

Mingling with Marg

Six weeks exams over and to-night the celebrations start...if not before...Father Hines will draw a nice big crowd, and you'll see such couples as A.O.P.I. Jane Pratt and Delt Ward trace...Pi Phi Pat Peterson and Sig Alpha Scot Wilkinson...Delta Gamma Mary Jean Trowbridge and A.T.O. Chuck Davis...and a rather new and different combination of Kappa Jeanie Newell and George Souders, Beta, which looks like an old affair starting anew...Pi K A Budd Rapp will be there with A.O.P.I. Natalie Johnson...and at the Sig Ep Blue party will be Margaret Dickerson, Pi Phi, and Bunny Holland...Theta Jean Willis and Ron Douglas...Kappa Cecile Mitchell and Joe Brown...O.A.P.I. Ruthie Yourd and Frosty Wilson—instead of seeing Ruth as usual with Bill Davis, A.T.O.... and a rather amusing incident occurred concerning A.T.O. Wendell Bayse—when some of the brothers took the lady trousers, checked them at the Union, and left the poor boy emphatically stranded sans pants at the Tau house...and it seems that some of the very regular inhabitants of the Crib were sent, gratis, a glass of buttermilk each by some unknown admirer—and the recipients merely sat—and looked ill...and entertainment for Sunday will center about the Battle of Brains in the Union at four...

Alpha Chi Omega announces the pledging of Marian Boyer, Marian Cooper and Annabelle Van Denbark.

The Towne Club, composed of about 70 unaffiliated girls, is holding a dinner dance in the Union Saturday night. About 30 couples will attend. Chaperones will be Mr. Spurr and Mr. Carson.

Kappa Kappa Gamma announces the pledging of Dorothy Ann Koenig.

Sigma Kappa announces DeLoris Storhojann as a new pledge.

Hitler was ready to fight at Munich says Pfeiler

Hitler was not bluffing; he was fully prepared to go to war, Dr. W. K. Pfeiler of the department of Germanics told members of the Lincoln Lions club Thursday noon. Speaking on the aftermath of the Munich agreement, Dr. Pfeiler pointed out Hitler knew that England and France would not fight.

"The entire career of the German dictator proves that he is willing to take a risk," he said. "He first showed that in the putsch of 1933. Ever since his policy has been one of ruthless aggression, always realizing with a keen political sense how far he could go."

Dr. Pfeiler believes that had there been a war Germany would probably have lost, and that the German people would have followed him sullenly and without enthusiasm. It is because many Americans now realize how panic stricken the Germans were over the threat of war that they mistakenly conclude that Hitler was bluffing.

The university educator referred to the common sense attitude of Daladier and Chamberlain at Munich, for altho Germany might have been defeated, the victory of democracy would have been gained at terrific price.

"Every day England and France are growing stronger," he stated. "Germany, however, has already about reached the maximum of her strength. Every month is working in favor of the democracies. Thus by preserving peace the democracies are not only gaining, but the passing of time will be an important factor in bringing about a modification of German supremacy."

Dr. Pfeiler, who is an American citizen of German extraction, told his audience that to the best of his knowledge the great majority of German-Americans condemn the Bund activities as entirely foreign to American democratic principles.

The analogy may end there, though, because that year Nebraska also came through to swimming, indoor track, outdoor track and golf titles. The Sooners didn't win either swimming or indoor track, and probably won't win in outdoor track, although they look like winners in golf and tennis again, and probably baseball.

Coed Counselors install officers

Fern Steuteville takes over '39 presidency

Newly elected members of the Coed Counselor board took office yesterday when outgoing senior members of the board held installation ceremonies for them at Ellen Smith.

Members of the '39-40 board are Fern Steuteville, president; Mary Bullock, vice president; Ruth Grosvenor, secretary-treasurer; Faith Medlar, Maxine Lake, June Bierbower, Mary Sherbourne, and Melva Kime, senior board members; Jane DeLaTour, Ruth Ann Sheidon, Ruth Clark, junior board members; and Natalie Burns, sophomore board member.

Retiring president of the board is Virginia Fleetwood. Other retiring seniors are Phyllis Chamberlain, Virginia Nolte, Marjorie Churchill, Bonnie Burn, and Elizabeth Smith.

Present at the service were Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Letta Clark, sponsors of the Coed Counselors.

Pipe ad contest deadline changed

Contestants may submit entries until March 16

Several entries have been received from students in the ad writing contest sponsored by M. Linkman and company, manufacturers of Dr. Grabow pipes. However, because the story of the contest and the advertisement appeared in the NEBRASKAN on different days, several entrants misunderstood the details of the contest.

In order to clear up any misunderstandings the RAG is republishing the ad on page 5. Deadline for the entries has been moved to March 16. All entries will become the property of the company and students may submit as many as they wish. As no cuts of the ads will be made fancy art work should not be included as part of the layout. Winner of the contest will receive a matched set of Dr. Grabow pipes.

the sand hills region entitled "Giant Footprints" done by Dwight Kirsch, head of the Fine Arts department at the University of Nebraska. He observed a series of hollow spots in the sand, caused by gusts of wind, which resembled huge footprints making their way across the hills. His finished product is made from small water color sketches.

These are only a few of the artists and their pictures of the 1939 exhibit which will reign until April 2. The showing seems very superior to other exhibits of its kind. The students of the University of Nebraska are fortunate in being able to see the exhibit free of charge and Mr. Kirsch personally invites them to attend when they will receive any explanation necessary for the pictures.

Why a coed hates all men!

BY MARION PHILLIPS (University of Michigan)

(Editor's note: Marian Phillips, a freshman at the University of Michigan, created a furor on the erry magazine of the university.) recently when an article by her entitled "Why I Hate Men," appeared in 'Perspectives,' the literary magazine of the university.

They think love can be put on like hair-oil—to slick up for an occasion.

They are all too thin before they're 30, then all at once they become too fat.

They take your best friend out on a blind date.

They laugh at women's interest in clothes, but they will tell you in minute detail how they happened to buy their new topcoat.

They whistle at you one the street, but if you smile back at them they look coldly away.

They say they hate sentiment but they dissolve into marshmallow whip at the mention of the word "Mother."

World All Roses—and Gardenias.

To them the floral world consists of roses and gardenias. They'd send sweet peas to Mae West and orchids to Shirley Temple.

They think unattractive girls are so on purpose.

There is no way in the world that you can stop them from telling a dirty story if they happen to have one on hand.

They tell you wonderful things at midnight which they have forgot by noon.

A run insults them.

They consider a run in a woman's hose a personal affront.

After making love to you all evening, they suddenly get up and stretch and say that they are hungry.

They stare at every blonde that passes, but are furious if you glance at another man.

They always want to kiss you good night unless you want to kiss them good night.

No one has ever told them that there are certain preliminaries in love making.

Think technique works with all.

They think a technique that works with one woman will work with all women; if it doesn't they try another.

They think that it is impossible that they should get drunk.

And when they are drunk, they say that they are merely in rather good form.

They've made up a scientific name for a woman hater, but they've never made up one for a man hater because they think they don't exist.

Well, boys...take a look at me.
