

SPORT NOTES

By Norman Harris

A.A.U. officials, meeting in Washington Friday decided that Lincoln would be the site of the 1939 outdoor track and field championship competition. Huskerland's foremost rival bidder was San Francisco, which wanted to stage the event in conjunction with its World Fair.

Maybe the A. A. U. heads thought the fair would detract from the importance and prestige of the meet, that perhaps people would consider the meet only a bit of the whole fair. In Lincoln, it's the whole show with no competition from anything hundreds of miles around.

Next Tuesday will find some 250 Nebraska high school senior football players making the rounds of Lincoln. The Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce, in staging its annual All-State High School Football rally does a great service to the University. Those high school football players who perhaps realize they care for nothing but football see a little more of the University, even though the get-together is primarily a football bull-session.

They learn, or they should, that there is a lot to the university besides football. Some of them realize that they must also get an education if they want to go to college, that football alone won't do that for them.

Even though no trips to Morrill hall or other academic cloisters are included on the program for Tuesday, these boys still will not be able to miss seeing thousands of students going to classes, not thinking about football, but thinking about getting their educations. Football here is in reality, something extra-curricular, and not the prime function of the university.

Tennessee's 168 pound Mr. Cafego, picked by Paramount's cameramen for their All-American looks 30 years old... should have heard the round of boos when Kl Aldrich was introduced as the center on Paramount's mythical selection... obvious slowing up of the basketball games in the picture at the Orpheum makes it surreal. Laisette's sure an actor! never have seen any player do the trick he did with that ball... between his knees, around his body went that ball, without a miss. That high dunk shot he used looked sweet, too... wonder what kind of English courses they had at Stanford.

Gymnasts Prepare for Busy Year

Two Returning 'N' Men Form Nucleus For Husker Squad

Working out every afternoon from 4 to 6 the Varsity gymnastic team is busy preparing for a very exacting schedule this year.

Of the five lettermen last year, only two are returning for competition. Don Glass is not in school this semester. Pete Kriescher will not compete this year due to a heavy class schedule, and Bill Leask will not be eligible to compete after the first semester as he will have the requirements for his degree fulfilled. This leaves only Roy Proffitt and Gains Cadwell returning of the "N" winners last season.

Able replacements from last year's yearlings crop makes the loss of these men less marked. Coming up are Stan Southwick, champion in the all university meet last year; Jake Geier, and Don Seidel, who placed in the meet; and Berl Kaufman, a new man this year.

Assisting head gymnastic coach Charles Miller to get the squad ready for competition is Ed Bignell, a two letter man who specializes in the flying rings and tumbling.

Injuries Bother Squads.

The incomplete schedule for the gymnasts already includes meets here with the University of Minnesota and the University of Iowa; meets away with the University of Colorado and Colorado State college of education; and participation in the Rocky Mountain A. A. U. championships.

Of the team members who are working out, Roy Proffitt, who participates in the flying rings, parallel bars, tumbling, and the side horse, has shown the most promise. He has been on the sidelines the past week with a wrist and arm injury sustained in a fall from the rings, but will be in suit again early this week.

Others who have shown up well and the events they participate in are: Gains Cadwell, side horse and parallel bars; Stan Southwick, horizontal bar and parallel bars; Jake Geier, side horse and flying rings; Don Seidel, tumbling, flying rings and horizontal bar; and Berl Kaufman, tumbling.

Kansas City imported him last weekend to play for a jamboree made it possible for us to obtain him."

The 1938 Leap Year party is the seventh annual event to be sponsored by Mortar Board, women's senior honorary. Committees in charge of its planning are as follows: Patricia Lehr, orchestra; Virginia Nolle and Josephine Rubnitz, arrangements and tickets; Helen Pascoe and Barbara Rosewater, publicity; Virginia Fleetwood and Ruthanna Russell, dinner; and Harriet Cummer and Betty Clements, invitations and chaperons. Other members of Mortar Board are Phyllis Chamberlain, president, and general chairman of the party, Velma Ekwall, Bonnie Burn, and Frances Boldman.

Traditionally, coeds send their dates corsages of vegetables or cactus, call for them, and perform all the little offices of opening doors and checking coats. Tickets for the affair are in charge of the Tassels and are $1.25 a couple.

Big-Six Swim Meet Given To Nebraska

Directors Make Major Sport of Six-Man Game

The annual Big Six swimming meet was awarded to the University of Nebraska at the yearly meeting of Big Six athletic directors held at Kansas City last week. The size of swimming teams was increased from nine to ten men.

Other work of this meeting made six man football played in smaller junior colleges be recognized as a major sport in considering eligibility. The rule adopted made two years of junior college six man football equivalent to participation in any major sport.

The directors were unable to decide on whether to appoint a commissioner to select contest officials.

The Big Six Indoor track meet will be held either at the University of Missouri or in the Kansas City Municipal auditorium, March 3 and 4. Wrestling championships will be held at Kansas City March 11, and the outdoor track, tennis and golf championships were awarded to Iowa State, May 19 and 20.

The directors asked the faculty members to approve the playing of Big Six members in the annual East-West game in San Francisco on New Years. Biff Jones, Nebraska football coach, and one of the two coaches of the West team, said he was making up his list of all stars and would announce it soon.

P. B. K. ANNIVERSARY

five real founders were John Heath, the society's moving spirit and first president, Thomas Smith, Richard Booker, Armistead, and John Jones.

War Causes Dissolution.

The second meeting on Jan. 5 brought four new men, and all nine took an oath of fidelity and were "severally initiated." At the third meeting, on March 1, 1777, 25 laws were adopted which formed the original constitution. Between Dec. 5, 1776, and Jan. 6, 1781, when the approach of the British army to Williamsburg forced the dissolution of the group, 50 men had been initiated and all are now termed as founders of Phi Beta Kappa. The mother chapter was revived many years later.

Among these 50 "founders" were five who later attained high positions of usefulness and prominence in life. These men were Heath, John Marshall, the great chief justice, William Short, whose chapter writing for the second and third chapters of PBK at Harvard and Yale started the systematic expansion of the fraternity, Archibald Stuart, and Bushrod Washington.

Bentley Interviews Columnist Bierbower

John Bentley, sports editor of the Lincoln Journal, interviewed June Bierbower, Daily Nebraskan sports columnist, last night, in the final broadcast of his nightly program, "I May Be Wrong," over KFOR.

Bentley's queries concerned Miss Bierbower's work as a sports writer and her impressions of football in particular.

Outclassed Visitors Lose Game 49-13

Yaffee Makes Eleven Tallies for Nebraska On Coliseum Maples

Coach "Chili" Armstrong's "B" team cagers opened their season yesterday afternoon at the coliseum by walloping a plucky but hopelessly outclassed Luther college aggregation to the tune of 49 to 13.

Yaffee paced the B team, amassing 11 points, while Snyder led the opposition, scoring 4 points. Jackson and Therien of the B team were second in scoring, getting 7 pointers apiece.

The B team took an early lead and led 14 to 0 after ten minutes; Luther got started then and at the half the score was 28 to 6. The second half was a duplicate of the first as the final score was 49 to 13.

Farmers Begin Meet On Tuesday

Lewis, Young Headline Annual Agricultural Conclave During Week

Hundreds of Nebraska farmers will join with the University college of agriculture in the annual winter farm meetings which begin Tuesday and continue thru Saturday.

Week's program will be headlined by the addresses of Brackett Lewis, internationally known farm-economist, and Dr. E. C. Young, of Purdue university.

Lewis will appear on the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation's convention program Tuesday afternoon. His speech, "Germany's political and economic expansion down the Danube," is built upon his personal experience during the 20 years' duration of his work in all of Europe and especially in the Baltic countries.

Topping Thursday's general session when he speaks on "Agriculture and the Price Level," Dr. Young will also appear on the economic sectional program.

Dairymen Meet Tuesday.

Tuesday and Friday of the week one of the larger groups at the meeting will be the Nebraska Dairymen's association. They will hear famed Michigan State college dairy authority Dr. C. F. Huffman, and Jack Nisbet, associate editor of Hoard's Dairyman, well known dairy magazine.

The national 4-H dairy demonstration team from Douglas county will demonstrate a buttermilk sherbet making process to the dairymen. Composing the team are Edwin Holling and Wallace Borman.

Thursday evening the annual dairy banquet will be held, with Fred Idste, assistant secretary of the Brown Swiss association, will act as toastmaster.

Nebraska Ball Reaches Finals

Alpha Chi, Gamma Phi Vie for Title Monday

Play in the intramural Nebraska ball tournament will draw to close after tomorrow's final game between the first Alpha Chi team and Gamma Phi. Gamma Phi downed Kappa Delta in the semifinals Friday by a score of 32 to 15. Alpha Chi will play by virtue of its defeat of the Phi Mu's on Thursday.

Uncle "Web" Says

"The Military Ball was a complete success. The Refreshing Rifles, Field Artillery, Presentation, and Pageant were handled without a slip-up. However the unexpected happened the command, "Fire," was given to the Field Artillery during their gunnery demonstration. The spectators, expecting to hear ear-ringing explosions from French 75's shrapnel suffered a let-down when the guns fired on empty shells.
"But you never get 'let down' when you send your clothes to the Evans."
