

I-M softballers play six contests

Greek, Barb leagues to continue play today

The intramural softball season got under way yesterday afternoon as the new athletic fields got its baptism of fire in six contests. More games are scheduled this afternoon.

Alpha Tau Omega captured the first win over Chi Phi, 14 to 5, even the Ed Segrist, pitching for the losers, fanned 11 batters in the 5 inning encounter. Sid White held the losers to only five runs with Bill Wiley behind the plate for the A. T. O. squad.

Running up a substantial lead early in the game, Pi Kappa Alpha stood off a belated Sigma Alpha Epsilon rally and won, 8 to 4. Jim Leffler and William Horne were the Pi K. A. battery while Paul Brown and R. Ludwick handled the reins for the SAE's.

Jackson Stars.

Alpha Sigma Phi took the other game in league 2 by trouncing Delta Theta Phi, 22 to 15. Jack Jackson and Lynn Miller led the Alpha Sig battery while Therien and Jackson each collected four of the 22 runs.

All six teams in league 3 of the barb league saw action in last night's play. Willis Nickel, pitcher, and Shumaker, catcher, led the Dark Horse team to a victory over the Commanders, 17 to 7. Foster and Hallock were the battery for the losers. Brown Derby, led by Bill Aeschbecker and Ganeck defeated Blue Heaven squad, 10 to 4. The L. L. Club defeated the Y. M. C. A. team, 10 to 5, in an early inning splurge. Kennedy and Salyard were the battery for the winners.

Girls' last swimming practice to be Friday

New council takes office at spring mass meet

Cups for four years of outstanding participation in W. A. A. and intramural activities were awarded to Pauline Bowen, Betty Clements, Catherine Huwaldt, Marjorie Schick, Anne Soukup and Maxine Wertman, at the spring Women's Athletic association mass meeting last night.

Two $25 scholarships were awarded, one to Patricia Pope and the other to Miriam Martin. The recipients of the scholarships were chosen by outstanding ability in the underclass group.

Intramural representatives and sports board members were introduced. Newly elected members of the council and the new officers took office. Helen Kovanda took her oath as president. Elizabeth Waugh is the vice president, Betty Jean Ferguson, secretary; Hortense Casady, treasurer, and Mary Kline, concessions manager. Other members of the council are Patricia Pope, Elnora Sprague, Kathryn Kellison, Jane Austin, Mary Rosborough, and Jean MacAllister.

Elizabeth Waugh gave a report of the national W. A. A. convention held in San Francisco the first of this month.

Tri Delt meets Sigma Delta Tau archery team

Tri Delt will meet the Sigma Delta Tau archery team tonight in the first round of the girls' intramural archery tournament. The Kappa Delt's and the Gamma Phi's will run off their previous tie match.

Plock leads I-M bowlers with season's average of 187

Marv Plock, Husker backfield star, and ace member of the Acacia's bowling team, finished the intramural bowling season with a 187 average, highest of any man participating.

Plock had games of 182-168-204-215-181-200-173-169, his 204-215 series also being the best two game mark of the season. Other team leaders in league 3, in which the Acacias participated were Bill Buchanan, 179, for Sig Alpha; Bob Dreibus of Sig Eps, with 172; Forrest Blood of Sigma Nu with 161, and Sigma Chi's Al Lefferdink, with 158.

As I See It by June Bierbower

Nebraska fans, and Cornhusker students in particular, will get a chance to see their football team in action Saturday afternoon—if the good weather continues.

Jones has had to keep the public from watching practice mostly because there's no room for anyone else on the small practice field other than the players—but Saturday the boys who wish they were running the team will get to watch to their heart's delight.

It will be the student body's only chance to see a preview edition of Jones' 1939 team. There's no better way to get a line on a team than to see them, and if the game is held on the stadium field, we're advising all of you who can to come watch the Huskers in their first public spring appearance since 1937.

Sports stories, like times, do change, it seems. In fact, one doesn't have to go any farther than this campus—witness the stories concerning Nebraska's football team last spring as compared to those—what there are of them—of this spring.

Along about last April one Alan Gould, then Associated Press sports chief, dropped into Nebraska's spring practice. Even up to that time the Huskers had been pretty well talked about, but after Mr. Gould left Lincoln the tales really raged.

Gould wrote an article about the Huskers in which he, unintentionally although unfortunately put Biff Jones and his Husker gridders on a spot from which they didn't jump until along about the time they had lost five games.

No sports writers outside the state took any consideration of the inexperience of the Huskers, preferring to tell their readers about the prowess of Nebraska's vaunted frosh—who breathed fire and ate nails.

Now, the situation is reversed. Those freshmen, now in their sophomore year with one season of experience behind them, will be one year older and better next fall—but if you've seen anything about Nebraska's football pros-

Public may see final scrimmage

Jones to open gates if weather permits game to be played Saturday

Nebraska football fans will have an opportunity to see the Cornhusker grid team in action Saturday as the Harvards go against the Yales in the last scrimmage of the year, if weather permits the game to be played on the stadium field.

The game, to begin at 2 o'clock, will be the last appearance of the Huskers until they begin practice next fall in preparation for their 1939 season.

Harvards are leading the Yales, 6-3, and have two scrimmages remaining, one this afternoon, and Saturday's. Bob DeFruiter, star freshman back, has finished with spring football in order to catch up with studies he missed during a siege of flu. Louis Burger, frosh center candidate, suffered a sprained ankle in Tuesday's scrimmage.

pects in any papers outside of Nebraska except for a line or two of copy—you've seen lots more than we have.

However, we're not squawking about that, and neither is Biff Jones. There's nothing quite so much fun as an old fashioned surprise party—and Jones might come up with a few next year. Anyway, there is, at this time, no danger of the Huskers being overrated—and it's a lot simpler to be the underdog than the favorite.

Barb dance to feature speed, waltzing contests

Prize contests will again feature the barb dance this Saturday in the Union ballroom. Speed dancing and waltzing will be judged and the winners rewarded. The three hour dance session will begin at 7:30. The latest recordings have been secured by the Barb council for the affair. Admission is ten cents.

Losers lead after four innings; winners rally

The Yannigans led the Varsity for four innings, 2-1, as the two teams played one of their few practice games of the season, Tuesday afternoon, but the first stringers came thru to win, 7-2.

Brune, pitching for the second squad, allowed but two hits in the four innings he worked. He fanned four men, while on the mound, whiffing three straight in the second inning.

Brune and Worrall pitched for the Yannigans, and Atwood and Truscott were on the mound for the first string.

Wilson held the hitting honors for the day, getting four for four.

Diamond soft.

Taking all into consideration, a soft diamond and a grassy infield, both teams played good ball. Not until the fifth inning did the Varsity tie the game. In the sixth, they scored two more runs and were never headed.

Tom Moates, who has been doing much of the catching was at first base for the Varsity today, while Vernon Thomsen took Frank Rubino's post at third.
