

Mingling with Marg

Rain all over the place . . . but who cares so long as vacation is whipping on us in two days, no less . . . sensation of the day is the engagement of Francis Woodard to Maxine Maddy, one of the Towne Club's prominent matter . . . and the impending or perhaps just break between Alpha Phi Dorothy Askey and Pat Leonard is some of the latest Corn Crib talk . . . and Pat is on the inner track with Kappa Mary Lou Kelly . . . one of the damp weather picnics took place Sunday, with Sig Alpha Hi Messmore and Delta Gamma Betty Reese, Beta Jim Armstrong and Kappa pledge Dorothy Ann Koenig, and George Steinmeyer, Beta, and Jane Austin, Delta Ganima, among "those there" . . . and the fact that Keith Gilmore, AGR, is limping about with a sprained ankle lately put Betty Jo Smith back into circulation for a few days . . . some of the rather different week-end combinations were Marion Bowers, Kappa, and ATO Clarence Simon, which again brings up that ever present triangle at the ATO house, involving of course Sheik Joe Laughlin . . . Chi Phi Hippo Lyons and Alpha Phi Bea Andrews, which is unusual only in the fact that she isn't wearing his pin yet . . . and at the AGR party Saturday night were Frank Shipman and Mary Brion; Vernon Wiebusch and Mary Bell Haumont; and Glenn Thacker and Ruthanna Sheldon . . . among the funnier stories of the week is that about Beta John Stoddard and Theta Oolie Anderson, when John was talking to some of the boys about her and he said, "Oolie'll get me if I don't watch out—she's got me" . . . and that's that among the world of What's doing around this week.

Chi Phi initiated the following men: Warren Alfson, Leo Harmen, George Lonie, Joseph Saunders, Ray Krebsbach, Thon McCague, Paul Roberts, Walter Standeven and Paul Dresher.

Add candy passings. . . Marjorie Shick, of the Kappa Delta Shicks, announced her engagement to Engard Fynn last night.

Y. W. holds last vespers Tuesday

Theme of services is Easter; McMillin talks

All senior women are cordially invited to the last Y. W. C. A. vesper meeting of this school year, which will be held in Ellen Smith hall, Tuesday at 5 o'clock.

This will be the last opportunity seniors will have to attend vespers, and they are especially urged to attend. The vesper theme this week is Easter.

Speaker is Rev. L. W. McMillin, of the University Episcopal church, whose talk will pertain to Holy Week.

The vesper choir has prepared three special Easter selections under the direction of Virginia Charneck. Mary Bullock has charge of devotions.

Museum adds six selections to art gallery

Paintings, sculptures purchased after Art Association showing

Four paintings and two most popular pieces of sculpture will remain in Morrill galleries after "one of the most successful art exhibitions in the history of the Nebraska Art association" closes today, according to purchases announced by the university.

"Barn Reids" by Carl Sheelers headed the list of works recommended. Alexander Brooks' "Peggy Bacon and Metaphysics" will also be purchased, as will Morris Kantor's "Sand Dunes" and Lucile Blanch's "Rondout." Mahonri Young's bronze figure of "The Laborer" and the little stone carved elephant by John Flanagan will also remain.

Experts select pieces.

Experts chosen to select the purchases this year were Meyric Rogers, director of the City Art Museum of St. Louis, and Paul Gardner, head of the William Rockhill Nelson Memorial gallery in Kansas City. In making the six choices they considered the collection of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall, whose estate makes the purchases possible; they studied the works in this year's N. A. A. exhibit, and finally, they considered the votes cast by art patrons who attended the exhibit.

A total of 57 paintings and 25 pieces of sculpture were on display this year in the Morrill galleries, and of this number, art patrons voted 45 of the canvasses favorites. Only 12 failed to receive any votes.

School children also vote.

Even public school children who attended the exhibit were allowed to cast their votes for the best pictures. Members of the fine arts staff were quizzed, and N. A. A. board members were asked to turn in individual statements as to their preferences.

NU graduates have articles published

A recent issue of the American Mathematical Monthly contains an article, "Planetary Orbits in General Relativity," by W. G. Leavitt, which is based on his thesis for his master's degree obtained from Nebraska last year. He now holds a fellowship at Princeton university. The current issue of the Bulletin of the American Mathematical society has an article by Dr. W. A. Dwyer entitled "On Certain Incomplete Numerical Functions." The article is based upon the thesis for his Ph. D. degree which he received from the university two years ago. Dwyer is now assistant professor of mathematics at Creighton university.
