

77 candidates report as grid drills open

Footballers run plays beneath east stadium; practice lasts six weeks

Seventy-seven grid hopefuls made their 1939 debut yesterday afternoon as the six weeks spring practice got underway in the east stadium.

Coach Biff Jones put his charges through a rigorous drill with the heavy medicine ball before going into the fundamentals of the game. After a half hour of tossing the big pill around the Biffer took the boys into closed session for a short talk, and then dividing the squad into two teams, ran them through a lengthy play-practice period to brush them up on their play routine.

Biff tests speed.

Testing the relative speed of his gridders Major Jones ran them, four or five at a time, 50 yards. Time for the distance varied between 5.7 and 6.1 seconds. This of course was not an accurate measure but close enough to give an idea of the speed that can be expected in the squad next fall.

Roy "Link" Lyman and Glenn Presnell were the other members of the coaching staff putting the candidates through their paces. Bill Pfeiff joined the coaching staff as he put team members through their setting up exercises. W. H. Browne and Ed Weir, along with Adolph Lewandowski, will join the coaching crew as soon as basketball and indoor track finish, this week end.

Forms opposing teams.

For practice purposes the squad was divided into two teams, one called Harvard and the other Yale. Membership of the two was as yet not completed, and is only temporary, so will be given completely later in the week.

Those reporting for practice are:

Lake swims for Huskers

Max Lake, Lincoln, the Husker swimmer ready to take off in the picture above, is entered in the 220 and 440 freestyles, and the 150 yard backstroke in the Big Six meet here Friday and Saturday.

Pre-meet figures say Ames tankers will retain crown

John Gayer, Edgar Haynes, Clarence Herndon, Bill Herrmann, Harry Hopp, John Hudkins.

Iowa State's Cyclones, defending Big Six swim champions, are being picked to repeat their victory of last year in the conference championships here Friday and Saturday.

Coach George McCaffree of the Ames team has champions George Haldeman in the breaststroke and Robert Armstrong in the 150 yard backstroke, returning. Star newcomer Roger Adams has been winning most of the time for Ames in the sprints.

Nebraska's chances, however, aren't so black, for the Huskers are practically certain of three first places—Pete Hagelin in the 220 and 440 freestyle, and Ralph Worden in diving. If Oklahoma, Kansas and Kansas State can take enough points away from the Cyclones, the Huskers may slip into the championship.

Iowa State entries are: 300 yard relay—Armstrong, Hudler, Vaughan, Hargeshelmer, Helscher, Haldeman, Hargrove, and Adams; 220 and 440 freestyles—Gibbs Hargeshelmer, Eggen, Hargrove, Vaughan; 50 yard freestyle—Adams, Haldeman, Hudler, Hargeshelmer; 100 yard freestyle—Haldeman, Hargeshelmer, Gibbs, Adams, Hargrove, Vaughan; diving—Reid; 150 yard backstroke—Armstrong, Helscher, Gibbs; 200 yard backstroke—Haldeman, Hudler, Adams, Blackmore; 400 yard relay—Adams, Hargeshelmer, Gibbs, Eggen, Hudler, Haldeman, Vaughan, Hargrove, Armstrong.

Matmen await Grinnell meet

Knight captains Huskers here Saturday night

Husker matmen will wind up their dual season with a meet with Grinnell college immediately after the Oklahoma basketball game Saturday night in the coliseum. The wrestling meet will begin at about 9:15 p. m.

Jim Knight, stellar Husker grappler, will captain the Scarlet against Grinnell. Knight has lost only two dual matches in the last two years. Both of these losses were to Minnesota's Dale Hansen. Knight has won ten and dropped one match this year.

The Nebraska team will probably remain the same as that which lost to the Gophers last week. The team includes: Milton Kuska, 121, Jim Knight, 128, Bill Luke, 136, Lee Clare, 145, Julius Wittmann, 155, Paul Fidler, 165, Shelley Condon, 175, and George Seemann, heavyweight.

After the Grinnell meet, the only things left on the Husker schedule will be the conference meet at Ames, and the national intercollegiate, to be held somewhere in Pennsylvania this year.

Sig Alphas win cage title

Sig Alpha Epsilon won the class A Greek intramural basketball crown last night as they downed Phi Delta Theta 34 to 22. Brown and Duncan starred for the winners and Lyle King led the Phi Delta.

In a class B semi-final game the Theta Xi's nipped the Pi KA's by a one point margin.

Bob Kahler returns to NU track squad

Return of Bob Kahler to the Husker track squad bolstered the morale of the group and insured the Nebraska tracksters of an even chance to retain their indoor track laurels.

Bob was declared ineligible early in the week but has ironed out his scholastic difficulties and will be ready to enter the meet this week end. He runs both the high and low hurdles, enters the high jump, and is the top scorer on the Nebraska squad.

As I See It

by June Bierbower

Tonight Missouri and Kansas play what is probably the most important Big Six basketball game of the season, and just as a special attraction, we're putting forth our choice—Missouri.

That seems to be a pretty popular choice, what with the Tigers playing at home, but Kansas' 59 to 45 victory over Oklahoma isn't to be sneezed over, even tho the Jayhawks had to extent themselves for a three point win over Nebraska two weeks ago at Lawrence, while the Tigers had an easy time at Lincoln the following Saturday night.

Capt. John Lobsiger of Missouri, who, in our humble opinion is as good a player as there is in the league, will, as usual, be carrying the Tiger's main burden. Lobsiger, steadiest player on the team, looks like a cinch for all Big Six honors, and if Clay Cooper or one of the other Tiger forwards get hot on those jump shots which spelled the Huskers' doom, Missouri looks like the winner.

New Yorkers are touting Anthony Maloney, Gotham high school runner, as a second Leslie MacMitchell.

Senior cagers to receive scrolls

Tassels honor Kovanda, Werner, Elliott, Grimm

Alton Werner, Kansas City, Kas.; Bill Kovanda, Elk Creek; Bob Elliott, West Point, and Lloyd Grimm, Omaha, the four seniors on W. H. Browne's basketball team, will be honored by Tassels at the start of the Husker-Oklahoma game Saturday night.

The senior hoopsters will be presented with scrolls autographed by members of the girls' pep organization and of Corncobs. All players except the Nebraska seniors will leave the floor, and Virginia Nolte, Tassel president, and other officers, will present the scrolls while the remaining pep club members form a triangle around the players.
