

Stanford five to face Huskers tonight

By June Bierbower.

The December issue of the Amateur Athlete has picked an all star eleven made up of men who have starred as track and field athletes... Bob Peoples of USC, Elmer Hackney of Kansas State, Jack Robinson of UCLA, and John McLaughry of Brown are the backs... Peoples has done 234 feet 1 3/4 inches in the javelin... Hackney got 55 feet 11 inches in the shot put... Robinson does 25 feet in the broad jump and McLaughry has got the hammer out around 189 feet... At ends are Archie Harris, Indiana discus thrower who has done 164 feet in that event, and Woodie Strode, 51-foot shot putter... tackles are Phil Gasper of USC and Millard White of Tulane... Gasper has done 158 feet in the discus and White 160 feet... Bill Kirchen, 21.4 furlong sprinter from Tulane and Phil Perkins of Bowdoin, who has done 174 feet in the hammer, are guards... center is Stanford's Stan Anderson, who has done 54 feet in the shot.

The East all-star team worked out at Grand Island yesterday afternoon... They stop at the Third City every year for a drill... Tilford Denton, Stanford sophomore, is from Kansas City... his parents will come up to see him play tonight... the best hitters in the American league last summer by positions were Foxx, Red Sox, first base, .360... Gehring, Tigers, second base, .325... third base, Rolfe, Yankees, .329... shortstop, Appling, White Sox, .314... left field, Johnson, Athletics, .338... centerfield, DiMaggio, Yankees, .381... rightfield, Keller, Yanks, .334... catcher, York, Tigers, .307... pitcher, Dean, Athletics, .351.

Our predictions on the Bowl games, which you can take or leave... Orange Bowl—Missouri... Rose Bowl—Tennessee, if they have Cafego... if they don't, USC... a close one... Sugar Bowl... a tie... Cotton Bowl—Boston college... East over the West (Traitor to the cause, but the West's selectors muffed on some of their choices)... South over North... don't throw these in our face next Jan. 3, though.

As the dear old year is well nigh ended, now is the time for reminiscing and predicting... things started out pretty dully for Nebraska athletics, as the gymnastics team was about the only NU team able to keep its head above water during the winter... but the track team rounded into form... and won the Big Six meet at Ames after finishing fifth in the outdoor meet... then the big Nebraska sports spectacle of the year, the AAU meet here July 3 and 4... a real thrill to see the Huskers win the junior championships and a beautiful gold trophy before a home crowd... then Ed Weir, to climax his first year as Husker track coach, was named coach of the American track team which toured Europe...

Football, and hoping against hope the Huskers would get out of the 1938 rut... they did, and even faster than anyone expected... the sight of a rather worldly DAILY staff member, listening to the office radio when Hermie Rohrig stepped up to convert that all-important extra point against Indiana... said staff member implored the rest of us, "Pray, you guys, pray!"

The Minnesota game... the sight of Bob DeFruiter on that fourth down reverse diving over the Gopher goal... a feeling of relief when the Iowa State game ended... listening to that good old Baylor draw... and even feeling a bit sorry for the Texans as the Huskers hopelessly outclassed their team... Kansas State... yours truly buying her own way into the game... what that about the power of the press?... but Hermie

Huskers out to avenge 56-47 loss suffered on west coast last year

Coach W. H. Browne's Nebraska basketball team will be out to avenge a 56-47 licking they took at the hands of Stanford last year as the Redskins invade the Husker coliseum tonight for Nebraska's third game of the season.

The Palo Alto team, coached by Everett Den, former Indiana coach, is on the first lap of an eastern holiday jaunt. They have two games under their belts, and have won them both, beating San Francisco U. 48 to 23, and the Olympic club, 49-36.

Only one regular remains from last year's team which won sixteen and lost nine games. He is Kenny Davidson, guard. Other members of the starting lineup will probably be Don Williams and Fordy Anderson at forwards, Dick Taylor at center, and Bill Cowden at the other guard.

Other men making the trip are forwards Tiff Denton and Leon Lafaille, forwards; and Bob Penn and Bill Rumbley, centers, and guards John Alltucker, Gil Rahn and Wensel. After facing the Huskers, Stanford will go against Rutgers, Baltimore university, Dartmouth, Columbia and Wisconsin before returning to the west coast.

Don Fitz will probably not be back in Husker starting lineup, tho the lanky guard has been working out this week, with Chuck Vacanti has been doing most of the heavy work. Vacanti started in Fitz' place against Indiana, and will get the call tonight.

The remaining starters will be the same team which started Friday night. Game captain Bud Tallman and Harry Pitcaithley, both seniors, will be at forwards; junior Al Randall at center, and sophomore Sid Held at guard.

The team will travel to Minneapolis this weekend to meet Minnesota Saturday night. They return to Lincoln, playing Utah here Wednesday, December 27. The Huskers travel again, going to Milwaukee to face Wisconsin Saturday night, December 30, as half of a double header which also lists a game between Marquette and Iowa U. Tuesday, January 2, Detroit U. plays here, while California invades Nebraska Saturday, January 6, to complete Nebraska's out-of-conference schedule. First Big Six game is with Iowa State here, Monday, January 8.

Dick Pulliam of Grand Island and Parke Carroll of Kansas City, both well-known to sports fans here, will officiate tonight's game which starts at 8.

Probable lineups:
 Nebraska—Tallman (G.C.)... Pitcaithley... Randall... Vacanti... Held...
 —Stanford—Williams... Anderson... Taylor... Cowden... Davidson

Officials: Dick Pulliam, Grand Island; Parke Carroll, Kansas City.

Rohrig's 80 yard run was worth the money...

The Missouri game... enough said... The Kansas game... rather smelly... but a sweet one at Pitt which really counted... some hair tearing when the Huskers didn't score in the first quarter those extra points were nice but the long Pitt passes weren't... counting the seconds in the last six minutes of play... an official at Pitt writing Sam Schwartzkopf that the Huskers were of the finest and cleanest teams he ever dealt with... the Oklahoma game... 13 points in the second quarter... a hectic third quarter... Biff Jones' satisfying and first win over Oklahoma here... all touchdowns at home scored on the south goal... seven for Nebraska... one for the opposition, and that in the last moments of play... the "all-teams"... Warren Alfson on AP's all-American second string... Fullback Ad Dobson honorable mention on one as a guard... Jones and Schwartzkopf to East-West game.

Work starting on the new field house... basketball... not so good against South Dakota, but Nebraska won... not so bad against Indiana but they lost... What tonight?... Well, Merry Christmas, anyway.

Pitcaithley, Randall lead NU scoring

Harry Pitcaithley with 16 points and Al Randall with 15 are leading Nebraska scorers after two games this year. Pit got 11 against Indiana, five against South Dakota, while Randall got 12 against the Coyotes and four against the Hoosiers.

The Huskers are pretty well grouped as scorers, as speedy Irv Yaffe comes next with 11, Don Fitz with 9, and Bud Tallman with eight. Charley Vacanti has five, while Hartmann Goetze and Les Livingston have two apiece to complete the scoring list.

The Huskers made only 9 of 25 free throws against South Dakota, and 11 of 20 against Indiana to give them a mark of 20 made out of 45 attempted. Yaffe has the best mark, having made five of seven, one of his misses coming when he stepped over the line as he sank his free throw. Yaffe has not made a single personal foul. Randall and Fitz, the leading "foulers," have only four apiece.

Union sends 3 to conclave

Florida campus is site of national gathering

Three delegates representing the Union, will leave Lincoln Jan. 1 to attend the meeting of the National Association of College Unions on the campus of the University of Florida, at Gainesville. The convention will be held on Jan. 4, 5, 6.

Representatives of the Nebraska Union will be Directors Van Sant, Food Director, Quisenberry; and Helen Elizabeth Claybaugh, student representative. Miss Claybaugh was elected student representative at a meeting of the board of managers last month.

Purpose of the convention is to give union managers a chance to get together and work out their common problems. Discussion group meetings covering every phase of union management are held at the convention.

Van Sant will lead a discussion group speaking on the topic, "Relation of the Union and the Growing Housing and Dormitory Development." He will trace the probable effect of the growing dormitory system on the Union program.

Last year's convention, held in Minneapolis, was attended by Van Sant, Mrs. Quisenberry, and Mrs. Yinger, former social director of the Union.

Baller publishes survey

The December number of the Journal of Genetic Psychology carries an article by Dr. Warren R. Baller of the department of educational psychology and measurements entitled "A Study of Adults Who, When They Were in School, Were Judged to Be Dull in Mental Ability."

Jerry Adam chooses 26 men for varsity wrestling squad

Using a nucleus of four lettermen, Coach Jerry Adam has selected a squad of 26 men for the varsity wrestling team.

Lee Clare, 135; Milt Kuska, 121; Ray Tomes, 155; and George Seemann, heavyweight, are the four letter winners. Most likely to break into the starting lineup are Sam Salerno, 128, and Art Adams, 175, both sophomores.

Clare moved back to the 135 pound division to fill the shoes of Bill Luke, who has had three years of competition. Taking Clare's place in the 145 pound class is still a big problem, but George Cackle is accorded a good chance. Paul Fidler has also used up his eligibility, and the 165 pound division is wide open. Dale Ruser, Bob McLeod, and Bill Steckelberg probably will battle it out for the job. Hottest competition appears to be among the heavyweights. Pushing Seemann are Dick Stastny, all-university gold medal winner and Royal Kahler, runnerup. Vern Johnson, Bill Rumbolz, and George Wrede cannot be overlooked.

Adams tough. Lack of 175 pounders gives Adams a virtual monopoly in his class, but some of the heavies may be moved down a notch to fill the gap.

Giving Tomes plenty of opposition in the 155 pound section will be Newton Copple, and Bob Vakoc. Copple is the gold medal champ in this class.

Among the 145 pound aspirants are Ray Crawford, Rodger Anderson, LaVerne Curry, and Ernie Lauver.

Clare has a wide margin in the 135 pound division, but making things hot for him will be Dwight Burney, Ken Miller, and Dale Hunt.

Dick Terry, all university king, seems to have the best chance of overhauling Kuska among the 121 pounders, with Fred Henson not far behind.

Coach Adam will not attempt to reduce the squad. "The boys eliminate themselves. Wrestling is lots of hard, long work, and the boys that can't take it will gradually drop out," he declared.

Workouts will continue during vacation from 10 a. m. till noon during week days. First meet will be against Michigan State, Feb. 8, at East Lansing.

Sooner swim team prepares for 1940 season

NORMAN, Okla. — Oklahoma's swimmers, second to mighty Iowa State in the Big Six conference last season, are whipping the green water in their new $60,000 men's pool to a white froth these days as they get ready for the 1940 season.

Student Coach Bill Clegern, who shortly will give way to Robert "Doc" Erskine, freshman football coach whom Tom Stidham last year drafted to the swimming job in spite of the fact Erskine has never learned to swim, has a full squad working.

Louis Surber, junior breast-stroker, and Ned O'Reilly, big junior free-styler, are Sooner paddlers who make Clegern smile the broadest as they churn powerfully down their lanes, leaving opponents floundering and sputtering in their bubbly wake.

Clegern graduates

Gone from the squad are such last year standbys as V. V. Long, Ethan Walker, and John Jarrett and Clegern himself graduates at mid-semester from the school of aeronautical engineering although he plans to swim in the dual meet with the Kansas Jayhawkers here in January.

O'Reilly already has turned 100 yards in 58.9 seconds, pressed by Joe Ecksrein, a transfer student from Meriden, Conn., and is working out over the 220 and 440-yard distances with Allen Moore, sophomore from Oklahoma City. Loy Weber, Muskogee sophomore, Dean Walker, Pawhuska sophomore, and Neil Powers, last year's intramural champion, also are out for these events.

Surber good

Surber, whom Clegern predicts will win the Big Six breast stroke event next March, already has swum the 100 breast in 1:08.4 and the 200 in 2:41 in practice, while Phil Fife, his team mate will be ready for stopwatch trials soon as he works cramps out of his legs.

Clegern's graduation in mid-season will leave the back-stroking responsibility upon two sophomores, Bib Danielson, former state champion from Oklahoma City Classen high school, Chauncey Black of Norman, and upon a transfer student, Roger Herigstad, from Minot, North Dakota. Black, who has fine form, already is doing 1:15 for the 100 yards back.

Ed Ham, of Guthrie, a squad man last year, is the lone diver available and looks much improved, Clegern says.
