Ed. Note—The DAILY NEBRASKAN, like all newspapers, has been accused of overplaying its news dealing with war. The fact that war of aggression is real and something to be seriously considered by every student, makes it our duty to interpret and post the news as it comes to us. Realizing these circumstances, and believing that student opinion possibly influences public thought, we publish this poll. We ask seriously and sincerely that you take a moment to fill out the questionnaire. It is our fervent hope to gather and tabulate a general student opinion on this campus. Please fill out the poll, tear it from the paper, and drop it in a box for campus mail located in any building; drop it in the box of the DAILY NEBRASKAN bulletin board in the Union lobby, or deliver it to this office.

Cobs to use memorial bell in first rally

Parade, fireworks, speeches will start at 6:30 in stadium

Tonight, after a silence of more than 13 years, the bell that formerly hung in the tower of University hall will summon Cornhusker rooters for the first pre-game rally of the year.

The old bell, which has been stored in the basement of Morrill, was taken out yesterday afternoon and entrusted to the Corn Cobs for use at rallies and games.

Starts at 6:30.

Beginning at 6:30 in the east stadium, the rally program will include cheers, fireworks, and speeches. Bob Ramey, game captain, and Biff Jones will speak before the assembled rooters.

When the stadium program is over the students will parade, behind the bell, to the Burlington station where they will see the team, already entrained, leave for Indiana at 7:30.

The rally committee has asked that students and organized houses set up their dinner hour so that they may attend the rally. Students are also asked to enter the south gate at the stadium. The committee also ruled that no cars may be driven in the parade.

New law students to get acquainted at annual smoker

With the law college's new official song being sung by a quartet as the first of a series of entertaining events, the lawyers, tonight, introduce the program and traditions of the college to those newly enrolled.

This annual smoker and get-together for students and faculty will meet at 7:30 in the law building auditorium. Immediately upon the exit of the quartet, the new song will be taught to the freshmen and then the entire group will render their vocal services. The college, feeling themselves badly in need of an official song, has adopted a song written by Chauncey Barney of Lincoln, who graduated in June.

Doyle to welcome laws.

Dean H. H. Foster after making an opening statement will introduce the acting chairman of the Nebraska Law School association. A number by the quartet will follow and then the master of ceremonies will introduce Prof. J. A. Doyle, Professor Doyle will welcome and introduce the new students to the work and traditions of the college. Next comes professional piano-song and pianotap dancing entertainers, followed by refreshments and cigars.

All of the new freshmen enrolled in the law school will automatically become members of the Nebraska Law School association. This association which embraces all within the college tends to create a greater unity among the lawyers.

Selleck announces student ticket sales hit 2,500 mark

Books remain on sale until Gopher game

Daily Nebraskan editor Niemann draws name of Wilma Arter first

John K. Selleck, athletic business manager, announced Wednesday night that student ticket sales have reached the 2,500 mark, about equal with last year's sales. He emphasized the fact that the drawing of numbers does not mean that sales are closed and that students can still get activity books before the Minnesota game.

Alpha Xi Delta is the luckiest of the social organizations included in yesterday's drawing of over 300 tickets for seats in the student section of Memorial stadium, being number 18 in the unfinished list compiled late Wednesday. Theta Xi is 21, the Palladian literary society 27, and Delta Tau Delta 37, in order of the numbers drawn by Harold Neimann, editor of the DAILY NEBRASKAN Wednesday afternoon.

Wilma Arter, Arts and Science freshman of 1717 J st., Lincoln, is owner of the first number drawn.

Following Alpha Xi Delta, other organizations, and the order in which they were drawn, are as follows:

- Delta Upsilon, 31
  - Delta Tau Delta, 37
  - Alpha Omicron Pi, 43
  - Acacia, 44
  - Delta Gamma, 47
  - Alpha Sigma Phi, 57
  - Sigma Alpha Mu, 64
  - Kappa Sigma, 69
  - Alpha Tau Omega, 76
  - ACBC, 77
  - Pi Beta Phi, 82
  - Raymond Hall, 120
  - Kappa Alpha Theta, 151
  - Delta Theta Pi, 152
  - Pi Kappa Alpha, 158
  - Baldwin Hall, 159
- The next 15 names drawn after Miss Arter's number are listed in order:
- Frank Gilmore
  - Gerald Davis
  - Thomas Price
  - J. Kent Baukhan
  - John J. Speery
  - Wendell Snocker
  - Lucretia Thelsen
  - Amalie Svoboda
  - Richard C. Boe
  - Evelyn Lambert
  - John L. Stanley
  - Henry F. Meyers, Jr.
  - William Shepherd
  - Robert C. Kovarik
  - Roland Morgan

Reservations will be given out on the basis of Wednesday's drawing. The choicest of the 6,000 seats in the first 30 rows between the 20 yard lines of east stadium will go to groups and individuals as they were drawn.

Holders of activity tickets, selling at $5 are admitted to all football and basketball games, track meets, baseball games, wrestling and swimming meets.

Nazis report final capture of Warsaw

French claim shell barrage destructive to Siegfried forts

LATE.

Moscow held the key to the fate of Asia and eastern Europe early this morning, as diplomats from Turkey, Germany, Japan, Russia and the Baltic states conferred. A soviet-Japanese non-aggression pact was anticipated. Also, a Balkan control pact was hinted. At any rate, Stalin holds the aces and will probably get his demands for a naval base in Estonia.

Frankforter administers frosh oath

'Biff' Jones, Deans Thompson and Hosp greet class of '43

Members of the class of 1943 gathered in the university coliseum and pledged their loyalty to the institution, its faculty, its traditions, and its purpose, Wednesday at 11 a. m.

The Cornhusker oath was administered to the class of 1943 by Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the chemistry department.

Brief welcoming addresses were given by Helen Hosp, dean of women; T. J. Thompson, dean of men; and Major Lawrence "Biff" Jones.

Extra curriculars good.

"If engaged in wisely and with the right kind of guidance, extra curricular activities are to be encouraged among all students," Miss Hosp declared. "Educators are interested in after-school activities because they now realize that these events can and develop social intelligence, which is the art of living co-operatively with others."

War and U. S. forum topic for today

Winnacker to discuss European situation at 4 this afternoon in Union

"The European War and the United States," will be the topic discussed by Dr. Rudolph Winnacker at the first in the new series of forums on war which opens this afternoon at 4:00 in Room 316 of the Union. These forums are sponsored by the Union and arts and sciences college.

—Lincoln Journal.
PROF. RUDOLPH WINNACKER... first forum speaker.

Dr. Winnacker will outline the factors that seem to be pushing us into the present war, and also those factors that seem to be keeping us out of war. He will also discuss the implications to be considered and the attitudes involved in the beliefs that we should keep entirely free from foreign entanglements, that we should stay out of the war but send supplies, and that we should enter the war.

Following Dr. Winnacker's talk a roundtable discussion will be held.

New students to attend tea

Dean Hosp sponsors annual mixer today

Westover, assistant to the dean of women, Margaret Klinker, chairman of panhellenic, Katherine Hendy, social director of Raymond hall and Esther Ostland, Y. W. C. A. secretary.

A garden effect will be created in Ellen Smith hall by the grouping of palms, baskets of ferns and flowers.

Musical program.

A musical program will be presented throughout the afternoon by members of Sigma Alpha Iota, Delta Omicron, and Phi Mu Epsilon.

Wade enjoys peaceful trip on South American cruise

"Ours was a nice peaceful voyage—one I would enjoy making again," stated Prof. Otis Wade of the zoology department when interviewed about his recent 30 day cruise of Caribbean sea ports.

Sailing on board the S. S. Vest Vangen, which is an 8,000-ton cargo boat of a Norwegian line, Professor Wade and his wife left New Orleans early in August and returned to the same port during the first week of this month. During their travels they visited the capital city of Venezuela, Caracas, which is located in the Andes, and ports in Dutch Guiana, Curacao and Santo Domingo.

The most exciting part of the voyage, according to Professor Wade, was the 100-mile trip made up the narrow, twisting Cottica river in Dutch Guiana to the inland port of Moengo. Often during the trip up the river, the boat almost touched the heavy jungle foliage overhanging both banks of the river. However the depth of the river prevented the boat from grounding. For the last 20 miles, the ship was pulled stern foremost up the river by a tug.

Americans finance mining.

Upon arriving at Moengo, the Vest Vangen took aboard a cargo of bauxite or aluminum ore. This brown ore varied in size from dust to pieces the size of crushed rock.
