Florence Bullock recalls DAILY 'way back when'

A word of kindly criticism and a tie with the past came to the DAILY yesterday through a new subscriber. She is Florence Bullock, instructor in English in charge of correspondence courses. She was the literary editor of the "Hesperian," one of the DAILY'S forerunners, in 1895 when Willa Cather was editor of the publication.

Said the new subscriber, "I thought I could get along without it (the DAILY), but I guess I can't even if you do do funny things once in a while."

Sociologists initiate 22

Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociological fraternity, initiated 22 new members Thursday night with Dr. Mabel Elliott, University of Kansas criminologist, delivering the main address. The initiation followed a banquet in the student union.

The initiates were: Martha Beghtol, Lincoln; Vera Chandler, Ettrick, Va.; Fred Bellquadri; Clarice Ekerath; Cecil Feldman, Lincoln; Jozetta Helfrich, Lincoln; Eleanor Hinman, Lincoln; Frances Lomax, Broken Bow; Mabel Lucado, Fairfield; Julius H. Mallrich, Lincoln; Mary R. Marnell, Stockton, Calif.; Faith B. Medlar, Lincoln; Vyola W. Miller, Clarinda, Ia.; Patricia M. Pope, Sutton; Olive Riddell, Raymond; Gloria M. Schleiger, Sutton; Mrs. Betty Spurr; Maxine Thomas, Red Cloud; Caroline Thompson, West Point; Mary Jean Trowbridge, Columbus; Joseph Walla, Linwood, and Curtis Whaley, Callaway.

William Lyon Phelps, famed Yale professor, taught more than 20,000 men during his 40 years in the classroom.
