

By June Bierbower

The Kansas Jayhawks are coming, and by comparative scores (did I hear someone muttering) Nebraska is 36 points better than the Jayhawks. But they have Ralph Miller, a great passer who manufactured a touchdown in two plays against Kansas State Friday—and wasn't it an ex-Jayhawk who said after the Minnesota game that a good passing attack would have beaten the Huskers (louder muttering)?

Well, Saturday is Homecoming and a chance for the Huskers to show that disappointing defeat at Columbia won't keep them down. The breaks for once went the other way, and the farther the game went after a bad start the worse it got as the flustered Cornhuskers couldn't get out of the hole. To their credit, however, they came back with that last period touchdown and nearly scored another. The Huskers, mostly juniors and sophomores, seemed to get panicky. All-in-all, from the reports, even though they were up against a hot team, they weren't the same team which Nebraska fans saw in the two previous games.

For the second time this year, Nebraska outweighed the opposing line . . . first time was at Iowa State . . . give us a few more opposing lines like Baylor and Minnesota if those cases hold true for the rest of the season . . . and Nebraska won the first downs Saturday, although they were out-yarded . . . that's because a Christman pass of 40 yards makes only one first down, . . . 40 yards on shorter passes and running plays need 3 or 4 first downs.

John McDermott wrote Sunday's As I See It, but shy Mr. Mac seemed to be too modest to have his name over two articles in one edition, so his column appeared under the name of June Bierbower.

Yours truly has made a resolution, said resolution being never again to go out of town when the Huskers are playing on the road, except to the game away. We've done it twice and it has both times resulted in a 14 point defeat. Last year we were in Omaha as the Sooners beat N.U. 14-0, and Saturday we were home and not in Columbia as had been originally planned.

We attended a press convention in Hastings Friday, and with it the Hastings-Peru game, and saw Little Hoss Mather, former Husker player who lost to his studies her, play, as well as two other former Husker frosh, Burt Cramer and Lou Burger. Mather plays for Peru; the other two for Hastings. The Arapahoe boy, best back on the field, saw his ability go to waste as sadly inefficient Peru blockers couldn't keep out of his way, and as his pass receivers couldn't hang on to the ball even when Mather hit them in the chest.

Those 27 points were the most scored against a Nebraska team since 1931 when Nebraska lost to Pitt 40-0 . . . Nebraska has scored 81 points this year . . . 69 markers have been chalked up by juniors, and 12 by sophomore Bob DeFruiter . . . not a senior has scored a point . . . the Huskers scored 68 points last year, but had scored that many before Saturday . . . as for points scored against Nebraska this year they jumped to 47 . . . all but seven by Indiana have been in conference play . . . 84 were chalked up against the Huskers last year . . . 58 were marked up in the first six games . . . the Huskers this time in 1938 had marked up just 40 points.

NU drops in rankings by Azzi Ratem

Nebraska fell out of the Azzi Ratem rankings altogether as the Huskers lost to Missouri Saturday. Cornell is in first place this week, Oklahoma is seventh. No Husker opponents other than the Sooners are ranked, while Michigan is down in 15th after their loss to Illinois.

The ratings in order are Cornell, Notre Dame, Texas A. & M., Tulane, U.S.C., North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Ohio State, UCLA, Duquesne, Duke, Kentucky, Holy Cross, Michigan.

The DAILY NEBRASKAN

George Porter to lead NU Saturday

Husker Co-op, Juggernauts win crowns

Champions decided in two Barb football leagues last night

The Casino club presented the Cornhusker Co-op the title of Barb football league 4 by a 7-6, decision to them last night. Should the Casino boys have won, it would have put them on top and knocked down the Huskers into second.

Cornhusker Co-op scored in the first half as Fred Uhlman caught a pass from Lynn Landgren. The Casinoes tallied in the second half of the game when Bob Blakewell heaved a pass to Charles Root. The game ended in a 6-6 tie so overtime had to be played. Casino club went in the hole on their four tries while a pass from Landgren to Kubicek was good for a Husker touchdown. However only one point was allowed the Co-ops because the score came in the overtime period.

Much excitement came in the last quarter when Landgren passed to Kubicek for 30 yards. It looked like the Huskers were on their way for a touchdown, but they lost the ball and Blakewell ran 20 yards as the game ended.

Juggernauts win.

The Juggernauts put the title for league 2 in their sack when they defeated A. C. B. C. by a 14-0 score.

The first score came by Don Lynch's heaving a pass to Frank Vrtiska, while the next tally came when John Loisel took a Lynch pass. John Smutz kicked both extra points.

Also in league 2 was the 21-0 victory that the Union Leaders took over Pal club. Dick Delfs heaved a pass to "Juke" Byers who played sleeper, for the first score while the same combination accounted for the next quarter. The third score came when Byers lateraled to Dick Delfs who made a long touchdown run. Bill Irwin's pass to Ed Ockerman accounted for the extra point. When Bill Ockerman kicked into the end zone and Pal club attempted to run it out, they were set back for a safety.

Tonight Hitler's Playboys meet the Hoosier Hot Shots for the title of league 3. The nazi's are on top with four wins and no losses. The Hot Shots have two wins and one loss and may mix things up.

Soccer-baseball tourney finishes second round

Winners of the second round in the soccer-baseball tournament are Delta Gamma over Alpha Xi Delta; Gamma Phi over Delta Delta Delta; Kappa Kappa Gamma over Chi Omega; Alpha Phi over Delta Delta Delta; Pi Beta Phi over Wilson hall; Kappa Alpha Theta over Phi Mu; Raymond hall over Kappa Delta; Independent over Alpha Phi.

Winners of the third round deck tennis tournament are: Gamma Phi Beta over Kappa Delta; Chi Omega drew a bye; Wilson hall drew a bye.

Advertisement for M-M-M! THERE'S CREAM IN EVERY DROP OF ROBERTS 'HOM-O'-MILK. Includes image of a boy and a bottle of milk.

Biff's Cornhuskers gunning for Homecoming comeback against Kansas U Jayhawks

By John McDermott.

George Porter, senior backfield candidate from Denver, was elected to captain the Cornhuskers in their Homecoming game with Kansas university this week-end. Porter is a product of Regis high in Denver, where he won all-state honors. George has seen little service so far this year, having been injured in mid-season last year.

GEORGE PORTER

Pitching Paul Christman took the Cornhuskers out of the running for the Big Six title last week, and placed his Mizzou team on top with three victories. Oklahoma won easily from Iowa State last Saturday, 38-6. Oklahoma and Missouri will battle it out for the conference lead at Columbia, Nov. 18, in the highlight Big Six game of the year. Nebraska can win a tie for the title if the Sooners beat Missouri and the Huskers take Oklahoma.

FRED PRESTON

WALT LUTHER

See pictures.

Last night the Huskers viewed the Missouri pictures and listened to a long talk by Major Jones, who kept them inside late. There

Expect 24,000 at Kansas game

From 22,000 to 24,000 people are expected at the Kansas game Saturday, John K. Selleck estimated Monday. The figure includes Knotholers who will be admitted for 10 and 25 cents.

Tickets for the Oklahoma game are going well, Selleck said. He expects 35,000 for the Sooner game if the weather is good.

Heredity study published

Dr. D. D. Whitney, chairman of the department of zoology, has another illustrated study of heredity published in the Journal of Heredity.

Have Your Picture Taken Today

1940 Cornhusker Fraternity-Sorority Picture Junior-Senior Picture Last deadline, absolutely Nov. 25 TOWNSEND STUDIOS

Beryl Clark still leads scorers

Butch Luther, Herman Rohrig pace NU scoring

Beryl Clark, Oklahoma, kept in first place in the Big Six scoring race Saturday as he scored seven points against Iowa State to bring his total to 43. Bob Seymour, his teammate, got a touchdown and held second place, having made 36 points to date.

Walt Luther is in third place with 24 points as he leads Husker scorers. In fourth place in the Big Six table and second to Luther in Nebraska's scoring is Herman Rohrig, who got seven points Saturday as Luther made the Huskers' other six.

Ray Prochaska, Bob DeFruiter and Harry Hopp are all still tied at 12 points to complete the Husker scoring. All Nebraska scorers are in the upper part of the year's scoring table, with no Nebraskan who has scored, having marked up less than 12 points.

Table with columns: Name, Points, Pats, Fg, Ft. Lists scorers like Clark, Seymour, Luther, Rohrig, etc.

was no apparent change in the lineup, although it may be shifted before the Kansas tussle. Forrest Behm and Fred Preston got the starting call at Columbia last week by virtue of their play against the Kansas Staters, but the lineup for K. U. is in doubt. Preston and Bob Luther were the only casualties, coming out lame from the Mizzou battle. Both men will be in shape to go against the Jayhawks this week-end.

Tigers pile up score. Missouri in one afternoon was able to score more points than the five previous foes of the Huskers. Indiana, Minnesota, Baylor, Kansas State and Iowa State scored 23, while the Tigers tallied 27. Christman was the hero, but was aided by sophomore Cunningham, Starmer, the Orf twins and Landers, substitute for Captain Haas.

Kansas university is the oldest rival of the Scarlet and Cream, and Coach Gwin Henry will bring his Jayhawks to Lincoln to avenge the close Nebraska victory last year. The Kansas team boasts a 14-0 win over Iowa State, while the Cornhuskers subdued the Cyclones 10-7.

FORREST BEHM

Other conference games this week are Oklahoma at Manhattan, Iowa State travels to Milwaukee to play Marquette, and Missouri takes its aerial circus to New York to engage New York university.

Large advertisement for DAILY NEBRASKAN Classified Ads. Includes text: 'You wouldn't buy a "coke" in a clothing store.' and 'The "Rag" tells of your world, the University world; if you've lost a billfold, found a pen, desired a ride to the game, the Daily Nebraskan is the place to tell people about it.'