

CHRISTMAN AERIALS BAFFLE NU DEFENSE

score. Cunningham added the try for point.

In the second quarter Nebraska staved off a possible touchdown when Rohrig intercepted a pass on the Nebraska one yard stripe. Rohrig's kick was brought back to the Scarlet 26 yard line. Christman again cocked his arm and Rouse gathered the ball in for another tally. Cunningham's kick was good. The two teams staged a punting duel for the remainder of the quarter, although another Christman aerial was good for a 16 yard gain. Neither team was able to penetrate beyond its foe's 30 yard line.

Christman runs, too.

Early in the second half Christman demonstrated that he can also run with that pigskin, when he picked up 14 yards on an off tackle slant. During the third quarter both teams were working for a break which failed to come and the play was confined to within the 30 yard lines. In the dying moments of the third period Missouri was penalized 15 yards, and the ball was resting on the Nebraska 31 with fourth down coming up and 14 yards to go.

Christman crossed up the Nebraska defense, stepped back and deliberately shot a pass to Bud Orf that netted 24 yards to the Husker 7. On the next play Christman on a reverse gave the ball to Starmer who passed to Rouse in the end zone for the final Tiger touchdown. King went in for Starmer and calmly split the uprights to bring the Tiger score to 27.

Late in the final quarter Nebraska took the ball on the Mizzou 49, and after picking up 6 yards, Rohrig dropped back and threw to Seeman. The ball was ruled complete as Christman interfered. The ball was put in play on the 12, and on the next play Rohrig, behind some fine blocking by Abel raced over. Hermie's attempt was good. With four minutes remaining Nebraska made another desperate attempt that was almost good. The Scarlet took the ball on their own 44 and began to march down field. Luther on a fake got 15 yards, Rohrig then faked a punt and got to the Mizzou 36. Luther took Rohrig's pass and lateraled to Seeman for an 11 yard gain. Luther got 14 more on a pass from Herm Rohrig. Another Rohrig to Luther pass was ruled good because of interference, on the Tigers nine yard line. Du-check interpreted Rohrig's pass and Missouri stalled the remaining ten seconds.

Pass defense folds.

Nebraska's pass defense seemed to fold before the spectacular pitching of Christman and this spelled victory for the Tigers.

Luther, Hopp and Rohrig did some fine work for the Huskers in the backfield, while Alfson, Prochaska, Abel and Sam Schwartzkopf stood out on the line. Down field blocking for the Scarlet was far below that of the previous games, and when a Husker back did get in the clear he was quickly bottled up.

Paul Christman and his accurate right arm was the hero for the Tigers. The Orf brothers, Star-

By June Bierbower

Passing Paul Christman had his right arm plenty warm against the Huskers yesterday. Christman was throwing strikes with regularity and completed eight out of twelve passes. Christman passes resulted directly in three touchdowns and another pass in the last part of the third quarter set up the pins for another score. The Orf brothers were on the receiving end of most of Christman's strikes.

Passing Paul completely fooled every one in the stands including his coach at the end of the third quarter. The Tigers had sustained a 15 yard penalty placing the ball on the 31, with 14 yards to go on last down. Pitching Paul hauled back and shot a bullet pass to Bud Orf that was good for 24 yards and a first down on the Husker 7 yard line. Three plays later the Tigers counted their fourth touchdown.

The biggest upset of the day was staged at Champaign, Ill., when the Illini completely mer, Wetzel, Waldorf and Moser were the other Missouri standouts.

swamped the famed Michigan Wolverines, beating them before a homecoming crowd, 16-7. The Illinois throng came to the game to see how Michigan's Tom Harmon compared with the immortal Red Grange, and instead they saw an inspired Illinois team sweep the Wolverines off of their feet.

The Princeton boys paid tribute to big Hooker Herring yesterday when they went out and beat the favored Harvard Crimson 9-6. Herring, first string tackle, had his leg amputated Friday, as the result of an injury in last weeks game. Herring competed here last summer in the weight events in the A. A. U. championships.

Nebraska's first score yesterday came on the old Statue of Liberty play. The Huskers worked on this particular play three nights last week, and it clicked the first time it was used.

Two long passes thrown by Rohrig to Seeman and Knight just missed fire. These passes just grazed the finger-tips of each of the receivers, and each time an alert member of the Tigers secondary came in to make spectacular interceptions... Bus Knight, who was a triple threat last year, has been the signal caller and blocking back so far this season, but yesterday he was kicking that old pigskin in fine style... The Huskers didn't have possession of the ball very much yesterday. The Tigers monopolized the offensive most of the game.

Gilmore will lead next war forum

E. A. Gilmore, economics department, will present the economic aspect of repeal at the next war forum to be held Thursday at 4 p. m. His topic will be "What Profit in Embargo Repeal."

The forum has been started again since the repeal of the U. S. embargo because it is believed that the students have a vital interest in war events.

Interview--

there was little difference in attitudes of western and eastern college students, except differences in their background and interests.

Speaking about selective education Mrs. Roosevelt said that she thought anyone who really wanted, and had an aptitude for learning could get a college education. Mrs. Roosevelt stated, "We could do much more in our schools if we had teachers who were able to do it." She said that average mothers cannot give their children the help a well-trained teacher would be able to.

After stating her theories on general education she said, "I have theories parents shouldn't try to control their children too much. My children are not hidebound in any beliefs; they can all argue about anything."

"You'll have to ask my husband about that," she answered when asked to comment on a third term. Asked why she didn't run for president in 1940 she said, "I wouldn't run for or hold a political office for anything in the world."

'Circle' hears Boucher

Chancellor C. S. Boucher addressed the Thursday Morning Lecture Circle on the subject "Adjusting Education to Reality."
