

Fraternity house parties cap victory with hilarity

Scarlet and cream is central theme football celebrations

A pep party with cream and red decorations will be the buffet supper at the Alpha Xi Delta house tonight. Pris Campsey will be with Don Bowers, Genevieve Smith and Herb Dow, Pi K. A., Eleanor Collier and Henry Dresf, and Mary Brian and Jim Smith, Acacia.

Treasure hunting followed by a weiner roast at Antelope park is in store for the Theta Xi pledges and their dates this afternoon. Their arrangements are all secret from the actives and are arousing much curiosity around the house. Some couples who will be there are Dale Anderson and Marjorie Morris, and Louis Knudsen and a little girl from Crete. (She was with him at the game.) Herb Williams will be with Katherine Hanley, and Gifford Rogers with Marjorie Mull.

Fine stuff! Joe Saunders, Chi Phi, drew the lucky number which won the varsity-autographed football at the Barb hour dance in the Union last night. Maybe his being with Barbara Clark made it legal.

Phi Mu sorority entertained last night with a nautical house party for the pledges. Decorations included a gangplank leading up to the door, mammoth life savers, anchors, fishnets hanging from the ceiling filled with balloons, flags for each sorority and fraternity on the campus, and a United States flag made of balloons. Jody Marshall was with Paul Miller, Billie Greene with John Hendricks, Eleanor Veith and Norman Hibbard. Sig Ep; Dottie McCartney and Rudge Vifquain, Sigma Nu, and Frannie Vaughn with Ernie May, Sig Ep.

Chancellor and Mrs. C. S. Boucher were hosts on Saturday at luncheon and at the Nebraska-Minnesota football game to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Jeffers, Mrs. Margaret Hynes, Dr. and Mrs. G. Alexander Young, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Davis, all of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Huse of Norfolk, and Miss Helen Hosp of Lincoln.

Mr. Jeffers is president of the Union Pacific railroad. Dr. Young and Dr. Davis are from the college of medicine campus, where they are chairmen of the departments of neuro-psychiatry and urology respectively. Mrs. Hynes, a prominent Omaha citizen, has been interested in the development of the university for many years. In August, 1938, she established the William J. Hynes, jr., scholarships in agriculture amounting to $500 each year. Mr. Huse is publisher of the Norfolk News, and Miss Hosp is the new dean of women.

Patty Berg watches Gophers lose to Huskers

Patty Berg, greatest woman golfer in the world, saw her favorite football team, Minnesota, go down to defeat yesterday. Miss Berg, a freshman at Minnesota U.,

MISS PATTY BERG

—Lincoln Journal and Star. has been touring the northwest with a group of alums, who made the 5,000 mile trip in behalf of their student activities building fund.

She will finish her freshman year at Minnesota this fall at the end of the first quarter, having missed one quarter last year because of her absence from school during the winter due to her golfing activities in the south.

She has traveled 85,000 miles in five years of competitive golf, the distance including the western trip.

Miss Berg, a tomboy as a little girl, has been following the Gophers' football fortune for a long time, and is one of their most rabid rooters.

New York City's four municipal colleges enroll more than 52,000 students yearly.

French club brings film

'Grand Illusion' to play at Varsity Saturday

Banned in Italy and Germany, but highly acclaimed by all Americans, "Grand Illusion," a French motion picture, will be brought to the Varsity theater next Saturday morning by the French club. There will be showings of the picture at 9 and 11 a. m. Admission is 25c.

Fannie Hurst has said of this film: "It strikes straight to the heart of humanity." Helen Hayes said: "I loved Grand Illusion. What an orgy of good acting it is!" Samuel Goldwyn has exclaimed: "A challenge to Hollywood. The most brilliantly directed film I have seen in years."

The setting of the film is in a German prison camp during the World war. It presents the German characters without prejudice or bitterness, among the French, British and Russian soldiers.

Included in the cast are Jean Gabin, Pierre Fresnoy, and Erich von Stroheim. Jean Renoir wrote and directed the film "Grand Illusion." He considers the human element the most important factor portrayed in the picture.

Counselors meet Tuesday

Coed Counselors will hold their annual mass meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 10 at Ellen Smith at 7 o'clock to explain their hobby groups to new students.

All Coed Counselors and their little sisters are asked to attend the meeting. Girls who have signed up for hobby groups or who are interested in doing so are urged to be present to learn about the time and procedure of their hobby groups.

Fern Steuteville, president of the Coed Counselor board, will introduce board members, leaders of the hobby groups, and faculty sponsors Elsie Ford Piper and Letta Clark.

Hobby groups this year are tap dancing, scrapbook, reading, and charm school. Each group will meet on alternate weeks twice a month, and the meeting time and group leaders will be revealed at the meeting.

Social workers to hear ag college professor

Dr. Ruth M. Leverton, in charge of research in human nutrition at the college of agriculture, will address the annual meeting of the Nebraska conference for social work in Omaha Monday on the subject "A Budget for Nutrition Essentials."

Beg your pardon!

The name of Ervine Green was inadvertently omitted from a recent article naming members of the editorial board of the Nebraska Law Bulletin.

'Twas a night fer the naughty wi' lights oot'

Formally clad, chatting with friends and thoroely enjoying themselves were over 800 faculty members Friday evening at the reception given by Mrs. C. S. Boucher at Carrie Belle Raymond hall when almost on the stroke of nine a mutual cry of horror and fear arose.

At exactly the same minute the dancing in the Union stopped short and disorder reigned.

It was a "blackout" typical of European countries.

But was it bombs? Nope. The lights just went out.

Operating Superintendent L. F. Seaton explained the 10-minute darkness as "nothing serious—just a slight disorder with the circuit breaker."

"This is the first time both the Union and the dormitory were on full blast at the same time. They receive current from the same circuit and some adjustments had to be made," he stated.

Perrine--

Demonstrations. The demonstration and lecture will show the important trends and developments in the telephone industry, and purposes and differences in the various types of telephone circuits now in use, and the many problems that must be considered in establishing telephone communications, which, says Dr. Perrine, is more than a matter of fastening a receiver on a pair of wires.

More than a ton of equipment is being brought to Lincoln for the show, according to Prof. Lloyd Bingham of the department of electrical engineering. Two engineers from the American Telephone company will be in the city several days before the program to install equipment and with the assistance of the Lincoln Telephone company, connect the Union with five pairs of circuits needed for the sound demonstration.
