This huge week end at its demise...with fond memories now of shouting, dancing, football, house parties, and lack of study...at open houses after the game Saturday were Dolores Bors and Lew Nordgren, Beta, at the Alpha Chi House...at the Pi Phi were Jane Shaw and Burdette Wertmann, Sig. Alph...Betty Hedstrom and Bob Thornton, another Sig. Alph, were "alums come back" at the Delta Gamma house...and a candy passing of the week end was that of Louise Davidson Weiss at the SDT house...at the Sigma Chi house party Friday night were Thais Ann Haley, Gamma Phi, and Don Meier, and Bill Wade, Chi Phi and Phil Armstrong, another Gamma Phi...visiting the Kappa house this week end is Sue-bucket Hesbacher—who is of course Phi Delt-ing it with George Bacon...and at the ATO house is Armin West, visiting from Red Oak, Ia...at the AOPi buffet supper Sunday night are Ruth Wilbur and Bob Aden, Beta, who have just decided to do the steady stuff...and Jane Pratt with Herb Knox, DU, and Virginia Rapp with Doug Hall, Kappa Sig...at the same party, but going different ways were Theta Jessica Mutz and SAE John Upson...she had a date with a Farm House...pffff? ??...what of the SDT triumvirate composed of Rubnitz, Smeerin, and Meyerson?...local game color was brightened by Kappa Newell and Beta Gannon, impressive ceremony before tussle, fur coats and bright hats, more spontaneous pep...all of which makes this a corker of a week end, the climax capped being Tracy at the Turnpike tonite...and Thanksgiving Thoughts uppermost in innermost thoughts...

And here's the week end on review. Friday night's most entertaining party goes to the Sigma Chi's who really did the Armistice celebration up right. In front of the house was barb wire stretched across the front lawn, the wreckage of an airplane, an army truck, and other things suggestive of the party's theme.

Throughout the house were machine guns, and other decorations. The Sigma Chi and Phi Psi house mothers were dressed in Red Cross uniforms. Colonel and Mrs. Oury acting as chaperons, made the party complete.

Students will have their first opportunity to meet the leaders this afternoon at a reception to be held in the Union from 3 to 5 o'clock, and at teas and dinners to be held at various churches.

Addressing students faculty and,

During the course of the evening, the lights went off, and flashes and firecrackers went off outside. At the same time, over a loud speaking system, someone announced an air raid, and that everyone should take to cover. The sentinels then passed out tin helmets with Sigma Chi on them to all the girls. Afterwards doughnuts and coffee were served.

Alpha Sigma Phi pledges had a hayride for Don Gonzales, newly elected president. Friday night. Afterwards, they went back to the house to dance and eat. There were two hayracks, and out in the middle of nowhere, one of the racks broke down. And my, but it was a nice walk home.

Noticeably present were Don Gonzales with Mary Toller; Lynn Miller with Louise Oteo, Sigma Kappa; Jack Jackson without a Delta Kamma; "Sidney" Bradley with Lois Culvert, Phi Mu; and Guy Holland with Jean Sundell, a new A. O. Pi pledge.

Beta's open house party last evening had among its guests Tom Grimes and Milton Peterson of Omaha. Also Beta's of Denver university, namely Jim Sweeney with Betty Leonard, Tri Delt; Bob McComas with Pat Cooper, Delta Gamma; Bob Bartholomew with Helen Daly, Chi O; Don Kunz with Mary Ellen Comerford, Chi O, and Jim Gooding with his family.

The D. U. pledges had a typical freshman house party with "Boards" as the theme. Boards were hung around the house with each active's name on one. In between the boards were red and white crepe paper streamers. A large illuminated '42 was placed in the fireplace.

Part of the decorations were two pictures, one of an active boarding a freshman entitled, "Wade into 'em" for none other than that he-man Wade Razer, and another picture of a freshman tubbing an active, entitled "Freshmen Hunt revenge" in Bob Hunt's honor.

Likewise were the Pi K. A.'s Twelfth Street Brawl, Delt annual hard times party, Kappa Sig barn dance, Sigma Kappa Hades party, Sammie and Alpha Chi house parties.

for the only time they will be admitted, the general public of Nebraska. Dr. Jones will speak tonight on "What Can We Believe in an Age of Science," an address said to have thrilled students in several countries. Dean T. J. Thompson will preside over the evening meeting, assisted by Dr. Ray Hunt and Rev. L. W. McMullan. A choir of university singers under the direction of William Tempel will sing, and Paul LeBar, organist, will play for the service.

Jones Broadcasts.
E. Stanley Jones will broadcast over KFAB this morning at 9:30 on the subject of "Christian Realism," and is scheduled to speak at the evening convocation in the Union Friday. According to R. B. Henry, letters have come from all over Nebraska, as far as Scottsbluff, asking that seats be reserved in the coliseum for tonight's convocation. Most of the Nebraska colleges are sending delegations to the meeting, including Hastings college, Wesleyan and Doane. Corn Cobs will usher for to-

Upswept Coiffure Dying After Valiant Struggle

The upswept coiffure is dying a hard death after a valiant struggle. By next fall, I'll wager, all the combs, barrettes and invisible hairpins will long since have been thrown into the waste paper basket.

Why? Mostly because women have been spoiled. The brushed-up hair is too complex after the easy to do pageboy and long bob. And besides it is mighty hard for a lass to have every little curl stacked up in time for an eight-thirty. Then, too, getting it to school intact is a problem, for one little zephyr, is liable to blow down the whole business. Those fluffy little doll hats, the only kind that can be worn with the high curls, just won't be taken up by girls used to saddle shoes and ankle socks. Scarfs don't work either because no hair can be seen at all.

Looks Good in Movies.
This fall quite a number of girls came back to school with their hair done up, probably due to a womanly desire for change and improvement. Little by little the devotees have become discouraged and have gone back to the long bob until now there are probably not more than a half dozen upswept coiffures on the whole campus. It's an awful strain on a girl to be told first by one pal that she looks swell with her hair up and by another that long hair really is more becoming.

It's not the altitude, but the exposure that is the trouble with this style. The front is generally pretty cute, but the back—There's where artistic talents fail. Even if a girl does strike up the right technique and her neck isn't too long or her ears too well proportioned it's only a few minutes until the hair starts sliding down. There isn't much can be done about this unless a girl could always make sure to sit in the last row in class or else start walking backwards when someone comes up behind her.

Devotees Discouraged.
It must be admitted tho that unswept hair does look mighty smooth in the movies and in the advertisements and on a very few lucky individuals, but it definitely hasn't struck a popular note with the majority.
This hair dress has been given more publicity than any style in a long time. As long as two years ago Vogue Magazine and all the hair dressers' journals began predicting upswept hair. For seasons it was almost completely ignored. Then this season the doll hats brought the unswept bob into the limelight. Even so, it still hasn't taken hold of woman's fancy and probably will soon be forgotten.

300 Visit Ag Omaha Day

Annual Program Fetes Livestock Men

More than 300 Omaha buyers, livestock men and commission firm representatives and members of their families came to Lincoln this morning by special train for their 32nd annual Omaha day visit to the ag college.

Dean W. W. Burr welcomed the guests to open the program given by the animal husbandry department. He introduced Wm. J. Loeffel, acting head of the department, who gave a short history of the college's activities along livestock lines. He pointed out that the cooperation of the livestock breeders and feeders in the state had aided the college in its experimental work and a great deal of progress has been made.

"It's difficult to place a dollar and cents value on findings in experimental work," he declared, but new methods and their practicability have been checked at the Nebraska experiment station and been made available to Nebraska livestock raisers.

Members of the college of agriculture livestock and meats judging teams were presented. Both these teams won first at the American Royal at Kansas City, and the trophies they won were formally presented to Dean Burr as a representative of the college. Members of the livestock team gave a demonstration of contest judging. Some of the University's prize winning livestock was paraded before the visitors.

Prof. R. R. Thalman of the department of animal husbandry was in charge of the program. Musical numbers by members of the Alpha Gamma Rho and Farmhouse fraternities completed the program.

The Omaha visitors were given a luncheon after the morning program at the student activities building at which Dean Burr presided. They then went directly to the stadium in a body to attend the Pittsburgh-Nebraska football game.

Bizad Society Initiation To Hear Henry C. Lucas

Henry C. Lucas, province director of Missouri Valley, will address the initiation banquet of Delta Sigma Pi, bizad professional fraternity, this evening at the Union in parlor A.

Initiation will be held at 2:30 this afternoon. The new members will be Joe Saunders, Louis Marmo, Joe Anderson, Bob Gill, Claude Deato, Wayne Gaylen, Leslie Callahan, Dean Hiava and William Albrecht.

Give Him Time... He'll Get Places

Just biding his time... is Jack Stewart, Beta pledge, who believes in taking things easy while he's a freshman because he'll only be a freshman once... he hopes... Jack's a BMOC imported from Lincoln high this fall, the school that usually comes across with a few BMOC's in college... but Jack doesn't give himself credit for doing anything notable in college... he's going to take up law when he gets thru biz ad... that means following in the paternal footsteps... Jack's only claim to fame so far is his star performance on the Cornhusker team in the Rag-Cornhusker football game... the Rag won the game... perhaps Jack is just as well off sticking to his work on the Cornhusker, in way of writing and such... besides that, he's a Pershing Rifle pledge... we also hear that Jack's fraternity brothers ask his advice about the correct wearing apparel for the college man before they "step out" in style... since Jack took his place escorting a lovely freshman girl in the Union fashion show awhile back... going places on the campus, Jack's always seen with a different girl... so we suggest that sometimes when he's escorting some girl about campus, that he stop in at the HOTEL CAPITAL COFFEE LOUNGE for chop suey for two... on the house!

Utah Uni. Union Entices With 'Gin Fizz, Martinis'

Gin fizzes, scotch and sodas, and pink ladies may be purchased in the Union building coffee shop at Utah university.

Not only that, but you can see Joe College and Betty Coed enjoying a mint julep, Mickey Finn, dry Martini, or whisky sour almost any hour of the day. And their professors don't seem at all perturbed about it.

Neither do administration officials or state law officers, even although sale of alcoholic drinks is barred in Utah.

Explained L. L. Clair Likes, "bartender" in the Union:
"We figured that to entice students we'd offer some attractive menus—new names."
