Convo hears H. J. Haskell tomorrow

Kansas City editor compares new deal, old Roman government

Henry Joseph Haskell, editor of the Kansas City Star will address students in convocation at 11 o'clock tomorrow in the Temple.

A comparison of the economic policies and problems of the second century Roman government with the present day Roosevelt doctrines will constitute the essential part of the speech, entitled "The New Deal of Old Rome."

Becoming interested in this subject several years ago, Haskell toured Italy, studying first hand the records of the past.

Edits 50,000 Word Volume.

Supplementing in this way the material he could gain from textbooks, he is editing in May a 50,000 word volume on the similarities he discovered between the two civilizations. In a letter received by C. S. Forbes of the classics department in charge of making convocation arrangements, Haskell declared that sit down strikes originated centuries ago in the Egyptian alabaster factories, that the Romans had PWAs and relief organizations, and that the financiers symbolized in the person of J. P. Morgan were present at that time under names like Considius.

15 seek 'Best Dressed' title

Candidates to appear before A.W.S. board

Fifteen university women will vie for the title of Nebraska's Best Dressed Girl, to be named by the A. W. S. board at the annual Coed Follies, March 23, at Temple theater.

Candidates, who are to appear before the board at 2:15 today at social sciences auditorium, include: Betty Bachman, Alpha Chi Omega; Elizabeth Smith, Alpha Omicron Pi; Pat Prime, Alpha Phi; Martha Long, Alpha Xi Delta; Mary Eva Huffman, Carrie Belle Raymond; Ruth Stephens, Chi Omega; Marjorie Lindquist, Delta Delta Delta; Pat Reitz, Delta Gamma; Betty Hillier, Kappa Alpha Theta; Dorothy Swoboda, Kappa Delta; Betty Jane Hopewell, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Marjorie Barnett, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Jane Haney, Phi Mu; Harriet Byron, Sigma Delta Tau; Betty Lehman, Sigma Kappa.

Basis of Selection.

According to Janet Lau, Coed Follies chairman, the Best Dressed Girl will be chosen on the basis of taste, appropriateness of clothes, posture, and general appearance, rather than on expensiveness, and the name of the winner will be kept secret until her presentation at the show.

For the style show which is a part of the Follies, board members will select 40 models to be chosen from those nominated by their respective organizations. Elizabeth Waugh, board member in charge of the style show, has announced that models will be viewed alphabetically according to their organizations. Alpha Chi Omega through Kappa Alpha Theta will appear at 2:30 today in social sciences auditorium, and all other groups at 3:15.

Gerry Wallace '39 Prom Girl

Lincoln Journal.

Gerry Wallace, Lincoln Delta Gamma, was revealed as the 1939 Prom girl at the junior-senior prom Friday night, closing dance of the university formal season.

In the presentation ceremony, attention turned from drum beater Gene Krupa and his orchestra, to the coliseum stage where trumpeters heralded the annual ceremony. Curtains parted to reveal Miss Wallace standing before a large drum background on which her name was printed.

Dressed in a gown of white silk jersey, Grecian style, and a Roman striped jacket with a hood collar, the newly acclaimed Prom girl was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Grant Thomas, junior class president, and Bill Kovanda, senior class president, who then escorted her to the dance floor.

Some 700 couples divided their time between dancing and clustering around the orchestra dais to watch the perspiring gyrations of Drummerman Krupa, who, with his crew, did not fail to keep up a steady show of entertainment ranging from a classical arrangement of a popular song to a rhythmic tom-tom number in which all the orchestra members joined their leader in a torrid "skin beating" ensemble.

Klub picks show cast this week

Tryouts for 16 parts set Wednesday, Thursday

Kosmet Klub will select the speaking cast for its new spring show, "Alias Aladdin" in tryouts Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock in the Social Science auditorium.

The competition for writing the lyrics and song arrangements will close in about two weeks, so that work on the spring production may be begun in earnest. A prize of $10 is to be given to the writer of the best number, a statement of Bob Gannon, business manager of the club revealed.

A total of 16 parts will be open for tryouts this week varying in type from the royal Caliph of Baghdad to the construction gang of the Persian WPA. Selections will be made by the club members, with Joe Iverson, director of the 1939 production assisting.

Qualifications for eligibility are the same as those required for athletic participation. Students must have carried a total of 27 hours during the preceding year, and at least 12 hours the preceding semester.

Selection of members of the pony chorus among which a novel harem chorus will be featured, will be made sometime the following week.

Grades must be filed by April 18

Failure to check may keep one off honor list

No name will be included among the honor students at the annual honors convocation, April 18, if the records contain reports of incompletes, conditions or no reports, an announcement of dean of student affairs, T. J. Thompson, revealed yesterday.

Every year a large number of students ranking high in their class, are not given proper recognition due to the failure of some professor to file credits on made up work. Though such errors are of course accidental, the report of the dean of student affairs announced, they can be prevented if each student will take it upon himself to check up on his conditions, seeing that the removal of them is recorded.

Grades available now at registrar's office

Last semester grades are now available at the registrar's office and at the office of Dean W. W. Burr on the agricultural campus. Presentation of both the student's activity card and his picture are mandatory before the cards will be given out. It is desired that they be called for at this time, although they will be held until May 1, by which time entries will have been made on the pass books.

Group seeks sponsor before making permanent schedule

Clayton arranges five engagements during conferences with fair, radio, hotel officials

Five engagements at the New York World's Fair have been tentatively scheduled for the Lincoln Cathedral choir pending the securing of a sponsor, the choir offices announced Saturday afternoon.

The announcement came as the result of the visit of William Clayton, choir representative, to New York, Clayton returned last Tuesday from his conferences with fair, radio and hotel officials.

According to directors of the World's Fair, the Lincoln organization has been delegated the official representatives of the "Plains Region," and will sing one program, representing Nebraska and the middlewest, in the regional building on the fair grounds. Three twilight vespers in the Temple of Religion have also been arranged.

Dates still tentative.

Altho all dates are tentative until the choral group can secure a sponsor, a 30 minute concert has also been scheduled to precede an address by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the fair grounds audience. See CATHEDRAL CHOIR page 2.

String group plays at 3:30

Tickets for program available at Union

Famed interpreters of chamber music and especially of Beethoven, the Gordon string quartet will appear in the Union ballroom today at 3:30 o'clock.

Proceeds of the concert, which is sponsored jointly by Sigma Alpha Iota and Delta Omicron, musical sororities, are to be used for a musical scholarship fund. The quartet is widely considered one of the finest ensembles of its kind, having been acclaimed by New York critics since its founding in 1921.

Lincoln audieees received the ensemble with great enthusiasm when it played here early in the fall.

Sunday's program will consist of selected chamber music, and tickets are available at the Union office.

Museum presents films, music at 3

Bonophone made of fossil bones to be used

Films of fossil mining, crating, and shipping, and bonophone music will feature a program the University museum is offering this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Morrill hall auditorium.

The pictures show the work of the 1938 museum expedition in color. C. Bertrand Schultz will discuss the highlights of the films which were taken in sections of South Dakota, Wyoming, New Mexico, Texas and in western and northwestern Nebraska.

Henry Reider will play numbers on a bonophone made from serap bones of an extinct rhinoceros, estimated to be about ten million years old.

Club offers coed awards

Faculty women to give scholarships to seniors

The Faculty Women's club will present three scholarships to outstanding coeds of the class of 1940, it was announced yesterday. The scholarships will be granted in recognition of meritorious efforts in school life, as well as for scholastic attainments and will include a first award of $75, second $50, and third, $25.

Any girl attending the university who has sufficient hours to graduate in June 1940, or at the end of the summer session of 1940, will be eligible for one of the scholarships providing she is wholly or partly self-supporting and has an average scholarship record of not less than 85%.

Recommendations needed.

Candidates may secure application blanks at the offices of the Registrar or Dean of Women. Three letters of recommendation, two of which shall be from members of the university faculty, must be presented by each applicant.

Applicants will meet with the scholarship committee for personal interviews in Ellen Smith hall between 1:00 and 4:00 o'clock on Wednesday and Thursday, March 22 and 23.

The awards will be announced at the Honors Convocation on Tuesday, April 18.

Hines' band to play here

Famous colored swing orchestra contracted by Union for March 10

Earl "Father" Hines, famous colored king of the ivories and his orchestra will play in the Union ballroom Friday, March 10.

Hines comes directly from the Grand Terrace cafe in Chicago where his orchestra broadcasts nightly over the NBC network.

Considered one of the better swing pianists, Hines does practically all of the orchestra arranging for his band. Aside from being an able musician, Hines, as a composer, is credited with such hits as "You Can Depend on Me," "Rock 'n Rye," "Thinking of Me Thinking of You," and "Take it Easy."

Gene Krupa, who played Friday at the Junior-Senior prom, when asked who he thought were the best bands in the country, named Hines and his colored musicians as one of the best orchestras of the present swing stage.

St. Paul choir sings today; Tempel directs

Members of the St. Paul choir, which is directed by William G. Tempel, will present a concert of sacred music in the Beatrice Methodist church today at 3:30 o'clock. The choir of 55 is composed of university students.
