychology, has been invited to return to the University of Southern California to teach in the first session of the summer school. He will give courses in personality and human variability.

Union Announces Haun for Friday

Dance Features Bonnie Parsons' 'Joy' Songs

Students will swing to the rhythms of Dave Haun and listen to the "joy" singing of Bonnie Parsons, Lincoln high school songstress who spent last summer singing with Jimmie Joy's top swing band, at the Union, Friday evening.

This dance, sponsored by the Union, will be preceded by an hour rally dance which will begin at 7:30. The Union dance will begin at 9 o'clock.

Awgwan Features Beauty Contest for Grid Heroes

November Issue Comes Out November 18

Punny articles, thrilling stories, and unusual features topped off by a "Beauty Contest" for members of the Cornhusker football squad, will highlight the December football issue of the Awgwan, campus humor magazine.

The magazine will appear on the news stands Nov. 18, with articles and stories done by a number of new writers. George Frischer will give the age old epic, "Murder on the Gridiron," a new and unusual treatment while Betty Roach will present another short version of typical campus life.

Robert Hemphill, after considerable research, has brought forth a lengthy treatise on "Different Types of Criminals."

Wit in its prime will be featured in the article, "Team Songs" by Norman Harris, sports editor of the Daily Nebraskan. The article marks Harris' first attempt for the "funny mag."

According to Virginia Geister, editor, the football "beauty contest" should be one of the most outstanding features which will be attempted by the magazine this year.

A complete "rogues gallery" of all of the players eligible for the title of "beauty queen" will be run along with a brief statement on their qualifications. Ballot will be found in each copy and these ballots are to be returned to the Awgwan with the name of the favorite "beauty" on it.

A questionnaire for football fans and a number of "Trite Sayings from Movies" will add much to the already full edition.

Kosmet Club Workers Meet Today at 5 P. M.

Kosmet Club will hold an important meeting for all workers this afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to Don Moss, president. The group will meet in the Club's office, room 307 of the Union, and every worker is urged to be present.

Drama Tyros Make Debut

Sixteen students who were successful in the recent tryouts opened to the whole student body by the Studio Theater made their public debut last night when that organization presented its second program of the year. Only two players who took part in last night's program were not members of the general tryout group.

"Star Struck" and "Waiting for Lefty" the two plays which made up the program were directed by Grace Hill and Robert Johnston respectively. The first play was an exaggerated comedy dealing with an average day in the life of a big box office drawing card.

The second play dealt with the social effects of a big strike. Action in this play was not confined to the stage, but was carried on in all parts of the auditorium.

Students who took part in "Star Struck" were: Lucille Soderholm, Helen Hart, Louise Mackey, Faith Medlar, Reba Gillespie, Betty Lehnman, and Libby Blazkovec.

Campbell Leaves for Wisconsin

Bruce Campbell left yesterday for Madison, Wis., where he will represent the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism organization, at the annual national convention. Campbell is a news editor on the Daily Nebraskan staff.

Opening today and continuing thru Sunday, the convention will feature roundtable discussions on pertinent journalism topics and problems of the day, and talks by such noted speakers as H. R. Knickerbocker, International News Service correspondent, recently returned from Europe where he covered the Czechoslovakian crisis, and Ralph Peters, editor of the Quill magazine, official publication of Delta Chi.

The Wisconsin university chapter of the organization is acting as host to the convention this year, and a number of the sessions will be held on the campus.

PBK to Elect High Ranking Seniors Soon

Phi Betas Inaugurate Change to Admit New Members This Fall

A few seniors distinguished in scholarship may be elected to Phi Beta Kappa during the first semester of this year, in accordance with a change made last year in the Nebraska chapter's constitution, announced Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, yesterday.

The provision indicates that a preliminary, or first election may be held this year, in order that distinguished seniors may participate in the activities of Phi Beta Kappa while they are still in school. The chapter also hopes to emphasize the merit and worth of scholarship throughout the university year.

Active PBK members, and department chairmen, whether they are members or not, may file their nominations for the seniors with Secretary Hicks after certification to the chapter that all regular requirements have been fulfilled. The nominees may then be elected to early membership.

The blanks necessary for nomination have been mailed, and according to Secretary Hicks, it is expected that the chapter will act upon the nominations before its second meeting of the year, on Nov. 21.

W.A.A. Plans Sports Night

To forward the cure of "spectatoritis" and to make merry in general, W. A. A. sponsors its first Sports Night for the entire university tonight from 7 to 8 o'clock in Grant Memorial.

Coebs and fellows alike are invited to come and play, bringing their dates if they wish. Badminton, miniature golf and Nebraska ball will fill the hour. The activity has been limited to three sports in order to further co-operation and enthusiasm in a few games rather than spread out the crowd over several.

According to Pauline Bowen, general chairman in charge of the affair, working with her are Patricia Pope and Hortense Casady.

The W. A. A. council will be on hand to launch the sports, according to Bonnie Burn, W. A. A. president. "Everyone has had loads of fun in past Sports Nights," said the president, "and we expect this one to outdo all others. It's the more merrier you know."

Another Sports Night is planned for next semester, at which different games will be played.

Pan-Hel Filings Close Today

Pan-Hellenic scholarship filings close at noon today at the office of the Dean of Women in Ellen Smith hall. Five scholarships of $35 will be awarded by the association at the annual Pan-Hellenic scholarship tea which will be held Nov. 18 in the Union.

Eligible for the scholarships are junior and sophomore women, belonging to sororities, who are partially self-supporting, who are carrying 12 hours, and who have an average that is at least 85. Application blanks may be secured at the office of the Dean of Women.

New Barb Paper Goes on Stands

"Barb Bulletin," publication which deals entirely with unaffiliated students news, made its initial appearance on the University campus yesterday. The bulletin carries complete accounts of all intramural sports for both men and women, and gives the social calendar for the coming week.

Art Hendrickson is editor of The Bulletin which is the official publication of the Barb Union.
