Palladian girls act as dinner escorts

Progressive banquet offers ladies chance

At the annual Palladian progressive banquet last night the girls escorted the boys. The first course was at the Capitol hotel, the second course at the home of Robert Simmons, and the third in the parlors of the Union. The latter part of the evening the palladians spent dancing.

Rosalie Stuart acted as toast-mistress. The theme of the banquet was "April Showers." Toasts were: "Storm Cloud" by Armolene McKay; "Hail," a vocal number by Bert Anderson, James Hush, and Wayne Ellison; "Over-cast" by Jeanet Swenson; "Mud," by Austin Mutz; "Evesdripping" by John Stuart; "Rainbows" was the impromptu; and "Sunshine" by Gwen Jack.

Jane DeLatour was in charge of decorations. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Rosenquist and Dr. and Mrs. Alton M. Pardee.

campus for an hour's discussion on "Careers for Women in Group Work," personal interviews at 4 o'clock, and another roundtable on the teaching profession at 5. In the evening the Towne club will entertain Mrs. Robnett as guest speaker.

On Tuesday personal interviews will be conducted at 9, 1, and 3 o'clock. A roundtable for coeds interested in journalism will be held at 2 o'clock. The A. W. S. board, sponsors of Mrs. Robnett's visit here, and the coed counselor board will meet her for luncheon Tuesday.

Women who have not yet signed for personal interviews but who wish to do so should call Natalie Burns at 3-1050. All roundtables and interviews will be held at Ellen Smith with the exception of the ag college program.

AT THE HEAD OF THE CLASS ... of 1940

JANET LAU

No amateur is Janet Lau, Delta Gamma junior from Lincoln, when it comes to playing golf. For she's the runner-up title holder of last summer's Lincoln City Golf Tournament.

Janet takes a cooking class at ag even though she is a political science major. Her collection of football programs for Nebraska's home games include all of them since 1928. On the campus, Janet is a student council member, Vestals of the Lamp, has served on the AWS board for two years, directing the AWS Coed Follies this spring. She rates a top position in her class for her part in campus activities as well as her ranking in a real sport. Maybe you can't play golf with the finesse of a professional, but you can be "tops" in your crowd if you take them along with you when you go to the

Professors go to conclave

Six appear on program at Iowa convention

A party of six Nebraska professors have been chosen to participate in the program of the annual joint conference of the Midwest Economics and Sociological associations to be held at Des Moines, Ia., Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Reading papers before the economics division will be C. E. McNeill, instructor in economics and a student of the public utility field, and William A. Spurr, of the department of statistics. McNeill's paper will deal with the question, "How the Consumer Fares in Public Utility Rate Setting," and Spurr will talk on "Statistics Courses in Schools of Business."

Following these papers given in respective sections of the conference, general discussion of the points presented will take place, led by selected delegates attending the meeting.

Hertzler to read paper.

Before the assembled sociological group, V. O. Hertzler will present a paper on "Some Sociological Aspects of Regionalism" after which his arguments will be put on review.

As chairman of the Public Utilities section, M. C. Hicks will attend, while E. A. Gilmore and O. R. Martin, of the economics and bizad faculties have been named to discuss the papers given in the
