

Baseballers see studios, 'Frisco fair while on trip

Nebraska's opening home baseball game, with Iowa State, was rained out yesterday, and, weather permitting, the boys will go at it this afternoon in a double header at Muny park, to begin at 3 o'clock.

The games have been moved from the university fields, the clay on the new diamond being too sticky for use until it completely dries. No admission will be charged provided the games are played.

Rube Denning and Lloyd Schmadeke, Coach Wilbur Knight's ace moundsmen, will do pitching duties for the Huskers' while Dean Drury and Stan Swandahl will divide the work for LeRoy Timm's Cyclones.

Coach Wilbur Knight and his 14 baseball players arrived in Lincoln early Sunday morning from their western trip, with interesting tales about Arizona, California and Colorado.

They said that the team was pleasantly entertained in Tucson by the Arizona baseball squad, being taken thru the mountains on Wednesday, the first day in Tucson. That night they had dinner at various fraternities. "Rube" Denning, while the team remained in Tucson, drove to Mexico with Carl Alexis, son of Joseph Alexis, head of Nebraska's German department.

See Hollywood.

Early Saturday morning the team reached Los Angeles. In Hollywood, the group was given passes to go thru the Twentieth Century Fox studios. They saw several sets of Sonja Heine's new picture, and viewed Janet Gaynor's, Mae West's and Shirley Temple's wonderful homes. They ate their lunch at the famous Brown Derby and visited the Palomar that evening.

Sunday, at 3:30 a. m., seven of the players, Horak, Tegtmeier, Denning, Moates, Brune, Schmode and Harris attended the Easter sunrise services in the famous Hollywood Bowl.

Sunday afternoon the coach and all the players, except Schmode and Denning, watched Chester Morris and Glenda Ferrell perform in the Silver Theater broadcast. "Rube" and Alvin spent the afternoon at Catalina island.

Visit fair.

The squad came to San Francisco Monday morning and entertained themselves most of Monday and Tuesday viewing San Francisco's Centennial at Treasure island. Monday night Coach Knight's boys played St. Mary's college in the San Francisco "Seal" stadium. Tuesday afternoon the squad left for San Jose where they played their second night game.

Wednesday morning the team crossed the new San Francisco-Oakland bridge and toured the Berkeley campus.

That afternoon Coach Knight watched his team defeat the powerful California squad. "The boys all played some good ball," he said, "but this game was the first time they really played together."

Play Colorado.

After the game, they left for Colorado, and the Friday's game was rained out they played the University of Colorado at Boulder, in a double header Saturday afternoon.

"We could have won both those games had I used Denning and Schmadeke," Coach Knight said, "and I would have pitched the two had I known the game with Iowa State was going to be rained out Monday afternoon."

The team started home after dinner Saturday evening, arriving the next morning. Altho the Huskers lost all but one game Knight said the tilts were hard fought and that with a few breaks the team would have won several more.

"The team showed the lack of outdoor practice," he said, "but the trip gave us much valuable experience, and I believe we'll develop into a good club before the season is over."

Gaines addresses ag rally tonight

Newton Gaines will be principal speaker at the fourth in a series of Farmers Fair rallies to be held this evening at 7:15 in the activities building on the agriculture campus.

In addition to the address by Mr. Newton, the ag acmpus dramatics club will present a skit full of witticisms and "new" jokes.

Tryouts for the annual indoor show will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Ag hall. All members of the organization are eligible for the show. Of the approximate 75 members, a possible 25 will be chosen to be in the event.

As I See It by June Bierbower

Maybe this supposed "feminine" influence in Nebraska athletics isn't so bad after all. Nebraska's only victory on its western trip was at California.

Reason? Well, since all good gals, like Cornhuskers, stick together, our theory is that it's the four Nebraska coeds who watched the Huskers play that day. Pat Pope, Ibs Waugh, Tess Casady, and Helen Tovanda who were attending the national WAA convention at Berkeley were there to cheer the Huskers on to victory. The Daily Cal mentioned them in its write up of the game.

Helen Kovanda and Elnora Sprague saw the Huskers lose to St. Marys—but I guess we should not say anything about that.

Today marks the opening of the baseball season—both major league and Big Six—so far as Nebraska is concerned. Since every rag in the country has announced its selections for winners we'll be different and not say anything except that it will probably be the Yankees again in the American, and that it will probably not be the Phillies in the National.

Although it's doubtful that the weather will clear up enough to permit the Huskers to play Ames this afternoon at Muny, we'll put in our say for the baseball team now. They're a better team than the record indicates—they showed they had the stuff in beating California's good team 10-3 in which Nebraska made nary an error, and in which the Bears got only six hits off pitcher Lloyd Schmadeke, accounting for all their runs with homers.

The double loss to Colorado can be at least partly accounted for by the fact that Wilbur Knight used reserve pitchers, holding Schmadeke and Denning, his two best, for work against Iowa State.

Bob West, sophomore Indian backfield star of Oklahoma, won the O. U.—Oklahoma Aggie javelin throw with a 184 foot toss... which would go very far toward giving him a second in the Big Six meet... Bud Merrill, Frank Maderas and Emmet O'Neill, the three St. Mary's pitchers, who held Nebraska's hitless last week, fanned 20 batters... Nebraska didn't hit a ball out of the infield...

Clyde Jeffrey, Stanford's "white hope," Clyde Jeffrey, did a 47.9 quarter mile last weekend... Ben Eastman's record is 47.7... Paul Christman, Mizou's passer, is regular first baseman for the Tigar baseball team... Jim Brock, K. State's one-man pitching staff, held Kansas to three hits as the Wildcats beat Kansas Friday.

Girl swimming meet entrants must practice

All girls planning to compete in the girls intramural swimming meet must have at least three swimming practices. The last practice period will be held on Friday from 3 to 5 o'clock. The meet will be held on Saturday at 1 o'clock.

Rain hampers I-M softballers

Five Greek, three barb league set for action

Schedules for play in intramural softball, opening of which had been set for yesterday, have been announced, with 26 teams in five fraternity leagues and 18 teams in three barb leagues ready to go.

Three games in League 5, the six team fraternity league, were rained out yesterday, and it is likely that there will be little or no baseball played this week, because of the sticky condition of the clay on the new athletic field caused by the rain.

Barbs may begin Wednesday.

Barb competition, with games also scheduled for the new athletic field, has been set to start Wednesday, but their games may also be postponed because of bad weather. Four fields, which have been numbered 1, 2, 3, and 4 are available for play. Members of any varsity team now competing—baseball, track, golf or tennis—are ineligible for softball, as is anyone who has received a major or minor letter in baseball at any other school.

Members of League 1 in fraternity play are Alpha Gamma Rho, Delta Tau Delta, Farm House, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Nu.

In League 2 are Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Theta Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Upsilon.

League 3 entries are Alpha Tau Omega, Chi Psi, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Zeta Beta Tau. In League 4 are Beta Sigma Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Alpha Delta, Sigma Alpha Mu and Phi Gamma Delta. Acacia, Delta Sigma Pi, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi and Theta Xi are in League 5.

Playing in Barb League 1 are Q. T. club; Ag College Boarding club, Baldwin Hall, Johnson Hall, Mac's Ramblers, and Brown Palace. Gately's Club, Stratford, Cornhusker Co-op, Slogum House, 330 Athletic club and 28 Club are in League 2. Playing in League 3 are Dark Horse, Commanders, Blue Heaven, Brown Derbies, LL Club and Y. M. C. A.

'I forbid my daughter to play hockey!' writes 1913 mother

BY JOSEPHINE RUBNITZ.

Mothers of 1913 were afraid to send their daughters to college for fear that they would participate in such "rowdyish games" as hockey, according to the Nov. 1, 1913 edition of the DAILY NEBRASKAN, preserved in the scrap book of the A. W. S. board.

"Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning sees a long line of bloomer-clad girls with hockey sticks, running around the corner and down the slope leading from the girls' gymnasium in the armory building to the football field," an article published in the Lincoln STAR says.

Hockey is last straw.

One mother wrote most indignantly when her daughter asked permission to play hockey, "Hockey is the last straw. If the young women are required to cavort on a football field in bloomers to earn a college diploma, better go without it."

"We mothers spend years of endeavor to train our girls to be gentle women of culture, conservatism and refinement, only to have the work of years' painstaking undone. Our girls are taught to romp on the football field, to shout and scream. They become boisterous and acquire a swagger. I forbid my girl to play hockey."

ing undone. Our girls are taught to romp on the football field, to shout and scream. They become boisterous and acquire a swagger. I forbid my girl to play hockey."

Nebraska women also participated in track and had the honor of holding two world records in girls' track athletics, the Nov. 1, 1915, edition of the DAILY NEBRASKAN reports.

Woman's sphere broadens.

The records were the pole vault record of 6 feet 3 inches won by Miss Eva Fisk and the 40 yard hurdles, won by Miss Florence Simmons in 7 1-5 seconds. The article indicates that women were awarded letters and that the "women's sphere has broadened in universities to include athletics along with intellectual activities."
