

Mingling With Marg

Heat heralded as the conversational topic of the day, with exams and back work coming in a close second... thoughts also center on the advent of swimmin' weather—which offers the week's biggest temptations... and about the only social event of the week end (outside of cram sessions, of course) will be the Rag picnic—all the staff will journey off on their united afternoon of play Friday afternoon—and the most taboo subject will probably be journalism... yesterday's excitement centered around the arrival of Johnny, the Phillip Morris (adv) man in the Grib, and the mob scene around him and his car was a sight to be seen... and in the background stood Delta Gamma Frannie Boldman peddling Raleigh's for all she was worth... at the tea dance was the same old crowd, like Kappa Mollie Woodward, Theta Betty Jane Dutch, DU Leonard Dunker, Sigma Alpha Mu Irv Yaffe—and scads of others, all whipping it off to mad swing songs even in the heat of the day... and on the romantic side of things, an unexpected candy passing was pulled Tuesday night at the Chi Omega house when Frances Spenser and Kenny Ekwall, Palladian, treated everyone... and another recent pin hanging is that of Sig Alph Clark O'Hanlon and Kappa Ellie Lutz... the big event of this day will be the Nebraska-Oklahoma baseball game at 4—and it should be one of the year's best games... and those super-warm drill outfits, brought on by military inspection, look like the most uncomfortable clothes possible right now... New pledges at Theta Xi are Seward Imes, Dale Anderson, Luke White, and Warren Jones.

Freshman speech class to present play tonight

The play, "The Devil Passes," will be presented by the freshman speech class at 7:30 tonight in the Temple theater. The DAILY NEBRASKAN erroneously reported yesterday that the production was open to the public. According to Miss Boynton, speech instructor, the play is open only to a limited number.

BULLETIN.

The campus chapter of Masada chapter will meet tonight at 7:30 in Room 315 of the Union.

ROTC to drill for inspectors

Second day of federal inspection features parade

The second day of the annual R. O. T. C. inspection will get under way today with a number of practical and theoretical examinations. The high spot of the day will be at 5 o'clock when all R. O. T. C. units will combine in a parade and review.

The first year basics under Major Hudson will receive a practical examination on first aid and rifle marksmanship at 9, and at 10 o'clock the second year basics, under Major Ayotte, will undergo a practical test on tactical problems.

At 1 o'clock, there will be a practical test on the machine gun, 37 mm gun, mortar and pistol for the first year advanced students

Trio to entertain at home economics tea Saturday

A girls' trio, under the direction of Mrs. Altina Tullis of the school of music, will provide entertainment for a tea to be held Saturday from 3:30 to 5 o'clock in the home economics parlors. The tea is being sponsored by the home economics association. Maxine Copsey is in charge of the program.

under Major Green. At 2, there will be two cadet companies in their regular instruction period of close order drill available to the Inspector.
