Chi Phi fraternity will honor its pledges at a buffet supper this evening at the chapter house. The fraternity's mothers club is sponsoring the affair.

New dates ran into former steadies at Blue Barron Friday night when Lee Taylor, Beta, appeared with Delta Gamma pledge Mary Lou Johnson instead of the usual Chi Omega; when Dorothy Wind was seen without her usual Jimmy Jones of the Sigma Nus—shall we go on?—Sigma Nu president, Bill Mowbray, divides his time between two "Nebraska Sweethearts" Kappa Jeanne Newell and Theta Margie McKay—who will it be after November, Bill?—Another Beta taken out of circulation since Ed Huwaldt has started going steady with Bobby Schuff.

Recent visitors at the museum were A. Van Niekork, assistant engineer for the Transvaal provincial administration, Pretoria, South Africa; J. H. Edwards, assistant engineer for the Cape provincial administration, Cape Town, Union of South Africa; and Matias Mackinlay, an engineer at Buenos Aires, South America.

15 receive diplomas from army air school

Fifteen cadets received their diplomas from the school for army air cadets here today. They will be sent to Randolph Field, Tex., for further instruction, according to Lieut. Roy T. Wright the school commandant.

Neutrality--

tier with her "friend" Rumania and so Hitler's threats lack a little of the punch that they might have had. Beside contracts with the democracies, transportation difficulties keep Rumanian oil from nazi airplanes.

Turkey is drifting toward the Russian camp, a trend started by the Turk iron man, Mustafa Kemal, who recently died. Allied diplomacy has not forgotten the terrible ordeal at the Dardenelles but seems unable to make the Turks forget Russia is so near and so big.

1914 tactics again.

When at last the big offensive comes, many think it will be a German drive thru Holland and Belgium as of old. Their defenses are weak and behind them the French fortifications on the Belgian border are incomparable to the Maginot line around which the nazi would be making a beautiful "end run." The Belgians and Dutch may call the sea to their aid by cutting the dykes.

Fate of the great nazi liner, the Bremen is still as much a mystery as ever despite satirical German cracks made against American holding of the ship for 22 hours; "Out of the Trenches by Christmas"; Ford is studying anti-war measures; German airplane service has been renewed where discontinued because of lack of gasoline, could Russia give some light on the brand now used?; Germans are trying blackberry leaves, apple peels and stawberry leaves instead of the "old fashioned" British tea; an American Pole died after hearing Hitler's Danzig speech, but a lot of Polish Poles died before it.

Canadian participation in the war will affect our weather maps because Canadian weather men will be doing other things besides cooperating with the U. S. on such "trivialities;" Russia, Italy, Britain, France and the United States all have more submarines than Germany and the English claimed some time ago that they had sunk 18 of the nazi's 71 U-boats; in calculating the price of peace Americans should consider that in 1938 the U. S. sold over three-quarters of a billion dollars worth of goods to the four nations now at war.

Cheerleaders to report at ATO house for trials

Prospective cheer leaders will report for try-outs 5 p. m. Tuesday at the A. T. O. house, announced Roy Proffitt, member of the Innocent committee in charge. All those who expect to attend are asked to know the words of Nebraska cheers and songs.

Proffitt said he anticipates a large turnout as several new stunts are planned for the cheerleaders this year.

Coaches--

The backfield, as listed by Glenn Pressnell had Buster Knight, Roy Petsch, Marvin Thompson and Theos Thompson at quarterback. Fullbacks were Vike Francis, Wayne Blue, Henry Rohn; wingbacks or right halfbacks were Walter Luther, Bob Kahler and Bob DeFruiter, while Harry Hopp, Hermie Rohrig and George Porter were the left halfbacks mentioned.

Adolph Lewandowski, fresh coach, discussed the first year team, which now lists over 125 members ranging in size from 140 to 246 pounds. He said:

"As I looked at these boys today, I wondered how many of them would still be with us four years hence. But I can say this. Every one of them is eligible at the moment."

Hoosiers--

put much stress on a passing game, what with Tim Bringle, a fine passer last year, back tossing from a left halfback position. Behind him are Harold Hursh and Mickey McGuire, two triple threats.

Makes name for self.

At right halfback will probably be Tuffy Brooks, who was out last year after having made a name for himself as a freshman sensation two years ago. Three fine fullbacks, Ray Dumke, Joe Tofil, and Eddie Herbert, will have it out at that position. Herbert is a low slung plunger, built along the lines of the Huskers' Hermie Rohrig.

Bill Tipmore, six foot, three inch pass catcher and blocker, is leading the quarterback race, and will have fine support from Page Benson and Kenny Smith. All in all ten of the seventeen backs listed on the Hoosier roster are lettermen, and the Indiana attack should be more versatile, more experienced, and faster and stronger than last year.

Strong at Ends.

The Hoosiers will be strong at end and guard in the line. Five lettermen return at end—John Janzaruk, Russ Higginbotham, Eddie Rucinski, Jim Ellenwood, and discus-throwing Archie Harris, giant 6-3, 215 pound colored boy.

Captain Jim Logan, probably the outstanding man on the team, will be at one guard. He backs up the line on defense, is a tough blocker, and does much of the Hoosiers' placekicking. Bill Smith and Mike Buccianieri, lettermen, and a group of sophomore prospects all are in line for the other post.

Russ Sloss has been graduated, and Dwight Gahn, his substitute at center last year, should take over the pivot post. Walter Jurkiewicz, a fine sophomore prospect, will understudy him as will Mike Naddeo and Don Werdine, two lettermen. Tackles are a problem, but at this writing it looks as though Emil Uremovich and Al Sabol, lettermen. Frank "Tiny" Trimble, leads the sophomore contenders.

Dr. Morton to deliver three speeches Sept. 29

Dr. W. H. Morton, chairman of the department of secondary education, will give three addresses on the program of the Boone county, Ia., teachers institute Sept. 29. He will appear before the junior high school and college faculties speaking on the subjects "Improving Reading Among High School Students," "The School Educates for Democracy," and "The High School Teacher Asks for Supervision."

All they really are is ice cream, topped with syrup

Sundaes, the delicious delirium of dextrose, first saw the light of day in a little old Ohio church town when, because they contained a small percentage of alcohol, sodas were banned on Sundays. The two druggists in the town banded together and concocted the great American substitute.

Lucky is the girl who can indulge in a delicious gooey nut-crowned confection with nary a regard for her figure; luckier still is the one whose one and only has a "larger than coke" pocketbook. Several such lucky girls have ventured forth with social and economic comments on this vital campus topic. Eleanor Collier and Lois Owens combine their cokes with ice cream and call them "dopes." They brought back this novel idea from the Alpha Xi Delta convention held in Ashville, N. C., this summer.

Sounds icky to us.

Best dressed girl Betty Bachman rarely joins her Alpha Chi sisters in sundae eating, but she is a teaser for a Bear Cat special. Denver's chief claim to fame, other than Pi Phi pledge Shirley Faytinger, is coffee ice cream drowned in chocolate marshmallow goup.

Tri Delt Pris Wicks is quite an authority on the subject of sundaes, after a summer behind a soda fountain in Estes park. She mixed a Wicks Special which consisted of a dash of everything. The brave few who tried them vowed allegiance to cokes.

Triple dipper here.

Dorothy Swoboda, Kappa Delt president, prefers a combination of chocolate ice cream topped with a triple dip of chocolate goup and maraschino cherry juice capped with a cherry. Betty Jane Lawson, new Alpha Xi Delt, prefers "bronco" sundaes—a buck apiece. Marian Kani likes her clowns served to her on a silver dish. They consist of a dipper of chocolate, vanilla and strawberry ice cream covered with chocolate, vanilla and strawberry goup.
