N.U. Coaches Make State Speech Tour

High School Gridders Hear Athletic Staff

Since the end of football season, Husker coaches and players have been busy attending banquets over the state, giving speeches, shaking hands, and complimenting various high schools for successful seasons or for winning conference titles or doing honor to the seniors of the different high schools.

Kate Smith Picks Brock

Husker Star Places On All-Collegiate Squad

Charley Brock, Nebraska's star center, will be announced as winning a place on Kate Smith's All-Collegiate football squad in her broadcast over the Columbia network tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. This squad of three teams has been chosen by a direct poll of 500 college football coaches. Final selection was effected by an executive board of outstanding coaches composed of Jim Crowley, Fordham university, chairman; Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern; Frank Murray, University of Virginia; "Babe" Hollingbery, Washington State; Homer Norton, Texas A. & M., and Wallace Wade of Duke university.

Omaha 'N' Club Honors-Huskies

Bierman, Brock, Dodd Address Grad Athletes

Nebraska's football squad was honored last night in an annual banquet sponsored by the Omaha "N" club. Despite a losing season, the banquet went off with its usual zest. Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota's Golden Gophers was the guest speaker of the evening, but the crowd wanted most to see Charley Brock and Jack Dodd, both seniors and on most All Big Six teams.

An autographed football was given away for a door prize by Hugh Wallace toastmaster. Husker game movies ended the program.

During the broadcast which followed the dinner, it was stated that Major Jones is now in Washington, attempting to raise federal funds to enclose the north end of the stadium.

The thing might indicate that bigger and better surprises are yet to come.

Boys like to receive such things as photographs, billfolds, ties, pipes and even electric shavers. But if you are Scotch, ladies, here is something which will prove to be the acme of revelation. The odds are 8 to 1 that "he" will be satisfied if you do not give him any gift for Christmas. Whether it is mainly pride or financial consideration, we cannot say, but why be interested in the "why" of such things?

A Fur Coat, Please. If "mothaw" and "fathaw" want to make daughter's Christmas joy-laden, a fur coat will do the trick. However, some of the girls who answered the questionnaire seem to have a great deal of faith in their seductive ability, for they have asked for bedroom furniture, dishes, linen and other little household handies. Better "get your man" first, girls.

According to the survey, a Ford V-8 would make almost any man's Christmas a delightful occasion. Clothing, watches or just hard cash would do the trick for most fellows, too, or had you already guessed? "And Santa, I promise to be a good little child until Christmas, at least, if you will only bring me these things," wrote the "kids" in their letter, which accomplished three ends: voicing of their personal wants, material for the advertising class, and a helpful hint for mystified Christmas shoppers.

HOME EC SESSIONS

(Continued from Page 1.) istration is rehabilitating nearly 12,000 Nebraska farm families was revealed by Miss Florence Atwood, associate state director, during the morning session. The rehabilitation program is being carried out in all 93 counties of the state.

Another major activity of FSA farm tenant purchase, is designed to help farmers by purchasing farms under the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act. Last year approximately $200,000 was allotted to Nebraska for this purpose. Indicative of the effect of the drought years on Nebraska agriculture is the fact that more than

Deck Tennis Meet Progresses

Fifth Round to End By Saturday Noon

The fourth round of the girls intramural deck tennis tournament was finished last night and tentative plans are for the completion of it before vacation. The fifth round must be completed by this Saturday at noon. It is necessary that the opposing teams contact each other and arrange for games.

W.A.A. Sponsors Bowling Party

Coeds Gather for Free Affair at 1 Saturday

All girls of the university are invited to the W. A. A.'s free bowling party at the Lincoln Bowling alleys Saturday afternoon. All 12 alleys will be open from 1 to 2 o'clock and half of them for another hour.

Pauline Bowen, vice president of W. A. A., is planning and carrying out this gathering for the benefit of the coeds.

First come first served will strictly apply and those who are there first and on time will be allowed to play for a whole hour. This entire afternoon will be free and all girls whether they know how to play or not are urged to attend and learn.

5 million dollars in direct relief has been spent during the past three years, Miss Atwood said. This grant program gives direct relief to families to tide them over until they get another crop. These grants provide needy families with medical aid, food, clothing and shelter.

Thirty-six Nebraska farm women who are county chairmen of home demonstration project clubs for the first time this year were honored in the Wednesday afternoon session. Miss Mary-Ellen Brown, state leader of home demonstration work, sketched the growth of project clubs in the state from slightly over 300 in 1924 to over 1,800 at the present time with an enrollment of 29,068.

Mentors Drill Entire Squad For Sodaks

Sophomores Randall, Fitz Set for Starting Lineup Saturday Night

Stepping up the pace of basketball workouts, Coaches W. H. Browne and A. J. Lewandowski put the entire squad through a long offensive practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for the opening game Saturday night at the coliseum against a strong South Dakota five.

Centers Al Randall and Bob Therian were given the most individual attention trying to make the most out of their superior height. The tentative starting lineup of Bill Kovanda and Al Werner at forwards, Randall at center, Don Fitz and Bob Elliott at guards remained the same yesterday, although there may be a change when the team trots out on the floor Saturday night.

Two sophomores will undoubtedly start against South Dakota. Don Fitz will fill the shoes of Bob Parsons, last year's choice for Big Six guard and Al Randall will start at center. The outcome of this season depends a great deal on these two sophomores. Harry Pitcaithley and Jimmy Taylor, both new faces will see lots of action. Also in reserve will be Grant Thomas and Lloyd Grimm both lettermen. Frank Tallman, minor letterman at forward, Irv Yaffee, Bruce Duncan, Max Hulbert and Bob Therian all up from last year's "B" team.

Sophs to Figure In Track Glory

HOOP SHOTS

NO. 1. AL RANDALL.

Six feet seven, this 210 pound athlete virtually scrapes the beams in the coliseum. He towers over his mates like the Eiffel tower over the roofs of Paris. He shows promise of becoming one of the best pivot men in Cornhusker cage history. If he does as well in university competition as he did in high school competition, Nebraska cage fans will be joyful for three years.

Al hit the all state peak in high school, playing for Cornie Collin's South High Packers in Omaha. Collin was responsible for Al's progress on the court.

Usually, those men, tall and heavy as Al, seem a bit awkward on the floor. In this case, it's different for Randall handles himself with as much ease and grace as do his smaller mates.

His backboard work, plus his height, plus his basket shooting ability, plus his defensive ability, should add up to few worries for Coach Browne at center during the next three years.

who were counted on to make a good showing will not be out this season due to knee injuries received in football. Both also want to put more time on their scholastic work.

A Wheaton collegian wanted to check out the ton sized dictionary overnight, but the librarian said, "sorry, we don't let magazines go out overnight." "But," persisted the student. "this is just a pamphlet."

But Weir Says Much Material Still Needed

Nebraska university track men have been working out all fall now, but Coach Ed Weir still thinks there is a lot of material in school not out for track.

Sophomores will play a part in the success of this track season as there are more promising sophomores this year than seen in recent years, Ed Weir says. Lloyd Wright, former Beatrice sprinter who took most of the Tri-Color events last year will help Marvin Plock. Lincoln Journalist will help Harwin Dawson, Jack Dodd and Marvin Plock back from last year. Bus Knight of Lincoln and Ed Wibbels have the javelin field to themselves and Ray Prochaska will also be in good form. Bob Mills and Bill Pfeiffer will take care of the weights along with Wibbels and Prochaska, both sophomores. Bob Simmons and Bob Beltz will be the main entrants in the 440 Al Kuper, Wilson Andrews, John Brownlee, Del Moore and Mike Delfs will take care of the 880 and mile runs. Ted Legate, Ed Huwatt and Harold Scott will be the pole vaulters out expected to make points. In the high jump, Leonard Gauger and Royal Kahler will be the main candidates. The Huskers will try to take their third straight indoor conference crown this year.

Townsend Studio is offering several attractive style photographs at unusual prices for Christmas delivery if ordered by Dec. 15.—Adv.

SPORT NOTES

By Norman Harris

Japanese wrestlers representing Waseda university will open Kansas State's wrestling schedule at Manhattan tomorrow night. The foreign squad, on a good will tour of the United States, includes four members who are "black belt" judo men. They will display their mat style in exhibition matches.

Some of the names of the orientals are Sakae Kusabayashi, Masatoji Hayashi, Akira Michishi and other unpronounceables.

K-State set a new record for home game crowds this year with a total of 38,787 spectators in four games. Mizzi's beating was witnessed by 7,744. Kansas scored a nipped by 15-13. Washburn went to a crushing defeat. Last year's Indiana tussle here at Nebraska drew 39,380, and once more 40,000 jammed the Husker stadium to watch Notre Dame perform—and lose.

Beginning today, and appearing every few days during basketball season will be a short feature concerning one or two of Coach Harold W. Browne's cagers. Hope you enjoy them.

Wonder how many jobs all these banquets and stuff are going to get these senior footballers the nation over. Every college goes on a spree and expresses its appreciation in the form of a few free meals for a month or so after football season closes—but that still doesn't spell jobs. The meals do come in handy however.

The all university wrestling tourney should bring warm benedictions from Larry Adam's throat. The hefty grappling coach saw plenty of potential championship material wrangle over the coliseum mat. This Sammy Salerno, five time A. A. U. midwestern champ at 125 pounds, should bring many points to the Cornhusker side of the ledger ere long. Dale Ruser, former state high school champ from Omaha South is another bright prospect. With Knight back from last year, Lee Claire and others, wrestling honors in the Big Six seem quite likely to nestle in the fold of Cornhuskerland before the season is over.

Greatly pleased by the Kosmet Klub skits put on by Delta Gamma, Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi were the 225 high school footballers and coaches Tuesday night. One of them could
