

Prince Loewenstein addresses convo today

TEACHERS CONVENTION REGISTRY OPENS TODAY

Over 4,000 secondary and elementary school instructors gather for district meet in Lincoln

Registration for over 4,000 teachers, expected to attend the annual District No. 1 Nebraska State Teachers association convention opens this morning at 8 in the Cornhusker hotel, headquarters for the affair.

Meetings will continue today and tomorrow in the Student Union and in Lincoln schools and hotels.

Dr. L. R. Alderman, director of the education and service division of WPA in Washington will deliver the opening address this morning on "The High Cost of Low Education."

Division meetings.

Division meetings in mathematics, mental hygiene, physical education, and science will be held today at 2 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. K. O. Turner of Waverly will act as chairman and Josephine E. Wible of Lincoln is secretary.

Among the special events of the convention are several luncheons today and tomorrow. A commercial luncheon is scheduled in the Union at noon today while tomorrow noon, the Lindell hotel will be the site of a classroom teachers luncheon. At Whittier junior high, home economics teachers will lunch while normal training instructors meet at the Cornhusker. The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a courtesy program tomorrow evening at 8 in the coliseum.

A. C. E. publications will be on display during the convention on the mezzanine of the Cornhusker and N. S. T. A. books will be shown there and in Park school tomorrow afternoon.

Speakers at the general sessions of the convention today will be today, Dr. F. E. Henzlik, teachers college dean on "Plan of the Convention;" Chancellor Boucher on "Adjusting Education to Reality;" Dr. Alfred P. Haake of Chicago on "Has Our American Economic System Failed Us;" Dr. A. L. Sachar, director of Hillel Foundation in Champaign, Ill. on "Four Roads to Security;" and Dr. W. E. Blatz, University of Toronto on "Responsibilities and Privileges."

F. B. I. man to speak.

Tomorrow, Inspector W. H. Drane Lester of the F. B. I. will speak on "Modern Trends in Criminology" and Arthur L. Burnham, executive secretary of the teachers association will speak on "Education, What Now?"

An exhibit of Lincoln public school art work will be on display in the second floor of the south administration building today and tomorrow from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Dwight Kirsch, head of the university art department will preside at the English language and fine arts division meeting today at 2 p. m. in the Union ballroom; R. M. Kildee, West Point, state president of Nebraska vocational education will preside at a coliseum meeting including the subjects of agriculture, normal training, vocational guidance, industrial arts and adult education.

The social science division meets in Temple theater with Principal (See CONCLAVE, page 2.)

Conference annual heads to pick queens

Hager announces new plan for selecting NU's most beautiful women

For the first time in history Nebraska beauty queens will represent the choice of the editors of the annuals of the other "Big 6" publications instead of the choice of an individual artist. The new plan of selection was announced yesterday by Orval Hager, editor of the Cornhusker.

Candidates for the title of beauty queen can be nominated by any organized group purchasing twenty books. Each organization will be allowed to nominate one candidate for each twenty books purchased.

Pictures of candidates will be taken by Townsend's free. These pictures, accompanied by a write-up of each candidate, will be sent to the editors of the other publications. When the results are returned, the pictures of the successful candidates along with the writeups will be printed in the Cornhusker.

Successful beauty queens will be given the title of "Big 6 Beauty Queen." Names of fraternities, sororities, or other organizations nominating the successful candidates will be included in the write-ups accompanying the picture of each winner in the book.

Annuals of the editors who will judge the candidates are "The Sabitar," Missouri; "The Bomb," Iowa; "The Sooner," Oklahoma; "The Royal Purple," Kansas State; and "The Jayhawker," Kansas university.

Royal exile to discuss 'Role of U.S.'

Visiting professor will give European's view at second convocation

This morning Prince Hubertus zu Loewenstein-Wertheim-Freudenberg, German exile, will address the year's second university convocation, speaking on the topic "The Role of the United States as a European Sees It." Today's convo will be held at 11 in the Temple theater.

The 33 year old prince, who is on the campus for a four weeks stay as visiting Carnegie professor, has traveled more than 100,000 miles in United States during his six visits here. Early this month, while lecturing at Washington State college, the Austrian born author announced that he would seek American citizenship.

The convo speaker is exceptionally well informed on European affairs. Before being exiled from Austria in 1938 his German estates had been expropriated by the nazis in 1934.

The prince is a representative of the eldest branch of Bavaria's ruling family. Until 1806 his ancestors were counts of the Holy Roman Empire, ruling over the German equivalent of three earldoms. After being deprived of their political sovereignty, the zu Loewenstein heirs were allowed to retain "personal rights of sovereign-

Journal and Star.

Prince zu Loewenstein... gives European viewpoint.

(See PRINCE, page 4.)

Kosmet Klub sales begin

21 workers prepare for fall presentation

Tickets for the Kosmet Klub 1939 fall revue went on sale at 5 yesterday afternoon. Over 1,300 tickets were distributed to the Klub workers for sale to students and residents of Lincoln. The number of workers registered at the Kosmet Klub's headquarters reached a total of 21 Monday evening.

This year's revue will be presented on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 18, at the Liberty theater. To date 27 fraternities and sororities have submitted skits for entry in the show. These skits will be judged next week.

Game broadcast.

Business Manager Grant Thomas revealed that loudspeakers have been secured to broadcast the Pittsburgh-Nebraska game to those who wish to go early to the revue, which is scheduled to start at 3 p. m. Further broadcast of the game will be made between skits.

The highlight on the revue's (See KOSMET KLUB, page 4.)

Council votes vacant post to O'Connell

Student forum control given back to Union; med charter approved

The Student Council voted yesterday to return control and sponsorship of the student forums to the Union, and elected Robert O'Connell, bizad junior, to the vacancy on the council left by Frank Roth, who did not return to school this semester.

As there has been no ruling on filling of vacancies to general elective posts other than the Student Council, the Council, after heated discussion, passed a by-law providing that all such irregular vacancies be filled by the Student Council from nominees of any party.

The Council also approved the chartering of a new campus organization, Gamma Nu Theta, an honorary for pre-med women; and provided that committee meetings be held and files of the council be kept in room 305 of the Union.

Greater opportunities.

Reasons given for the return of the sponsorships of forums to the Union were the opportunities for the latter to contact more and better speakers than the council, the money the Union would be able to provide to secure speakers, and the inability, of council members (See COUNCIL, page 2.)

Cattle judges rank fifth

Dairy team stars in intercollegiate meet

The university dairy cattle judging team ranked fifth in intercollegiate competition at the national dairy show in San Francisco, according to word received by Prof. H. P. Davis, chairman of the dairy husbandry department, from Prof. R. F. Morgan who coached the team.

Only Iowa, Oklahoma, Texas A. & M., and Wisconsin ranked above Nebraska in the contest. In judging Ayrshires, the Nebraska team placed third; in Jerseys, fifth; in Guernseys, sixth; in Holsteins, twelfth; and in Brown Swiss, thirteenth.

Russell Pfeiffer of Elkhorn was sixth in all breeds and ninth in Guernseys. His brother, Otto Pfeiffer, jr., was fifth in Jerseys, eighth in Guernseys, eleventh in Ayrshires and twelfth in all breeds. Clare Glandon of Ragan was twelfth in judging Ayrshires.

Know their butter.

Members of the University of Nebraska dairy products judging team know good butter when they see it, but apparently are not quite so sure on cheese, milk and (See JUDGES, page 2.)

29 groups plan house decorations

Totals of fraternity, sorority filings equal for homecoming contest

Fourteen fraternities, 14 sororities and Raymond hall filed in the annual homecoming decorations contest sponsored by the Innocents society. Deadline for filings was at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Displays will be judged on the eve of the Kansas game, by a committee composed of three Innocents, a professor of the fine arts department, and an artist. The decision of the judges will be based upon the originality, appropriateness, and general appearance of the decorations.

The committee warns the houses to keep away from questionable displays. Each year some house is ruled out of the contest because the theme of their decorations is considered shady. Merrill Englund of the display committee announced.

Winning the contest last year were the displays made by Delta Gamma and Sigma Nu. The former spelled "VICTORY" in ice blocks, and the latter showed Tarzan swinging the Missouri Tiger by the tail. A maximum outlay of $25 is placed on all decorations.

To the winner of the contest among the sororities and to the fraternity having the best display will go silver cups, upon which the name of the winning house will be engraved. Any organization winning the contest three years in succession is permitted to keep the trophy.

In charge of the contest is the Innocents committee composed of Merrill Englund, Robert Waugh and Orval Hager.

Houses entered in the contest are:

Sororities: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma (See DISPLAYS, page 2.)

Author leads Union forum

Prince zu Loewenstein to discuss mobilization

"I Saw the Allied Mobilization" will be the topic discussed by Prince Hubertus zu Loewenstein before the fifth war forum to be held in parlors XYZ of the Union this afternoon at 4. The guest speaker had the opportunity this fall of observing the mobilization measures taken by the French when the conflict in Europe began.

A record attendance of over 150 people turned out last Thursday to hear the forum on Russia conducted by Dr. Fellman.

Publication heads go to conclave

HAROLD NIEMANN ARTHUR HILL. ORVAL HAGER, IRVIN SHERMAN. Press conference. Accompanying them is Gayle C. Walker, school of journalism head and chairman of the publications board. The publications men will return Saturday.

INQUIRING REPORTER

So the knot was tied so tight 'he' couldn't move for years

By Paul Svoboda.

Proposals are usually up to the men, but women have definite ideas on the subject. Most of the women who have had experience along this line seem to be a bit disillusioned and somewhat disappointed in the method as well as the men.

The feminine element of marriageable age is divided up into a sort of pre-matrimonial aristocracy. Under this caste system, women who have one or more proposals to their credit are of the first rank. Immediately below is the innumerable number of aspiring women who hope to effect a "will you marry me," in the near future. From the man's point of view, this class is the most dangerous. Trailing are the "unfortunates" or "fortunates": Those who have never had any proposals or aspirations of such.

How would you like to be proposed to?

Chris Peterson, Arts and science sophomore.

(This column was originally intended to be an all women's, but Paul's proposal seemed to be quite opportune. So here is how I, if I were a woman, would like to be proposed to.)

"Marry me, dear one, and I will love, honor and o.k. your millinery bills until debt do us part. I may only be a horse-racer's son, but I will make a good groom. Even though you are not a telephone operator I will give you a ring, and I will have more ushers at the wedding than a Hollywood premiere. We will spend our honeymoon in the mountains and have

(See PROPOSALS, page 2.)