

DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Student Newspaper of the University of Nebraska

2-408

VOL. XXXIII NO. 64

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1938

FIVE CENTS

Hope Wanes For Athletic Appropriation

P.W.A. Funds Too Far Depleted to Provide For Nebraska Grant

Hope for a university athletic service building waned yesterday as Major Lawrence "Biff" Jones, director of Nebraska university athletics and head football coach returned from Washington with news that PWA funds were too depleted to provide the $125,000 appropriation which would insure construction of the proposed unit. Also turned down by PWA officials was the request for $38,000 to build a new dormitory at Curtis branch of the agricultural college.

MAJOR JONES.
"...hopes are not dead".

"Hope for the building has waned somewhat, but is far from dead. We are still hoping that our request for the grant will be approved in the future. The fact that our present request was not flatly refused was much more pleasing than if the grant had been denied altogether," stated Major Jones.

Would Cost $275,000.

Construction of the athletic service building would require $275,000, with the $125,000 asked of PWA representing a fraction over 45 percent of the total, strictly in accordance with provision set down by the government. The same percentage is true of the appropriation asked for the proposed unit at Curtis.

Plans for the service building were submitted to officials in Washington late last summer and hope had been entertained that the grant requested would be provided. Previous conferences on the financial setup in the planning had been attended by L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary who had agreed to the 55 percent of the cost to be provided by the athletic department.

White Announces Debate Tryouts

Contestants to Argue on Democracy Action

Intercollegiate debate try-outs for second semester will be held about Jan. 11 according to an announcement made by Coach H. A. White, Wednesday. Resolved, that collective action of the world's democracies is necessary to guarantee survival, the Missouri Valley conference question, will be discussed. Another question will probably also be used.

Any man who has had at least one year at the university and is carrying 13 hours is eligible to tryout. No previous debating experience is required. Bibliographies for the question are on the bulletin board at 111 Andrews hall. Those interested are ask to take one. Books are already on reserve in the university library.

At least two teams will be selected according to the coach. The men chosen for these teams will be able to register for English 96 and will receive two hours credit.

Tap Dancing Hobby Group Meets Tonight

Members of the tap dancing hobby group will meet tonight at Ellen Smith for their weekly tap lesson under the leadership of Miss Mary Kline. The group is sponsored by the Coed Counselor board.

54 Scholars Reap Honors At Ag Convo

Honoraries Announce Membership, Awards; C. C. Wiggins Speaks

Fifty-four students of the University of Nebraska college of Agriculture were honored yesterday morning for their scholastic attainment at the annual honor convocation held on the ag campus. Among those honored were newly elected members to honorary agricultural and home economics fraternities and sororities.

High spots of the program were an address by Dr. C. C. Wiggins, chairman of the horticulture department on "Trees," and the presentation of the Alpha Zeta and Omicron Nu scholarships to Milo Tesar, Tobias and Helen Claybaugh, Lincoln. These were the highest award made at the morning convocation.

Alpha Zeta Elects.

Following are the scholarship honors awarded:

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, elected: Julius Andresen, Omaha; Monte Baker, North Platte; Loren Biggs, Humboldt; Rex Brown, Geneva; Lawrence Buller, Utica; Roger Cunningham, Gurley; George Godding, Lincoln; Thomas King, Albion; Jean Lambert, Ewing; John Lonnquist, Waverly; Will Pitner, Stratton; Harold Schudel, North Loup; and Lawrence Treake, Waco.

Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority named: Mabel Childs, Belden; Angelene Helleberg, Kearney; Marian Hoppert, Lincoln; and Marie Willey, Lincoln.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics sorority, elected: Ruth Browne, Thermopolis, Wyoming; Mabel Childs, Belden; June Erickson, Stromsburg; Mary Gilbertson, Lincoln; Gwen Jack, Tekamah; Joyce Kovanda, Exeter; Alberta Newell, Powell; Charlotte Peckham, Hardy; Helen Scheve, Plymouth; Marian Smrha, Milligan; Helen Thomas, Red Cloud; and Marion Wilson, Valley.

Freshmen Honored.

The ten freshmen men high in scholarship were: Everett E. Alsbury, Parks; Harold F. Borman, (Continued on Page 2.)

Economist Analyzes Fascist Aims

Melchior Palyi Predicts Ultimate Dependence Upon Democracies

Pointing out that the capital needing fascist nations must eventually turn to capital possessing nations such as U. S. and England in order to obtain actual working capital, Dr. Melchior Palyi, internationally known economist, addressed an all university convocation in the Temple at 11 o'clock Wednesday.

An authority in the field of economics, the Hungarian-born Palyi brought all his past experience as advisor to the Reichsbank, Deutsche and Austro-Hungarian National bank economist, and as research professor and director to bear upon the discussion of fascist imperialism.

Systematically reviewing and interpreting in a Hungarian accent, Dr. Palyi spent the greater part of his address in analysis rather than criticism or prophecy.

Reviews Imperialism.

Explaining that an understanding of the imperialistic policies employed in the past is necessary for a complete comprehension of the present fascist imperialistic policy, Dr. Palyi launched into a chronological review of the types of imperialism. He defined five types: robber, feudal, merchantile, capitalism and fascism. Robber imperialism was employed by Genghis Kahn who took territory by force and then plundered and pillaged it. Feudal imperialism was the type employed by lords who took territory by force and then worked the land by vassals whom

(Continued on Page 2.)

Geology Honorary To View Pictures

Prof. Loeninghoener To Show Trip Films

Prof. Gilbert L. Loeninghoener, of the department of geology at Midland college, will show colored movies and slides at an open house meeting of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity, tonight at 7:30 in room 20 of Morrill.

The movies, taken by Prof. Loeninghoener, who is reputed to be an excellent photographer, show scenes from the Midland college geology field trip taken during the past summer, and cover Yellowstone and Glacier national parks and other Rocky mountain areas. The meeting is open to all who are interested.

Current "Schooner" Marks Anniversary of Publication

Twelve-Year Period Of Magazine Observed

Completing its twelfth year of publication, the winter issue of the Prairie Schooner appears on the stands today. Editor Dr. L. C. Wimberly characterized this issue as being one of the most well-rounded numbers since it first appeared in January of 1927.

In this month's publication is the poetry of five poets, short stories, articles and the familiar Ox Cart. Weldon Kee, a frequent contributor, is the author of "So Cold Outside." One of the most interesting features is "Phantom Airships of the Nineties" written by Rudolph Umland, editor in chief of the Nebraska State Guide.

Nationally Known.

The Prairie Schooner holds a place among the highest class literary magazines of America and has become one of the institutions for which the university is widely known. Bound copies are kept on file in such libraries as at the University of Chicago, Princeton, and Harvard.

Commenting on the twelfth anniversary of the Schooner, Dr. Wimberly states that it has never limited its contributors to the university. While both university professors and students frequently have had material printed, nearly every state in the Union has been represented. Occasionally even English authors have sent in articles.

A Famous History.

Among the faculty members who have had articles printed are John D. Hicks, former dean of Arts and Science college and now at the University of Wisconsin; J. O. Hertzler, chairman of the department of sociology; Dr. Louise Pound; and Gilbert Doane, formerly head librarian here and now at the University of Wisconsin.

J. E. Le Rossignol, dean of Bizad college, has written a short story for the magazine, and Herbert Yenne of the speech department has contributed a play. Student and alumni names appearing include Loren C. Eiseley, Weldon Kee, Rudolph Umland, Fred Koch and Norman Bolker.

Bess Streeter Aldrich, Marie Sandoz and John G. Neibardt are among the famous literary personages who have written for the magazine.

Cunningham, Miss Kidd Head Prom Committee

Englund, Waugh, Stiner, Wolfe, Misses Wheeler, Steuteville, Clemans, Waugh, Henn Also Named

Engineers Elect Bailey

Sigma Tau President To Head Display Week

More than 225 engineering students turned out yesterday to elect Raymond Bailey, mechanical engineer, as chairman of Engineers Week. John Cramer, civil engineer, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Each division of the engineering college was represented in the election by one candidate. Bailey polled 181 votes to his opponents 47; while Cramer polled 155 votes to his opponent's 71. Bailey ran against Tom Long, representative of the agricultural engineers. Cramer's opponent was Hal Moyer, representative of the chemical engineers. Only a few students inserted names of individuals other than those of the regular candidates on the ballots.

Bailey is now president of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society, a member of Pi Tau Sigma, national mechanical engineering honorary, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics society.

Cramer is a member of Sigma Tau, the American Society of Civil Engineers student branch, the Society of American Military Engineers, and cadet brigade colonel.

By virtue of their victory in yesterday's election Bailey and Cramer will be in charge of the planning and supervision of the annual engineers week to be held this year during the first week in May.

Anderson Fulfills Trip

Life Week Delegate Returns Via Plane

Lewis Anderson, senior, chosen to represent the American university's reactions to Religion and Life Week at a convention of the Federal Council of Churches in New York.

Arriving in Buffalo last Wednesday, he reported Nebraska's impression to a convention of the 300 men, outstanding Protestant leaders. The biennial meeting represented 23 denominations, or about 20 million people. Besides hearing the report of the Student Mission which took in 15 colleges and universities, the convention formulated plans for a World Council of Churches to meet in 1940 somewhere in Europe for the purpose of organizing a peace program.

Looks at Niagara.

Anderson also spent several hours with Dr. Paul Johnston, former Lincoln pastor, who was a Presbyterian delegate to the convention from the east, and spent an afternoon seeing Niagara Falls with the other college representative, a girl from Illinois.

Marian Kidd, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Roger Cunningham, Farm House, were elected co-chairmen of the Junior-Senior Prom committee by the Student Council yesterday afternoon. Both are members of the council.

Other members elected are: Merrill Englund, Kappa Sigma, and Bob Waugh, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, from the council; Frederick Stiner, Phi Kappa Psi, Jean Wolfe, Sigma Nu, Mary Steuteville, Alpha Xi Delta, Virginia Wheeler, Delta Gamma, Virginia Clemans, Pi Beta Phi, Elizabeth Waugh, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Mary Jo Henn, Delta Delta Delta, all from off the council.

Grant Thomas, Sigma Chi, as junior class president, automatically became the 12th member of the committee. Other members were elected by the council from among 28 candidates.

Duties of the committee will be to plan and manage the Junior-Senior Prom one of the foremost social functions on the campus and traditionally closing the formal season each year. The prom is scheduled for Friday evening, March 3, this year, and as usual will feature the election and presentation of the Prom girl, an outstanding junior or senior woman on the campus.

Teachers College Plans Xmas Party

High School Students Celebrate Tomorrow

In keeping with Yuletide now pervading the entire world, the university teachers college high school will present its annual Christmas program at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in room 200 of teachers college.

Directed by student teachers, under the supervision of Mrs. Harriet Platt, the high school's mixed chorus and girls' sextet will highlight the afternoon's entertainment.

In the way of variety will be Christmas prologues and other solo presentations. The program is free and open to the general public.

Tomorrow night, for high school students only, will be the yearly Christmas party complete with Santa, program, games and dancing. The cost of admission will be 15 cents.

From 10 o'clock till noon the girls' sextet will carol in Morrill hall.

Foreign Affairs Group to Dine

Club Plans Dinner Session for Tonight

Second meeting of the International Relations club is at 6 o'clock this evening with a dinner and discussion scheduled at the Grand hotel.

Catherine Cahill, president of the organization, invites all university students interested in present international affairs to come for the discussion whether or not they attend the dinner.

CLASSICS STUDENTS OBSERVE SATURNALIA

A program of music followed the annual Classics club Saturnalia banquet last night in the dining hall of Teacher's college. The significance of the old Roman day was explained to the group by Margaret Saxton, former president of the organization. The program included singing and instrumental music with skits by local entertainers and closed with the singing of Latin songs.

Lewis Anderson.