

The DAILY NEBRASKAN

By June Bierbower

Nebraska-Kansas football history is full of thrilling games, and the last few years have not provided exceptions. The Jayhawks, Nebraska's oldest rivals, usually give the Huskers a great battle, even though they haven't won a game since 1916.

For the last two years Nebraska has escaped defeat in the final couple minutes of play. Two years ago an inspired Kansas team nearly wrecked completely a Husker Homecoming as a superior Nebraska team, thinking of Pittsburgh instead of KU, let the Jayhawks hold a 13-6 lead until the closing minutes of play when the Huskers started a desperate 80 yard march for a touchdown which came as John Howell passed to Bill Callihan. Marv Plock, the mighty mite, booted the tying point. There was just time for a few more plays, and the Huskers, who had just got going, nearly scored again. They kicked off, and forced Kansas to punt. The KU kick went out within the Kansas 30, but the Huskers were penalized for roughing the kicker, and KU took the ball and held it the rest of the game.

Last year the Huskers won their first game when they recovered a KU fumble late in the game and Bill Anderson kicked a field goal to put them in a 9-7 lead after trailing 7-6. Bob Mills' pass interception which gave the Huskers another score was just added dividend.

Three years ago KU didn't have a chance against Sam Francis, Lloyd Cardwell and company, but the 1935 game was really a thriller. KU kicked off and recovered for a touchdown and led 7-0. The Huskers scored twice and led 12-7 as the half ended. Then the Huskers fumbled the second half kickoff and KU recovered. Rutherford Hayes scored in one play on an end-around, and Nebraska was behind again. The Huskers finally got their winning touchdown for a 19-13 victory, but that game weakened more than a few hearts around Lincoln and vicinity.

Bob Sconce, named at guard on the all-intramural team, played alongside Bob Burruss and Hub Monsky at Omaha Central...all three of them were named on the all-Omaha high school team four years ago...they was the days when Burruss was a mere 175 pounder and Monsky weighed in at a sylph-like 184...Ad Dobson was a second semester freshman as those three were starting, and got in two spring practices before starting his varsity career...George Seemann, Sam Schwartzkopf, Bill Herrmann and Bob Ramey were freshmen four years ago...Seemann played guard in 1936, but was out because of a knee injury in 1937...Schwartzkopf took two years with the freshmen...Herrmann played with the B team in 1936, but was out in 1937, too...Ramey laid out last year...Klum's the veteran of the lot...he was a frosh in 1934 to start...he came back in 1936 but didn't play until last year...he'd still have another year of eligibility, but is graduating.

Could be that the election outcome of yesterday is a vote of confidence in the football team? Anyway, junior and senior class presidencies which went to Forrie Behm and Ad Dobson are for the first time in as long as we can remember, filled by two football

Beta Theta Pi, winner of this year's intramural football championship, and Farm House, runner-up team, both placed two men on the 1939 all star selections. Bob Sconce and Sid Held, Beta guard and end respectively, and Don Fitz, end, along with Paul Fidler, tackle, Farm House stars, are the men.

Other teams represented are Phi Gamma Delta with Red Littler; Phi Delta Theta with Bob Poe; Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Clark O'Hanlon; Delta Tau Delta with Dow Wilson, and Hitler's Playboys, with Les Livingston, a fine player, and the only Barb to make the team.

It was hard to leave players like Chuck Davis, ATO tackle, and Warren Radtke, Phi Psi end, to name just two, off the first team, as races for the call at most of the positions were close.

Having seen every man in action while officiating games this fall, my selections, made after consultation with three other observers, took into consideration both individual ability and team spirit.

A look at the positions: ENDS: Don Fitz: Fitz, a six foot, four inch basketball star is the team's outstanding pass receiver. He caught passes from John Fitzgibbon, second team selection, for much of Farm House's yardage. The former Jackson high ace also used his height to good advantage on defense. Sid Held: Held, a Beta Theta Pi, who is 6 feet three inches tall and weighs over 190 was an all-state high school player at Lincoln High. He is also a basketball star, and an excellent pass receiver. He did most of the Beta's kicking and his long boots kept the Beta's opponents in their own territory much of the time.

TACKLES: Paul Fidler. Fidler, a Melrose, Mont. player, and a Nebraska U. wrestler, played for Farm House, and the rugged ag boy is an excellent blocker. Bob players. Last year it was basketball year as Grant Thomas and Bill Kovanda were prexies. Maybe next year it will be track men or baseball players.

Kansas U. plays only eight games this year...they've played Drake, Iowa State, Colorado State, Oklahoma and Kansas State... Nebraska, George Washington and Missouri are left on the Jayhawk schedule...twenty-two lettermen are back from last year's KU team...Seniors are Dick Amerine, halfback; Bill Arnold, end; Frank Bukaty, halfback; Eldreth Cadwalader, full; Ken Caldwell, quarterback; Russ Chitwood, end; Stuart Keown, center; Bill Lenhart, tackle; John Naramore, center; Dan Rhule, tackle; Mike Sihlanick, guard; Milt Sullivan, back; Jack Turner, center.

The Sooners must really be tough—what with Jim Yeager, Iowa State coach, saying they're the greatest college team he's ever seen. And with those pass catching ends—six feet four inches—Tree Top Sharpe and John Sheryl as well as a fine passer in Beryl Clark the Huskers' Nov. 25 job is really cut out for them.

Poe: Poe, a Phi Delta Theta player, is lighter than Fidler, but is fast and powerful, and was always in the thick of things when the going got tough. He is a fast charger.

GUARD: Bob Sconce. Sconce, who won all-state mention at Omaha Central a few years back, was the best guard in the league. He is fast on his feet, and an especially fine running guard. He paved the way for many Beta gains throughout the season.

CENTER: Clark O'Hanlon. O'Hanlon, a 195 pound Sig Alph who was a member of the Husker freshman squad two years ago, fills the center post. He was tough to handle on defense, and provided his team with the league's best snapper-back.

BACKS: Dow Wilson: The Husker baseballer, who led the Deltas, is an exceptionally shifty man and a shrewd quarterback. His running and direction of the team played a large part in the Deltas successful season. Red Littler: The Phi Gam fireball of track fame weighs around 160.

Ralph Miller, expert passer holds key to Jayhawk hopes

LAWRENCE, Kas.—An air minded University of Kansas football team will meet the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln Saturday. The Jayhawkers probably will fill the air with passes.

Altho going down to defeat before Kansas State last week, Kansas gained 130 yards by passes, completing 11 out of 22. With three expert passers in Ralph Miller, Frank Bukaty and Eldreth Cadwalader, the Jayhawks have been strong in this department all season.

Miller is the key to the Kansas situation. One of the greatest passers in the country, he is not in condition to see much action. Miller incurred a "football knee" last fall and underwent an operation for removal of a piece of cartilage from his knee this summer.

Takes it easy.

The operation has prevented Ralph from working out very strenuously this fall and has kept him from getting into condition. He had not seen any action until last week's game with Kansas State and then was in the game for only two plays.

These two plays were long enough for Miller to throw a touchdown pass. With the ball on the Kansas State 28 yard line and the first half drawing to a close, Miller went into the game. His first pass bounced off Sullivan's chest. The second was thrown from about the 40 yard line and sailed into the arms of Jake Fry, deep in the end zone.

If Miller is able to play longer Saturday it will mean a great deal to the Kansas offense. If he is not used much, the passing will be done by Bukaty and Cadwalader, a pair of senior sharpshooters.

Cadwalader impresses.

Cadwalader has been particularly impressive recently. Against Kansas State he threw 12 passes, of which six were complete for a total gain of 77 yards.

Most of the pass catching last week was done by Ed Hall, junior fullback; Jake Fry, sophomore halfback; and "Red" Morris, junior end. All can go to town once they catch a pass.

The Jayhawks will go into the game with Nebraska in good shape. No injuries of importance developed in the Kansas State game. Bill Bunsen, junior halfback, has been bothered by a hip injury all fall, but should be in pretty good shape Saturday.

Kansas has not beaten Nebraska since 1916 and will be battling hard to capture the long sought victory over the Cornhuskers.

NU faculty gets chance to 'play'

A program of faculty recreation is being sponsored, beginning this week, thru co-operation of men's and women's physical education departments.

Swimming periods for women members of the faculty are open from 4 to 5 p. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 2 to 3 Saturday, and from 7:30 to 8:30 Monday. The evening date will not be open until after Thanksgiving.

Men's swimming periods are from 12 a. m. to 2 p. m. Monday to Friday inclusive, from 4 to 5 Tuesday and Thursday, from 3:30 to 5 Saturday. The pool will also be open from 5 to 6 every day except when it is needed for varsity or freshman swim practice. Further information may be obtained from Dr. Clapp's office, coliseum 207.

Men's faculty recreation periods are from 12 to 1 Monday to Friday inclusive and from 4 to 5, for individual use. Handball and squash tennis courts are open at most hours.

Badminton for both men and women is open 7:30 Tuesday in Grant Memorial.

Plans are being formulated for a Square Dance Club for men and women faculty members. The club will be formed if enough interested members give their names and addresses at Miss Lee's office, women's phys ed department, by Nov. 10.

Conard speaks at Tri-K feed

E. C. Conard of the grass research division of the Soil Conservation service stationed at the agricultural college, told 40 ag students and faculty members attending the annual Tri-K feed in the crops laboratory last night of methods of harvesting and seeding native grasses.

Mr. Conard, who is conducting work on native grasses in Nebraska, explained importance of native grasses in this state, and pointed out some of the methods which the SCS has used in its work of harvesting and seeding.

Harold Schudel, president of the Tri-K, presided. David McGill, vice president, was in general charge of arrangements for the feed. Members of Tri-K met at 6 for their regular business meeting. The feed began at 6:30 and was open to all ag students and faculty members, up to the limit of 40 attending.

and was the fastest man on any team this year. The Red Head led the Fiji running attack, and his punt returns provided many headaches for the opposition on punt returns. Les Livingston: Les, the only Barb to make the team, does everything demanded of a good player. He stands in a class by himself as to all around ability, being an equally fine runner, kicker, passer, and blocker. His only drawback is weight, or he would undoubtedly be a candidate for Major Biff Jones' varsity squad.

Hold interviews for scholarships

Affiliated women who have applied for the scholarships being offered for the second semester by the Lincoln Pan-Hellenic association, must make a personal application before the Pan-Hellenic committee from 4 to 6 p. m., Nov. 15th and 16th, in Ellen Smith. An indefinite number of scholarships, each for $30, will be awarded.

At Last - AN OUTDOOR PIPE that OPERATES PERFECTLY

This is one you've just got to have—unless you're a bookish fellow given to staying indoors. The "watch-case" top on this pipe keeps the wind from tearing into the pipe-bowl and "emptying" it. Protects the briar (and that new tweed outfit of yours) from burning.

The slotted grill controls the draft perfectly, and slides back sideways for filling and emptying. The whole pipe is trim as a watch and tight as a clam—makes all other covered pipes look like the Gay Nineties. It's the smartest thing that's come through our doors in many years—you'll agree as soon as you see one. Showu above, No. 33.
