Sigma Delta Tau Captures Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Cup; Alpha Xi Delta Second

Misses Kline, Lowe, Hillman, Steuteville, Marshall Win Awards

Honors for first in scholarship and first in academic progress went to Sigma Delta Tau sorority at the annual Pan-Hellenic scholarship tea held between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the ballroom of the Union. Capturing the second place trophy for the second time was Alpha Xi Delta.

Following these two sororities in rank for the first seven scholarship places were Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma and Delta Delta Delta.

Representing their respective sororities and receiving the cups for their groups were Josephine Ruzhitz, Sigma Delta Tau; Kathryn Horgan, Alpha Xi Delta; Betty Jane Hopewell, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Helen Pascoe, Chi Omega; Virginia Smith, Kappa Alpha Theta; Helen Catherine Davis, Delta Gamma; and Lois Enyeart, Delta Delta Delta.

The remaining eight sororities listed according to their rank included Kappa Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Phi, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Mu and Sigma Kappa.

Individual Awards

Individual scholarship awards of $31 to apply on next semester's tuition went to the Steuteville twins, Fern and Mary, Alpha Xi Delta; Mary Kline, Delta Gamma; Maxine Lowe and Lila Hillman, Chi Omega; and Elajo Marshall, Phi Mu. The awards are based on a "must" scholarship average of over 85 and the recipients must be either partially or wholly self-supporting.

Between 600 and 700 Greek letter women attended the tea and were introduced to a receiving line which included Mrs. C. S. Boucher, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, Mrs. Ada Westover, Mrs. O. A. Barber, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Cox, Mrs. Don Stewart, Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. C. A. Penton.

Autumn Decorations

Autumn shades were used in all of the appointments, featuring yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

The ballroom stage was arranged with a "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" setting, and a skit depicting this fairy tale was presented. Each of the seven dwarfs, representing the seven top ranking sororities, presented the cups to the top ranking sororities.

Snow White was enacted by Mrs. Charles Flansburg and the roles of the seven dwarfs were taken by Mrs. William Dalton, Mrs. Heath Griffiths, Mrs. John Wylie, Mrs. Woodrow Magee, Mrs. Frederick Patz, Mrs. Donald McDonald and Miss Betty Gilbertson.

This year's tea was planned by the officers of the city Pan-Hellenic and the various committees appointed for this annual affair.

Union Observes Thanksgiving

Special Dance, Games On Tap for Thursday

Thanksgiving dinners will be served in all the dining rooms of the Union Thursday. After that there will be ping pong, games and a radio for those not-going to the football game.

An extra long matinee dance, from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, features Friday's activities. Something new in the way of games will be the bingo games in the cafeteria Friday night with cakes and food given away as prizes.

Saturday night...

dance in the ballroom starting at 8 o'clock and... The dining rooms will be closed Friday and Saturday and opened again on Sunday.

Condra to Talk in St. Louis

Conservationists Hold Annual Convention

Dr. G. E. Condra, dean and director of the conservation and survey division, outstanding authority on geological stratifications of the mid-continent, will address the 20th annual convention of the Mississippi Valley association at St. Louis Monday afternoon on the subject "The Conservation of Land Water of the Missouri River Basin." Approximately 50 delegates from over the midwest, including businessmen, congressional officials and conservationists, will be present for the meetings.

Following the convention, Dr. Condra will visit the Universities of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas for the purposes of co-ordinating the permean survey. The dean is chairman of the northern great plains permean committee of the geological society of America and also holds a position on a similar international commission.

Educators Hear Labor Ideas on Universities

"What Labor Thinks of Education," was the theme for the November meeting of the School Administration club held Tuesday evening at the home of Dean and Mrs. F. E. Hendrik. Points of view were presented for the Workers Alliance, C.I.O. and A.F. of L. Mr. Fred Wilhelm, president of the club, introduced the speakers and conducted the business meeting. It was voted that there be no December meeting.

H. V. Kaltenborn Decries Neutral Policy of U. S.; Roosevelt Third Term

Lincoln Journal. Kaltenborn rejoices nation's return from "almost totalitarian."

By Ed Wittenberg.

In crisp, terse fashion, Hans Von Kaltenborn "Edited the News" for about 1200 Lincolnites Saturday evening, showing himself unfriendly to:

1. A third term for Roosevelt and interference in state elections by him.
 2. Chamberlain's "cowardly" attitude toward the dictators.
 3. Present application of "neutrality" by the United States and a formal Anglo-American alliance.
- He was definitely inimical to the fascist dictatorships and all their policies of aggression and persecution.
- The tall, portly, professional "dean" of radio commentators favored: The two-party system in America; a single seven year term for the president; firm action against Germany, Italy and Japan on the part of the democracies; revision of neutrality laws; "parallel action" by the United States and Great Britain.
- In a brief summary of the elections of Nov. 8, Kaltenborn rejoiced in the return of a strong,

Dormitory Plans Await PWA Check

Love Hall Excavation Nears Completion as 'Prints' Face Approval

Construction plans for the two new girls' dormitories will be submitted for PWA approval early this week according to Davis and Wilson, the architects. The excavating was completed last week, three weeks ahead of the required time, by the A. T. Stewart company. Bids on the construction of the buildings will be asked for about three weeks later, with the contracts being awarded in about 25 days.

The architect's plans must be approved by the PWA before the contracts can be let. There is no possibility that the PWA grant will not be awarded, L. F. Seaton of the University Dormitory corporation explained, as the PWA only checks the soundness of the construction plans.

The northwest dormitory of the unit will be named Love hall after Julia L. Love, wife of the former mayor, Don L. Love, who has contributed $55,000 for its construction. It will have a large bronze plaque in memory of Mrs. Love. The northeast section has not been named yet, but will probably be named after someone later, Mr. Seaton said Saturday.

The PWA granted $101,250 or 45 percent of the necessary $225,000 for the construction of the buildings. The rest will be raised by the University Dormitory corporation.

Stoke Leaves N.U. Post for Pennsylvania

Political Scientist Goes February 1 to Advise Government Institute

Dr. Harold W. Stoke, for seven years an associate professor in the political science department, resigned Friday to accept a position on the faculty at the University of Pennsylvania.

One of the most popular instructors on the Nebraska staff, Dr. Stoke will serve as advisor for the eastern institution's new institute of local and state government.

He will remain here until Feb. 1 when he will report for duty at his new post. His resignation will be officially acted upon by the regents at a later meeting.

"To University Students."

In a statement to the Daily Nebraskan yesterday, Dr. Stoke said: "I have enjoyed the students and faculty at the University very much, and leave them with deep regrets. One always feels dismayed at making a transition from the familiar and friendly to the unknown and untried."

TVA Supervisor

A year ago Dr. Stoke was granted a year's leave to become supervisor of training in public administration for the Tennessee Valley authority. His work there consisted in organizing courses for the training of persons already employed in administrative positions in the organization, for the purpose of providing them with a broader background and perspective with respect to government in general.

In addition, the position involved the supervising of a number of administrative apprentices, all of which was carried on in co-operation with the University of Tennessee. His experience in this field of personnel training was one factor that induced Pennsylvania authorities to seek his services.

The new government institute at the University of Pennsylvania was established by a special grant of $250,000 and is to cover a six year period. Essentially it was designed to interest and train young men for government administrative posts, and particularly for state and local positions.

At Nebraska Since 1930

Dr. Stoke joined the University of Nebraska faculty in 1930 from John Hopkins university and in the seven years that he has been here was voted one of the most popular professors on the campus. He has served on many committees and is at the present time in charge of the convocations series. He is author of many articles and a book entitled "Foreign Relations of the Federal States," besides being co-author of another volume "The Background of European Governments."

No successor to Dr. Stoke will be appointed for the second semester.

Pharmacy Obtains Grant

Medical Group Sends $250 for Research

Dr. Harold G. O. Holck of the college of pharmacy has received word the department of pharmacology has been given a grant of $250 to carry on a study of the possible effect of aging on digitalis, a chemical used today in the treatment of heart diseases. The grant has been provided by the council of chemistry and pharmacy of the American Medical Association. It enables Nebraska to participate in this research along with other leading institutions.

Digitalis is a medicinal substance contained in the leaves of a plant known as fox-glove. Dr. Holck will first be supplied with samples of the freshly manufactured product and then, to see if aging has any effect, digitalis that is several years old will be shipped to Lincoln to be used in the same experiment.

The grant, which is the maximum given by the medical association for such purposes, was made available to the university party because of the previous research completed here a year ago by Edwin L. Smith, graduate student from Shelton, and Dr. Holck which was essentially a comparative evaluation of digitalis preparations with the aid of several anesthetics.

PBK Names Fall Nucleus Monday Nite

Honorary Innovates Two-Semester Plan of Member Selection

Seniors elected to early Phi Beta Kappa membership will be announced by the society following a dinner meeting tomorrow evening at 6:15 in parlors XYZ of the Union.

According to Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, secretary of the Nebraska Phi Beta Kappa chapter, this is the first year in which the arts and science honorary has admitted first semester seniors into Phi Beta Kappa membership.

By right of a new rule passed last year this may be done if the seniors have completed the arts and science requirements at the end of their junior year and have Phi Beta Kappa standing in their subjects. Other students will be elected into the honorary at the usual time in March.

Following the dinner and announcement of the new members, Dr. Harold W. Stoke will address the group on "Impressions of the TVA." On leave from the university last year, Dr. Stoke joined the TVA to conduct work in public administration classes for the personnel and authority.

Ball Prices May Be Cut

Chancellor, Thompson To Confer With Oury

General admission price for the Military ball may be lowered from $2.00 to $1.25, the Daily Nebraskan learned late Saturday.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher, Dean T. J. Thompson and Col. W. H. Oury are to meet Monday to discuss the price matter, according to the information gained from reliable sources.

As the price arrangement now stands, R. O. T. C. officers in uniform pay $1.25 for their Military ball ticket and persons attending the ball who are not R. O. T. C. officers pay $2.00 for their tickets.

Complaint that the difference of 75 cents between the two types of tickets is an unfair discrimination was made to the dean early the past week by a small group of students.

The basis for complaint has been that (1) it is a university sanctioned affair with discriminations being made among university students and that (2) it opens the formal social season and so should have a one-price level.

The rebuttal of the military department is that it plans, arranges and underwrites the ball.

Ag Instructor Holland Aids Radio Programs

R. E. Holland, Ag college faculty member, will co-operate with radio station WAAW and with its farm service director, Bert M. Smith, in presenting a round table discussion on present day rural problems. This series will be initiated tomorrow at 11:20 o'clock and will be continued every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same time.

Student Ballot to Name Football Squad Adonis

That is the keynote struck by the November issue of the Agwan what with the humor magazine devoting the center spread to a beauty contest for the Cornhusker football squad members. Displaying the many features of each and every gridiron warrior, the Agwan includes a ballot where with the hero worshippers and masculine beauty loving undergrads may indicate their choice of the Nebraska Adonis.

The cover marks a new development in Agwanesque art, being photographs of football scenes in blocks spelling "N. U." set upon a scarlet background.

In keeping with the football theme of the issue is a questionnaire on gridiron terms. It includes such questions as: A goal post is (a) Emily Post's brother (b) A dog's best friend (c) What gets torn down in news reels. Also carrying out the football theme are numerous cartoons and a short story by George Frischer. The monthly page of candid camera shots taken at the Tasty Pastry by George Rosen goes to

William Clayton Tells Of Rheims Cathedral At First Vespers

Basing his talk on the material beauty of the Rheims cathedral and its influence on the young people of today, William Clayton, senior in the university, will speak at the vesper service of the Lincoln Cathedral choir today. This service, first in a series of 16 to be devoted to the heritage of young people from the cathedrals of the world, will be held at 5:30 o'clock in the Cornhusker ballroom.

The choir, under the direction of John M. Rosborough, will sing five numbers, the principal anthem being "Put Up Thy Head" by Dr. F. Melius Christiansen. Two other numbers by Dr. Christiansen will also be sung, "Welcome" and "O. Bow Thy Head," as well as "O Gladsome Light" by Sullivan and "Nunc Dimittis" by Gretchaninov.

Vesper Speakers

The next in the series of vesper programs will be given on Dec. 4 at which time Phyllis Chamberlain, senior in the university, will speak on the famous American cathedral in New York, St. John the Divine.

Speakers for the programs will include not only students from the University of Nebraska, but also from Creighton, Midland, Wesleyan, Hastings and Doane.

The vesper will be broadcast over KFOR as inquiries have come from all over the state from persons who are eager to hear the service but who are unable to attend.

Doors will open at 5 o'clock and the program will start promptly at 5:30 o'clock. Students and the general public of all religions are welcome and urged to attend.

Balazs, Kinnick Roll Up 14 Firsts, Jonesmen Make Two Goal Stands

BY JUNE BIERBOWER.

Nebraska won a 14-0 football game from Iowa yesterday, but that doesn't tell the story of a Husker team backed up in its own territory for nearly an entire two and a half quarters, or of holding twice within its own 10 yard line with only a one touchdown lead. The Hawkeyes, with Frank Balazs and Nile Kinnick leading a passing attack which rolled up practically every one of the Hawks' first downs, were unable to score when the Huskers jumped to the defense of their own goal line—once when the deadly Hawk passing attack had brought the ball to the Husker 2 yard line, and again in the third quarter when old faithful Charley Brock and Jack Dodd batted down a fourth down pass thrown from the Husker 5. Biff's boys counted first as Bob Mills recovered Frank Balazs' fumble on the Iowa 37 late in the first quarter. George Seeman had tackled the Chicagoan who was attempting to pass. Herman Rohrig made six over left tackle, and Jack Dodd swept the Iowa right side for 28 yards before safety man Eicherly bumped him out of bounds. Rohrig took the ball through left tackle again, and scored the first Husker touchdown made through an opposing line this year. Hermie's pounce with Phelps holding the ball, was good.

The Huskers scored their last seven points with three minutes left as George Porter, injured against Iowa State, led the way. Bus Knight had quick kicked out of bounds on the Iowa 1 yard line, where Nile Kinnick attempted to pass. Knight intercepted and ran to Iowa's 3, but for the third time a Nebraska interception was penalized on a clipping or holding foul. This one put the ball on the 24, and once more Jack Dodd came through with a 16 yard dash around the Iowa right end, with Porter, who had replaced Knight, doing the blocking. Butch Luther charged through to the 5 behind Porter, and then the Denver quarterback took it over. Bill Anderson added the extra point.

Block Intercepts

Now, though, to the major part of the day, which saw Iowa storm the Husker goal line almost continually from early in the second quarter until late in the last period when Charley Brock took a
