

As I See It
by June Bierbower

Since Dave Thompson has a review of Husker sports written in another column in this page, we'll start out with the finish—in other words put another peg in for Nebraska's Cornhuskers who put a smashing end to the Husker athletic season by snatching the track crown off the heads of Oklahoma, Missouri and Co.

After the Huskers lost the Minnesota dual meet, Bob Simmons said that they would win the Big Six title despite their apparently poor season, saying further that he didn't mind being quoted on that. Because of the fact that things said in this column never come true, because we didn't want to put Bob on the spot, and because we never did get around to writing about it, Simmons' prediction didn't appear here. However, it is a lot safer to talk about predictions when you know it won't do any harm.

A number of interesting decisions etc. came out of the meeting of Big Six athletic directors and faculty representatives at Ames...among them were the denying of any school the privilege to play ten football games a year...Oklahoma wanted to add a tenth one, Oregon, to their schedule... However, in our own little opinion, the ninth game on the Sooner schedule will give the Norman boys all the football they want for a while...in case you don't know whom they play then, it's a team named Nebraska...tip: next year's Big Six track meet won't be at Ames...also, did you notice Missouri will replace Kansas on the Huskers' track schedule next year?

W. T. Howell, the Oklahoma Sooner two-miler who sings as he runs along in last place when he races, looked as tho he had been by by Elmer Hackney and Ed Widseth after a pole vaulting standard had beamed him...Bob Neumann, Husker, was vaulting at the time, and Howell flopped on the track as the standard hit him...two fellows carried him off in regulation football fashion...big feature of the meet at Ames was the sorority-dormitory 880 relay...Names of campus men, mostly athletes, were put in a hat, and each sorority or dorm drew out four names, and the men whose names they drew represented them in the relay...the girls feed their representatives for a week preceding the big race... what with Chuck Heileman, Everett Kischer, Bronko Reuke and a few others in it, the boys, altho they weren't Paddock's, furnished plenty of laughs.

Three great Big Six athletes spoke over the public address systems Saturday. 1—John Munski; said something to the effect that he was sorry he didn't break the record in the 880, but that he was glad he didn't have to run in the two mile. No. 2— Elmer Hackney, led. the spectators to know the meet was one of the few in which he didn't break a record. The third speaker—and our pick was the only boy who

SAE's get 925 points

Sig Eps finish with 830; winners take five championships

When the final curtain was drawn on the Greek intramural circuit this spring, Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the holder of the Jack Best trophy with a grand total of 925 points.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, second best of the group, lacked 95 points of tying the winners and the winner was not decided until the semifinals of the softball meet were finished.

Five championships fell to the SAE's in their victorious campaign to the traditional award of the Jack Best trophy. They started out by annexing volley ball, then golf, class A basketball, and basketball free throw in the fall and winter season. They topped it off this spring by winning the final sport, softball.

Beta Theta Pi was the only other multi-sport winner, copping tennis and ping pong. The Sig Eps won the opening fall sport, touch football while the ATO's copped water polo. Theta Xi walked off with the class B basketball title, Kappa Sigma won bowling, Sigma Alpha Mu took handball and the track laurels fell to Phi Gamma Delta, to finish out the quota of 13 sports.

set a record, Bob Simmons. Bob simply said he was glad to be at Ames, thanked the announcer for the privilege of speaking, and said he hoped that Nebraska won the relay and won the meet.

Since there's not room for any sad farewells to close this year we'll put in a parting word to thank everyone, coaches, athletes, commentators, sports writers (even Fred Ware) general public, etc. who has helped us out this semester. It's been fun—and I think even Freddie will admit, that life's a lot easier when you enjoy it.

Girls to wind up tennis tourney by end of week

Track, gym titles furnish NU athletic bright spots of year

By David Thompson.

Brightest spots in the 1938-39 Husker sports calendar were the surprise win of the Big Six outdoor track and field laurels at Ames Saturday and the success of the gymnastic team in the western A. A. U. meet which they won, and even that was not in conference competition.

A bad early season start in football relegated the Scarlet and Cream to an unaccustomed tie for third and fourth with Missouri, but the sting of that was levitated by the brilliant finish of the season.

Top honors in basketball fell elsewhere also as the Huskers dropped to fifth position with only Kansas State below. Indoor track was another headache to Nebraska fans with fifth place again the spot for the Huskers.

Wrestlers fourth.

With a fairly successful premeet schedule behind them, the wrestling team entered the Big Six meet and were dropped to fourth position as Jim Knight, star matman, was under the weather with the flu and unable to enter full competition.

In tennis the Nebraska representatives were more successful

Coliseum baskets must be cleared by June 3

The coliseum locker rooms will be open from 10-12 and 4-6 May 24 to June 3, inclusive. All baskets must be cleared on or before June 3.

I-M baseball tourney to close Thursday

Raymond hall, Gamma Phi Beta and the Independent teams were victorious in the girls intramural baseball games last night. Raymond hall won from the Delta Gammas 11 to 4, Thetas defaulted to the Gamma Phis and the Alpha Xi Deltas lost 23 to 0 to the Independents. Phi Beta Phi will meet Gamma Phi Beta, the Tri Delt group 1 will meet Alpha Chi Omega 2, tonight in the quarter finals. The tournament will end with the final game on Thursday.

Ray Baxter gets Norfolk coaching job

Ray Baxter, who won the Big Six indoor high jump last year, has been selected coach at Norfolk high as successor of Virgil Yelkin, another ex-Husker, who has accepted the coaching job at Fremont.

Baxter, in view of his good work as assistant coach last year, and the high esteem in which he is held by both the faculty and student body, was picked over several applicants. He is considered one of the best classroom teachers at Norfolk.

Baxter, an excellent student at Nebraska, played basketball for two years, winning "B" team awards in that sport. He transferred here from a junior college in Kansas, and won major letters in track. He holds the university's high jump record, having done 6 feet 4 inches in a dual against Kansas last year.

Kent State university's wrestling team has won 45 straight victories on its home mat.
