

Central beats Prep 7-1 for baseball crown

Ben Miller of Tech wins tennis laurels

Creighton Prep's O'Hearn, Reedy pair to win doubles

Omaha Tech's Ben Miller came through in grand style yesterday to outlast Frank Ragan of Creighton Prep in a blistering final singles in the state high school tennis tournament 2-6, 8-6, 6-4 at the Lincoln Tennis club.

Miller advanced to the finals at the expense of Dick Richards, Omaha Central's ace player winning in straight sets 6-1, 6-4. Victim of Ragan in the semifinals was another Omahan, Keith Howard of Benson.

The finals of the doubles play was all Omaha also as Creighton Prep's duo of O'Hearn and Reedy, nipped the Benson team of Bob Havens and Wallace McDonald.

The Prepster's defeated a Norfolk pair of Bob Evans and Pete Durland in the semi-final play while Benson got by the Havelock team of Bob DeBord and Bob Hulbert who were trying to win back the title won by another Havelock duo last year.

Last year's singles champ was Johnny Huston, Lincoln High star and now University of Nebraska freshman who held the title for three straight years until his graduation.

Singing pupils plan annual spring recitals

Tempel, Miss Polley to present students in varied program

Students from the classes of Lillian Helms Polley and William G. Tempel, voice instructors at the school of music, will be heard in their annual spring recitals tonight at 7:30 and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock respectively.

Mrs. Polley's class includes very young singers as well as university students, and featured on her program will be several groups of youngsters. The boys and girls from the Unitarian church will compose one of these groups, singing Humperdinck's "The Children's Prayer." A girls triple trio, singing three numbers, will also be heard, as well as a girls chorus.

Four program sections. The program will be divided into the following sections: (1) From the repertoire of sacred songs; (2) From the repertoire of classical songs; (3) From the repertoire of modern songs; (4) From the repertoire of romantic songs. Accompanists for this recital will be Mrs. Walter Alkire and Mrs. James Blackman.

Ensemble work in the form of male choruses and quartets and women's choruses will be a special feature of the Tempel recital. A madrigal group will also sing for this program, composed of Louise Stapleton, Betty Bennet, Margaret Mead, Dorothy Del McClelland, Nate Holman, Earl Jenkins, Dale Ganz and Lynn Myers.

Stapleton, Holman to sing. Singing the popular "Libiam ne Belli calici," from Verdi's "La Traviata"—the song which Deanna Durbin made famous—will be Louise Stapleton, soprano, and Nate Holman, tenor.

Operatic arias and recitatives will be included on the recital, and such well known singers on the campus as Dale Ganz, Holman and Miss Stapleton, will be heard. Josephine Waddell and Paul LeBar will be accompanists.

Math honorary to hold prize exams on May 16

Pi Mu Epsilon, national honorary mathematics fraternity, will hold its annual prize examinations May 16 from 3 to 6 o'clock in mechanical arts hall. The room number will be posted on the MA third floor bulletin board.

The prizes will include a ten dollar award to the person with the highest score on the examination covering the freshman year algebra, trigonometry and analytic geometry, and a ten dollar award to the high man in the integral and differential calculus division.

Corn Cobs initiate 16

Frankforter praises actives for work done

Sixteen men were initiated into Corn Cobs, local chapter of Pi Epsilon Pi, national pep fraternity, Thursday night by the retiring active members. They were chosen from a list of 50 pledges on the basis of work done for the society since September.

Following a short ceremony, Corn Cob pins were given the new initiates by the old members, and keys were presented to the retiring members by Col. C. J. Frankforter, sponsor of the organization.

In a brief talk Colonel Frankforter commended the group for the work done the past semester to remove Corn Cob memberships from politics and to gain the respect of the faculty and students for the pep club as a worthwhile organization.

The new Corn Cobs are: Wendell Basye, Jules Busker, Leo Cooksley, Keith Gilmore, Carl Harnsberger, Norman Harris, Richard Hiatt, Robert Hunt, Marvin Kruse, George McMurtrey, Kenneth Miller, Robert O'Connell, Mylan Ross, Robert Simmons, Gerald Spain and Edwin Wittenberg.

Foundation offers award

Freshman to receive two weeks free camp

Leadership development combined with camping on the shores of Lake Michigan and Stony Lake will go with the two weeks summer leadership training scholarship offered this year by the Danforth Foundation to a university freshman in the field of journalism, commerce or business administration, a letter received by Dean T. J. Thompson revealed yesterday.

Paying a stipend of $45, an amount sufficient to cover all expenses for the two weeks of camping, aquatic events, dinners, and group councils, the Foundation, incorporated solely "for educational, charitable, religious, and humanitarian purposes" now in its 26th year of service aims at helping a Nebraska "four square" youth in developing his best qualities.

From applications at the Daily Nebraskan office or at the office of the dean of student affairs, the faculty scholarship committee will select five outstanding freshmen students to submit to the foundation awards committee. This committee will choose the one to receive the summer award.

Those serving on the Nebraska committee are Professor Charles Bernard Nutting of the Law school, L. E. Gunderson, Professor C. C. Wiggin, Amanda Heppner, and T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, chairman.

Four faculty members to address prep seniors

Commencement addresses which will be made by members of the faculty include: Prof. H. P. Davis, chairman of the department of dairy husbandry, Cook, May 23; Dr. H. E. Bradford, chairman of the department of vocational education, Red Cloud, May 25; Lincoln School of Commerce, May 26; Grand Island, June 2; Sargent, May 11; Silver Creek, May 12, and Millard, May 18; Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, department of secondary education, Johnson, May 22; Minden, May 23; Friend, May 25; York College, May 31; homecoming at Hastings College, June 3; Hebron College and Academy, June 4; and Kansas City Teachers College, June 6; and Dr. C. H. Patterson of the department of philosophy, Big Springs, May 14.

Track, baseball notes from 1939 championships

One of the biggest surprises of the meet was Don Yager's gold medal in the javelin. Yager, from Surprise, did just that, as he got 181-2 Friday to lead the qualifiers, and then did 183-5 Saturday to take the gold medal. Best favorite Howard Debus could get was 175-6.

Lawrence Retzlaff of Pierce who set a new record in the low hurdles, is a brother of Erv Retzlaff, who's playing baseball with Sioux City in the Western league now. Retzlaff the elder was a star athlete at Wayne, and a state sprint champion when he was in high school.

Shot put marks were below the usual Nebraska caliber. They couldn't come up to the marks set in recent years by men like Mills, Pfeiff, Rohn, Francis and Schleich. Best was by 150 pound St. Cyr, Winnebago's great Indian athlete. He did 48-11 1/2.

St. Cyr had a great day, winning two gold medals along with 19 1/4 points for high honors of the meet. His 22-6 7/8 in the broad jump, along with his shot effort brought his gold medals. He also won class C pole vault, and finished second in the 100 and fourth in the discus. St. Cyr has a peculiar running form, as he points one shoulder forward when he sprints.

It was a bad day for a number of defending champions, among whom was Bob McArthur, South Sioux City 440 champion. Harold McAferly, Gothenbury, and Lyle Rook of Ogallala, who tied with Jack Benger of Callaway, now a Nebraska frosh, for the high jump medal last year, relinquished laurels to Leonard Eornschiel, Ohiowa, in that event.

Ohiowa is coming in for its share of titles. They won the class C basketball tournament last March, and now they come thru with the title in class B track. And Leonard Eornschiel, who led them to their basketball title, had a great part in yesterday's victory. He was high jump medalist, and picked up seconds in both hurdles, the pole vault and in the broad jump in his class. Lincoln's class A title is their second of the year, the Red and Black having been football champions. As in football, it was Howard Debus who was the big noise. And Neligh, winners of class B came thru mainly by the efforts of its two backfield stars in football, Gene Grace and Les Reiss.

South Soo City was in on two surprises of the day yesterday, one pleasant, the other not so pleasant for them. Pole Vaulter Wiegand tied with Howard Debus at 12 feet even in the pole vault. Wiegand had never neared that mark before, while Debus had done it once. The boys took their first vaults very easily, both clearing 12 feet on their first attempt. However, with the bar at 12-3 neither came close. The team's unpleasant surprise came when Benson's Al Brown took the class A 440, he and another man finishing in front of the South Soo's state record holder, Bob McArthur.

Howard Debus, Lincoln's sensational field event man wanted to play in the baseball tournament. Debus, however, hadn't played baseball all year, so Coach Mueller didn't use him in the meet. He's normally the best hitter in school, and a great outfielder. Sophomore Wes Maser, who got a homer and a triple in the first two innings against Prep, is the leading hitter on the team excluding Debus. The boys are neighbors.

Don Morris, Scottsbluff, won three firsts for his team one a gold medal. He had 10 flat for the 100 yard dash medal, and was one-tenth of a second behind Neligh's Reiss for the 220 yard medal. His 22-5 in the broad jump was 1 7-8 inches behind that of St. Cyr. Blaine Lord of McCool Junction, winning the class C javelin, high jump and high hurdles, and third in the low hurdles.

Ossino allows losers but two safe blows as first state tourney ends

Central beats Millard 10-0; Prep nips Lincoln 7-5, in morning's semifinal games; new champs make runs on homers by Distefano, C. Vecchio, Urban Combining a heavy barrage of hitting with the two-hit pitching of Angelo Ossino, Central High of Omaha swept past Creighton Prep and into the high school state baseball championship, by a score of 7-1.

This fifth decisive victory for Central in the tournament gave them the trophy of the first high school baseball tournament ever to be held.

Central jumped into an early lead on a home run by Second Baseman Distefano scoring C. Vecchio. Two other homeruns accounted for the rest of the winner's scores. Urban brought three runs across in the second inning on his homer, and Charley Vecchio brought two more in on his homer in the seventh.

Nears no-hitter. Pitching brilliant ball Cassino seemed on the verge of a no-hit game. However, Prep's pitcher, Kranda, spoiled any hopes by cracking out a single in the sixth. Dunn, the losers' catcher, added the second hit, given up by Angie in the last of the seventh. Two misplays were made by the Centralites and only four walks were given up by Ossino.

Fifth victory for Central. Central defeated Valparaiso 12-0, Prague 12-0, Emerson 19-3, and Millard 10-0, and then hung the 7-1 defeat upon the Prep team to win the championship.

Prep takes Lincoln. Creighton Prep moved into the finals yesterday as they had one big inning, the second, to beat Lincoln, 7-5. The Red and Black team led off with two runs in the first, and three in the second, but the little Bluejays came back with six runs in their half of the canto, to put them out in front.

They added their final tally in the fourth, as John Hanna, who replaced Bill Wachtler at the start of the third held Lincoln scoreless throughout the last five innings. Big blow of the game was by the slugging Wes Maser of Lincoln, who with two out and a man on base, hit a homer which bounced over the left fielder's head. Maser had previously led off in the first inning with a triple.

Central beats Millard. Neal Baltzer, Central's No. 2 pitcher, limited Millard's little team to two hits as he struck out nine men in his team's 10-0 win. The Centralites scored their 10th run in the sixth inning, the game being called then.

Charley and Ordie Vecchio and Diz Distefano led the Central boys, each getting two hits, one of Charley Vecchio's being a home run. The winners got their runs on eight hits along with six errors by the Millard team. Summary: Millard ab o a l Central ab h o a

Sportsmanship of Tri Delts features game

One of the finest displays of sportsmanship seen in recent years was shown in the final game of the girls intramural basketball tournament when Jeannette Mickey, captain of the Tri Delt team, took out a player, so as to even the sides when one of the Independent players had to be removed because of an injured knee. The Independent team had no eligible substitutes and intended to play short. The Tri Delts won the game 36 to 21 with a forward wall, consisting of Virginia and Doris Patterson and Pris Wicks, that was impossible to beat. The Independent team was good but didn't have quite the co-operation to push ahead.

Rural economists attend land conference June 23

Prof. H. C. Filley and Prof. L. F. Garey, rural economists at the Nebraska college of agriculture, will take part in the midwest land tenure conference at Davenport, Ia., June 2 and 3.

Representatives of various colleges, insurance companies, the Farm Credit administration, and farmers will discuss land tenure problems and seek to find means of improving the tenancy situation. The Farm Foundation of Chicago is sponsoring this round table conference.
