

Mingling with Marg

Trend-of-the-day towards typical Nebraska summer dust... and clothing trend towards more and more wooden sabots on coeds feet—what ought to result in a terrific clog by May... and the early rush of spring candy passing started Monday night when Delta Gamma Virginia Smyth and Phi Psi Bill Pugsley furnished the sweets and smokes... and cigars came to the Zeta Beta Tau house from Charlie Leib, Omaha... tale of great fun on the swimming meet trip, topped with the story of Dick Van Horn's meeting and choo-choo riding with a sweet young thing whom he greatly hated to leave after the journey... and it seems that Beta Houghton Furr, donned with beard and fur cap, did a little "dating up" of his own... while Sig Alph Ted Liggett remained the one and true to Tri Delta Marj Lindquist, who was very attentive with wires... visiting here this last week end was Kappa Jeanette Campbell, who is now wearing the diamond of Beta Al Souders... D. U. pledges took advantage of Avery Forke Monday night and when he called at the Alpha Phi house for Dorothy Askey, they gave him the choice of singing or being ducked in a tub of mighty chilly water...

and, chilluns, Avery sang... altho the booths in the Crib are now arranged for dancing, the kiddies seem to hate to start the swing... whatsa' matter... catching the cokers, noticed Bill Hastings and Carl Royer, Acacias, and Annette Biernbaum, AXID, whiling their time together... and Theta Mary McLaughlin with Kappa Barbara Selleck... so while the kiddies coke and play, let's study 'til some summer day... then South Bend.

For the second semester, David Kavich has been elected as president of Sigma Alpha Mu.

At Alpha Xi Delta—Lois Owens is president, Rilla Mae Nevin vice president; Ruth Clark and Betty Rose Conway, secretaries; Anna Marie Ruth, treasurer.

To be married in the near future are Jane Bedson and John Chalmers. Both attended school at Nebraska, where she was a Tri Delta and he a Sig Alph.

At a recent meeting, of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity the following officers were elected: Harold Wolf, president; Richard Martin, vice president; Wynne Tolbert, secretary; Fred Ruebsamen, treasurer, and Garland Sloan, social chairman.

Tassels to give $75 to loan fund

Pep organization plans party with Corn Cobs

Members of the Tassels at their regular meeting last night unanimously voted to contribute $75 to the student loan fund that was launched recently by the senior women's honorary.

It was also decided in the session that the pep group would not set the amount of the gift as an annual custom, but would leave it up to the following groups to set their own size of the contribution.

Coming up for discussion in the meeting was the spring Tassel-Corncob party. The Tassels set a date tentative to approval by the members of the Corncobs. Virginia Wheeler is Tassel chairman for the affair, assisted by Rilla Mae Nevin and Charolotte Utt.

Eight enter debate tryouts to win trip

Colorado jaunt awaits successful four men

Eight men signified their intentions Tuesday to tryout in the debate competition Feb. 14 for the Colorado trip. Those students are: Milton Gustafson, Sidney Kalin, Harold Turkel, Leo Turkel, Paul Rhodes, Ewald Warnsholz, Otto Woerner and Edwin Carragher.

Any other men wishing to compete should file their names today with Coach H. A. White, according to his statement Tuesday. The choice of sides will be made by lot by the coach and will be announced Thursday. New men filing their names will be placed on side having the fewest speakers.

An affirmative and negative team will be chosen to make the Colorado trip in March. Winners of this contest will not be able to go on any other long trip.

Social workers find themselves behind prison bars

For a few moments yesterday prison seemed a reality to sleepy students walking up the south steps of Social Science as they faced their images staring from behind the heavy bars of a prison cell.

No, the students were not in jail. They were merely looking at the central piece in the Graduate School of Social Work's exhibit which deals with the crime problem. Instead of looking out from behind the bars they were seeing themselves in a large mirror on which the bars of a prison cell door had been painted.

As soon as they recovered from the shock of seeing themselves in prison they saw emblazoned across the bottom of the mirror the words "You are involved in helping solve the crime problem." The balance of the exhibit deals with the causes of crime, the problems met in the process of the rehabilitation of prisoners, and some of the methods by which the crime problem might be solved.

Union to revive old square dance

NU students to try ancient steps Friday

The Union is beginning a new form of entertainment for students by holding an old-fashioned square dance next Friday from 4:30 to 5:30. There will be no charge for the dance, which will be held in the ballroom.

If the venture proves successful, the Union will make square dancing a regular weekly event. It has not been tried here for many years, but it was decided to let the students take a look at the old-fashioned form of swing, since it is having such a great revival at other universities.

Caller for the roe down will be Ray Marcks, a student from Wyoming where square dancing still holds the floor over jitterbugs.

New pictures hung in Union

Prof. Kirsch directs changing of collection

With the recent changing of the pictures hanging in the Union, a new program of regularly refreshing the walls of the lounge, book nook and dining rooms with pictures drawn from the collection in Morrill has begun.

The next change will be made late this spring. Details of the program, under the direction of Prof. Dwight Kirsch, are not yet complete. Cards explaining each picture and giving details about the artist are being made for the set now hung.

One of the pictures hanging on the north wall of the lounge, Birger Sandzen's "Cedars and Rocks" was a present to the university from the artist himself. The others are drawn from the collections of the Nebraska Art Association and of Will C. Gregg, former Nebraska student, "Edith," who hangs in the lobby, is a part of the Gregg collection.

Graduate courses offered in Omaha

Sessions held weekly in Central high school

Graduate courses begin this week in Omaha under the direction of the Graduate Council of the Graduate College. F. W. Upson, dean of the college, announced yesterday. Courses will continue as long as conditions justify the need of supplementary instruction.

Plans of operation are to be similar to those tried in the first session of the extension college held last year. Classes meet once a week for a two hour session in room 122, Central high school. University credit may be received in any subject, providing the student pays the $5 matriculation fee required for registration in any college of this school.

Vera Hruha, 18 year old Czech figure skater, has been selected as the feature performer of this year's Dartmouth college winter carnival skating program.

Song titles suggest campus cognomens to musical musers

Sing a song, give its title, and behold, someone's name flashes across your brain. Listen to the refrains of "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby," and out of nowhere comes a reminder of Sig Alph Pledge Ray Smith. To link DG Gen Harmon with a one word song title it is easy to think up "Goofus." Jim Kirkendall of Sigma Nu should have for a theme "I Must See Annie Tonight," while Phi Psi Boo Ball and Kappa Lou Benson could co-star as "Two Sleepy People."

"What Do You Know About Love." Butch Luther and Theta Betty Lou Griffith of "Jeepers Creepers, Oh, What Peepers" appearance seem to be getting along all right. If a band starts to swing out with "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea," Claude Wilson's face comes to mind. Lloyd Grimm of DU is a reminder of that once popular song, "I Fall Down and Go Boom," while his fraternity brother, Howard Lynch is a good bet with FDR Jones.

If Pat Prime, Alpha Phi doesn't take precautions, it will be necessary to croon "Little Fraternity Pin (s)" for her. And for Dixie Davis, Chi Omega, "I Wish I Were In the Land of Dixie." With an arrangement of "A Study In Brown" come thoughts of Beta's Gannon and Hansen after the Christmas trip to Florida. And now that this article is ending, "I'd Better Get Out of Town."

Colby swings out at Union Friday

Danceable and novel arrangements featured

Carl Colby and his band of ten lively jivers of college age will swing out in the Union ballroom Friday night from 9:00 o'clock till 12:00. Admission will be 25c.

Colby's band plays very danceable music, and interrupts the evening with many original novelty numbers, according to Ray Brown who was in charge of a Sigma Alpha Mu formal, at which Colby played.

Kappa Phi to hold Chinese checker tourney

Kappa Phi, Methodist sorority, will hold a Chinese checker tournament this Saturday evening in the Student Union. All students are welcome and variety prizes will be given on the basis of drawings. Marjorie Smith is in charge of the event and Helen Elghmy is directing the refreshments.
