Harwin Dawson, despite prevfous reports, will be in Saturday's track meet against Kansas, althohe won't compete in his specialty, the broad jump. Dawson will enter the 60 and the low hurdles. Return of Bob Morris to track wars should feature the meet tomorrow. Bob, you'll remember, was state high mile record holder until Gilbert Dodds broke his record two years ago, and has another year of competition. Illness kept him out last year, but Morris is back in shape now, and altho he is in medical school at Omaha, has been doing outside road work with boxer Bob Venner to keep in trim.

Nebraska's first gymnastic meet will give Huskers a look at one of this section's best gym teams, the take inframural title Minnesota Gophers, who boast a Big Ten champion, and a national collegiate runnerup. Incidentally, the first home triangular gymnastic meet in history for Nebraska is coming up soon, Colorado, Iowa U, and the Huskers will compete.

The Nebraska team will be decided underdogs, what with the Gophers boasting a Big Ten champion in James Hafey, and a National Collegiate runnerup in Curtis Lynum.

Both outfits will enter more than three men for each event but only a trio may count in the final reckoning. Instead of counting the total points of each performer for the final score as was the case in former meets, only the three highest men in each event will be scored, as in a track meet.

Meet begins at 3, coliseum pool today

Haldeman leads Big Six champions against inexperienced Huskers

Iowa State's defending champions invade the coliseum pool today at 3 o'clock to open Nebraska's home swimming schedule. The Cyclones come fortified by a win over Gustavus Adolphus college, nemesis of the Huskers in their northern trip.
Sophomores hold down the top spots on Coach Hagelin's inexperienced squad, with Ralph Worden, top diver from Alliance and Ted Legate, crack sprinter from Bea-trice leading the pack in point making.

Captained by Geoge Haldeman, Big Six breast stroke champion, the Cyclones have wins over Grinnell and Gustavus Adolphus to their credit, and have lost only to
