This latest step in Pitt's reform wave—the subjection of their athletic policy to the regulations of the Big Ten and the "policing" of Maj. John Griffith, conference commissioner—has already been drawing nearly as many conjectures as have come concerning Nelson Eddy's box office appeal.

Dawson loss cripples hope of tracksters

Squad to face opener minus veteran; time tests set for Saturday

With only nine school days remaining before the opening dual meet, Head Coach Ed Weir will hold track time trials this Saturday afternoon on the indoor track, starting at 2 p. m. Kansas U. will journey to the Husker indoor track Saturday, Feb. 11, to open the season.

The cinder squad has already suffered a serious loss. Harwin Dawson, veteran dash man and broad jumper, and one of three returning Big Six winners, pulled the ligaments in his left knee, and will likely be out of the broad jump for the remainder of the indoor season.

Lack of Hurdlers.

Weir is shy hurdlers and high jumpers, a predicament that has been a bugaboo to Nebraska track coaches for several years. He stated that he would still welcome any performer who wishes to report.

to the young damsels of our country after his desertion of them for one Mrs. Franklin.

To get back to the subject, there is talk about Pitt's joining the Big Ten, altho it's true the Panthers are signed full for football thru 1942, and Jimmy Hagan has denied any intention of wanting to get into the league. Moreover, Notre Dame has been following Big Ten rules, regulations and rig-gamarole to quite an extent for some time.

You never can tell, tho. Maybe Chicago does want to drop out of the Big Ten, and maybe Pitt wanted to get in. Anyhow, for those Husker well wishers who would like to see the Huskers in the Western Conference Purity Parade, there's Pitt looming up to confront Nebraska, just like it does on the second Saturday in November when everyone around here is having Rose Bowl delusions.

All things considered, tho, it does look like Pitt won't be in the Big Ten—not soon, anyway—and it looks furthermore like the professional policy of Panther Hollow has about seen its day.

The Husker athletic department's sponsorship of an invitational high school baseball tournament should be another boost to Nebraska baseball—at Nebraska U in particular. First boost, of course, is the new university diamond which now enables Husker baseball teams to practice on the campus, which brings the games to where campusites may come to see them without straining their poor selves by walking one terrible long half mile out to munny, and which should make a freshman team possible.

Legion baseball, especially in the last few years, has made a rapid rise in the state, and with the nifty records in the last two years of the Omaha McDevitts and Lincoln's Blues, has made the state's

Columbus Charley signs Green Bay pro contract

Charley Brock, Nebraska's brilliant center of the past three seasons, has signed to play professional football with the Green Bay Packers, champions of the western division of the National Professional football league last fall.

Curly Lambeau, Packer coach, disclosed the Wisconsin team had signed Brock, whom they had acquired in last fall's draft. Bernie Scherer, ex-Husker end, and Johnny Howell, former Nebraska quarterback, are other Packer team members, while George Sauer, present New Hampshire coach, and former Husker all-American, was with the team in 1935 and 1936.

high school kids baseball conscious despite the fact that baseball is not yet well organized as a high school sport.

This spring tournament looks like the first step in co-ordination of prep baseball in the state and if it goes over this year, succeeding meets will undoubtedly be more extensive.

Frat basketeers open play tonight

Four games on deck for coliseum courts in each of three Class A leagues

Fraternity men tonight will resume their intramural activities when class A basketball teams get under way in the Coliseum at 7 o'clock. Three games are scheduled for teams in each of the four leagues.

Games scheduled tonight for League 1 teams include the tilts between Alpha Gamma Rho and Beta Sigma Psi, the Deltas and the Sig Eps, and the Sig Alphas and Lambda Chis. On the basis of last year's performances the Sig Alphas and Sig Eps are the teams to beat although any of the other quintets may surprise.

League 2 a Tough Battle.

Competition is expected to be keenest in League 2, which is composed of teams like the Kappa Sigs, runnersup for the championship last year, the A. T. O.'s, who won the championship of their league last year, the Phi Psis, D. U.'s, Sigma Nus, and Delta Sigma Pis. In tonight's games the A. T. O.'s meet the Delta Sigs, the Phi Psis tangle with the D. U.'s, and the Kappa Sigs play the Sigma Nus.

In League 3 the Phi Deltas and Sigma Chis are regarded as the two strongest teams although the Farm House, the Chi Phis, the Xi Psi Phis, and the Phi Sigs may provide unexpected competition. In tonight's games the Chi Phis play the Farm House, the Phi Deltas meet the Xi Psi Phis, and the Sigma Chis tangle with the Phi Sigs.

Betas, Phi Gams Ahead.

League 4 is headed by the Phi Gams, who will be the defending champions in class A, and the Betas, who were among the leaders in last year's competition. (See BASKETEERS Page 4)
