Coed Follies show, Press convention, Best Dressed Girl the biggest talk of the day... and congrats to Alpha Chi Betty Bachman... Best dressed girl... and seen at the Follies show were Two Men, press men of course, Howard Kaplan and George Frischer, ZBT's, who thought the show a wow... onlookers were decked in their brightest best, such as Pi Phi Virginia Towle, in a blue ensemble, or Mary Arbitman, Sigma Delta Tau in pastel pink and blue, or Alpha Chi Mary Bullock in gold light wool... and orchids to Gamma Phi Ruth Lavender for her take-off on Tizzie Lish... but back to the boy and girl social swing of the campus... picnics are headlines, with the Delta Gamma's and Sigma Nu's taking an early trek to South Bend to try the swimming weather... and Kappa's Suzanne Woodruff and Joan Lyman had more fun than a picnic on a picnic with Phi Delt's Jim Cain and Ben James... and come Sunday, the ATO pledges will be taking their dates on a huge picnic deal... pin-hangings of the day are spotlighted by Alpha Chi's... since Val Harper has Duane Lim-precht's Phi Alpha Delta pin, and Dolores Bors is wearing the Beta pin of John Waechter... the Tri Delta's in general and Bobbie Mowry in particular are wondering who sends two, yes two, roses per day to Bobbie, accompanied by sweet notes with spring thoughts... at the Sigma Kappa Hit Parade, which is an open party, you'll see Bobbie Marston and Harold Hunter; Annabelle Lee and Jim Burlington, XIP... and at the DU closed party Saturday night will be Leonard Dunker with Pi Phi Beverly Sisteck, who only a short time ago showed up with the DU pin of Ned Anderson... and Forest Behm will be there with Alpha Phi Betty Groth; Avery Porke with Kappa Mary Lou Kelly... and what with the Beta's flying their kites, the Phi Delt's playing hand-ball on their front lawn, the Fiji's lolling before dinner on their terrace, and Mr. Fellman's Poli Sci class leaving en masse, we guess the fever of the birds and bees has really hit.

Delta Tau Delta announces the pledging of Keith Baird, Powell, Wyo.; Douglas Taylor, Omaha; Max Whittaker, Belvedere.

Kappa Sig announces the pledging of Bob Green, Grand Island.

Best Dressed Girl admits desire to become aviatrix

Love of combining color harmonies in painting and the desire to become an aviatrix some day are the chief delights of Nebraska's best-dressed girl of 1939, Betty Bachman, fine arts student from Omaha.

Miss Bachman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Bachman, was revealed as winner of the best-dressed girl title at the climax of the annual A.W.S. Coed Follies presented in the Temple Theater last evening. Miss Bachman is a new initiate of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

reign. She was chosen by popular vote of all the Home Economic students. Candidates for the honor were senior home economics students whose scholastic average was over 80 percent.

According to the ag executive board, the party this year is open to all university students, whether a student on ag campus or not.

Members of the Ag Executive board planning for the event are Bill Pitner, and Iris Johnson, chairmen; Paul Fidler and Rhoda Chisley, publicity; Ruth Bauder and Milton Gustafson, orchestra; Annabelle Hutcheson and Ed Rousek, presentation, and Ann Gersib and George Gooding, ticket chairmen. Advance sale price for the tickets is 75 cents.

Convo chaplain is R. B. Fouts

Speaker Villard to talk on democracy's defense

The Rev. R. B. Fouts of Beatrice will act as chaplain at the University Honors convocation Tuesday, April 18, according to a statement from the office of Prof. L. B. Smith, chairman of the committee.

The principal speaker is to be Oswald Garrison Villard, who for 40 years has carried on a tradition of liberal journalism. He is admittedly an outspoken critic of dictatorship and plans to speak on the current topic, "Spiritual Defense of Democracy."

Music will be furnished by the symphony orchestra under the direction of Don Lentz. Chancellor Boucher will preside and the Mortar Boards and Innocents will usher.

tion, and in 1932 the Chester D. Pugsley $1,000 prize for the best Washington correspondence of the year.

Some 250 Nebraska newspapermen are in Lincoln today attending the 66th annual state press association convention which opened yesterday and runs through Saturday.

Newspapermen attend Lincoln convention

J. Frederick Essary, editor of the Baltimore Sun, will address the group at a banquet this evening at the Hotel Lincoln. Also included on tonight's entertainment program is a gridiron show written by members of the Lincoln Press club and produced by the University Players and Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, and a brief talk by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Last night, the newspapermen and members of the legislature and university faculty were guests at a variety show presented in the Union ballroom. Major "Biff" Jones, Cornhusker athletic director and football coach, acted as master of ceremonies.

Pershing Rifles appear

Appearing on last night's program were the Pershing Rifles crack squad, university glee club under the direction of William G. Tempel, the Delta Gamma prize winning Kosmet Klub skit, and roller skating and magic acts.

Annual reports and election of officers for 1939-40 will be taken up this morning. Speakers at roundtable discussions will include Walter Carlile, Jamestown (Kas.) Optimist; W. H. Conrad, Medford (Wis.) Star News and president of the National Editorial association; W. H. Flourd, Fullerton, former NPA president; Bill DeVriendt, Lincoln; Arne G. Rae, Chicago, NEA executive secretary; N. B. Pont, Stanton (Neb.) Register.

Prof. F. H. Blood's university advertising class will assist in a demonstration of preparation and sale of advertising schedules at the roundtable on advertising this morning.

Circulation discussion.

Following an address by the newly-elected president tomorrow morning, the convention will hear a discussion of circulation and promotion by Dave Dandivier, Chickasha (Okla.) Express, and Floyd L. Hockenhuil, Chicago publisher of Circulation Management.

Prizes for the year's best editorial, civic promotion, and front page makeup also will be awarded Friday by Jess W. Thurber, Tecumseh editor and state editor.
