

SOCIETY

One peek at thermometer or libe shows social life nil

One peek inside the library would be enough to convince even Chancellor Boucher that all students are taking studying seriously—even if it is a temporary condition. That peek would also explain to any doubter the lack of social activity. So would the thermometer.

Buddy Rogers held the attention of numerous couples last night—among them were Dotty Ann Koenig, KKG, and Clint Banks, who was a Sigma Nu here last year, but is at Minnesota now; Dick Harnsberger, Phi Psi, and Jean Cullinan, KKG; Bee Beghtol, visitor from Stevens, attended with Fran Leik, ATO; Jeanne Ludwick, Tri Delt, and Dale Anderson; Mary Jo Johnson, DG, and Harold Swann, Phi Psi; Ede Houston, Chi Omega, and Gordon Hainey, Kappa Sig.

ATTENDING

the DU formal last night were Neal Felber, DU, and Marge Runyan, KKG; Ruth Saterlee, Tri Delt, and Jack Marvis, DU, and Louise Reed, Theta, and Warren Brainerd, DU.

MORE DIAMONDS

come to light. Tess Clayton, Sigma Kappa, is wearing the diamond of a Phi Gam from Boulder. Wearing a West Point pin since Christmas is Lois Wadlow, Tri Delt; the pin is that of Don Simon of Lincoln. A candy passing occurred at the Palladian dinner-dance last night when Victoria Ekblad and James Hush, PBK, obliged. The dance was held at the University club.

Pledged by Phi Sigma Kappa is Ed Hirsch of Lincoln.

Grad school—

(Continued from Page 1.)

vided next year by Parke, Davis and company for continued research with organic compounds of medicinal value.

$400 philosophy award offered.

A $400 memorial fellowship in philosophy or psychology has been made available by students and friends of the late Professor Wolfe, who founded the Nebraska psychological laboratory.

A $150 scholarship, established by the local chapter of Mortar Board will be awarded to a worthy woman student who wishes to pursue her graduate study here.

Stoke also announced that one or more business research scholarships will again be available to graduate students next year. Stipend is $250 each. Another grant in business research has been made by the Cooper Foundation, which each year awards a graduate fellowship of $500 to the most outstanding senior student in business administration who desires to continue graduate study.

Ag prize given too.

The Cooper Foundation also awards a $500 graduate fellowship to the high ranking student in agriculture who desires to take advanced work.

The Herbert Brownell scholarship, amount undetermined, will be available preferably to a student who is a candidate for a graduate degree with a major in education. The scholarship is a memorial to Professor Brownell, who was formerly a member of teachers college faculty.

Several scholarships are provided for students interested in social work. Two Edith and Grace Abbott scholarships of $100 each are available.

In addition to the scholarships and fellowships, approximately 125 graduate assistantships will be available, ranging from $250 to $600 each. Recipients render service to the various departments as assistant instructors, laboratory aides and readers.

The university will also award 17 graduate tuition scholarships to graduates of the church colleges and state teachers colleges in the state. Candidates must rank in the upper 10 percent of their class.

Make recommendations in letter.

Increasing the number of students interested in graduate study, the development of instruments for securing pertinent data on the candidates, and a selection of graduate assistants on the basis of genuine competition and collective judgment were recommended by Dean Stoke in a letter to the graduate faculty.

"Improvement in the quality of our graduate work is largely determined by improvement in the quality of our graduate students," he declared. "If specialized education is to justify itself and if society is to have the benefit of such education, we must see that only those who have the necessary intellectual qualifications are encouraged to undertake graduate work."

Eames—

(Continued from Page 1.)

some years ago of developing music-culture as a required subject at Scripps college, the former Lincoln artist immediately joined the faculty of the California school, where he and his assistants are introducing the "Scripps idea" with marked success. Essentially, he says, it is a unification of the humanities group of studies in which music-culture is taught as literature, history and philosophy.

For his convocation program here, Dr. Eames will discuss "The Enjoyment of Music." He will supplement his remarks with a group of short piano masterpieces. The former Nebraskan will also talk on "Music and Art in Their Relation to the study of the Humanities" at an informal luncheon Thursday noon in the Union for all members of the faculty. Friday noon at a luncheon in the Union before the faculty of the school of fine arts he will discuss "The Functions of a School of Fine Arts in a University."

Dr. Eames is internationally eminent as one of the creative interpreters of music in America. His compositions include both songs and orchestral suites. In 1925 he was awarded the David Bispham Memorial prize for the best light opera of the year, "Priscillo," and in 1927 he accepted an appointment to the Scripps college faculty.

Regents—

(Continued from Page 1.)

in the three women's residences from $152 to $144 a semester. Also effective next month is a new arrangement whereby girls working for meals outside the residence halls may rent rooms there for $10 a month. Yearly rates for dormitories have been scaled down from the present $304 to $270 a year, effective September 1940.

Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, chairman of the geography department, was named new dean of the university junior division, created a short time ago. Dr. Bengtson, who joined the faculty as an instructor in 1908, will assume the deanship when the junior division plan is put into operation in September.

Dr. Bengtson, born in Sweden, received two degrees from the university, his Ph.D. from Clark university, and has studied and traveled extensively in foreign countries.

Approve summer budget.

Budget approved by the board for the 1940 summer school, R. D. Moritz, director, effects a saving of $2,500 over the amount expended last year. Also approved for this summer was an all-state high school music course with a fee of $34 to cover board, room, and tuition. The course is to last three weeks.

It was determined by the board of regents to award all future scholarships in the department of music on the basis of competitions.

In the college of pharmacy the department of pharmacy was renamed the department of pharmacy and pharmaceutical chemistry. This was one of innumerable items affecting catalog listings which were referred to the regents following faculty and senate approval in recent meetings.

On behalf of the college of dentistry, the regents accepted the gift of the dental library of Dr. E. A. Thomas of Hastings, to the college.

A major administrative change is elevation of the school of nursing in Omaha to the status of a collegiate school, with approval of the following staff titles:

- Charlotte Burgess, director of the school of nursing and professor of nursing; Myra Tucker, assistant professor of nursing; Mercedes Breen, assistant professor of nursing; M. Luella Gardner, assistant professor of nursing.
  - Angeline Phillips, associate professor of dietetics and director of dietetics; Helen Enches, assistant professor of psychiatric nursing and supervisor of the psychiatric nursing service; Edith Helen O'Neill, assistant professor of pediatric nursing and supervisor of the pediatric nursing service; Ellen Chrystyn Entenman, assistant professor of clinical surgical nursing.
  - Neva Cross, instructor in obstetric nursing and supervisor of obstetric nursing service; Isabel Blain, instructor in surgical technique in nursing and supervisor of the operating rooms; Edna Braun, instructor in public health nursing and supervisor of prenatal and infant welfare clinics.
  - Astrid Larson, instructor in clinical nursing and night supervisor of the nursing service; Margaret Milne, instructor in clinical surgical nursing; Velma Monk, instructor in clinical medical nursing; Theda Murphy, instructor in clinical out-patient nursing.
  - Hazel White, assistant clinical instructor in the operating rooms; Wilma Krogh, assistant instructor in clinical medical nursing.
- Chancellor C. S. Boucher submitted a number of changes affecting personnel to the board, which were approved. W. J. Loeffel, professor of animal husbandry and acting chairman of the department, was confirmed as chairman effective Jan. 1. The resignation of H. J. Gramlich, chairman of the department of animal husbandry, was accepted as of Jan. 1. Professor Gramlich has been on leave since November, 1938.
- Miss Helen M. Hosp, dean of women since September, 1939, was accorded the added title of assistant professor of personnel administration in teachers college.

New appointments are as follows:

In agricultural engineering, Dwight R. Walkup, special instructor for farm mechanics short course for one month. In agricultural extension, Lucille Bremer, stenographer; Elaine Olson, typist; and Marvin L. Vaughan, assistant county extension agent in place of Hugh Hillier. In entomology work of the agricultural experiment station Roscoe E. Hill was appointed assistant for twelve months from Jan. 1.

In the graduate school of social work, Pardo F. Delliquadri, scholar at $100 and tuition for one semester; Regina Mendel, lecturer in medical social work for one semester in place of Caroline H. Elledge; John M. Wedemeyer, scholar at $175 and tuition for one semester; Wilma R. Lyon, scholar at $100 and tuition for one semester; Cecil S. Feldman, Janet Hollander, Mabel L. Knipprath, and Annamary Reed, scholars at $50 each and tuition for one semester.

In home economics, Alice Marsh, research assistant for six months; Francis Wickersham, graduate assistant for five months.

In the library, Melinda Anderson, assistant in place of Mrs. Vera Charles; Fern Bloom, assistant in chemistry library in place of Maude Chevront.

In the college of medicine, Nelda N. Bortz, laboratory technician in hospital in place of Alice Campbell; Arlene Manlin, assistant supervisor of dispensary in place of Laura Godfrey.

In rural economics, Earl O. Heady, clerk for six months in place of Frank Miller, on leave.

In student activities, Geraldine Thomas, stenographer in place of Carlene Philipp.

In zoology, Howard L. Wieggers, graduate assistant for five months.

The board approved a number of changes in the titles of members of the faculty recommended by the administrative council:

In the college of agriculture, Edith Carse was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of home economics; R. W. Goss from professor of plant pathology to professor of plant pathology and chairman of department of plant pathology in agricultural experiment station; Eric Kneen from assistant agricultural chemist and assistant in plant pathology to assistant agricultural chemist and assistant plant pathologist; C. B. Rosenquist from assistant professor to associate professor of agricultural botany; and Edna B. Snyder from assistant home economist to instructor in home economics.

In the college of arts and sciences, W. H. Bower was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of romance languages; Lydia Dell Berry from assistant instructor to instructor in art; D. W.

Dysinger from instructor to assistant professor of psychology; A. L. Elmquist from instructor to assistant professor of Germanic languages; David Fellman from instructor to assistant professor of political science; Armand Hunter from assistant instructor in speech and dramatic art; K. H. Lewis from instructor to assistant professor of bacteriology; W. E. Millner from instructor to assistant professor of chemistry; M. S. Peterson from instructor to assistant professor of English; A. H. Reents from assistant instructor to instructor in the classics; W. H. Wetameister from assistant professor to associate professor of philosophy; and R. A. Winnacker from assistant professor to associate professor of history.

In the college of business administration John A. Pfanner, Jr., was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of business organization and management, and W. A. Spurr, assistant professor of statistics, becomes also acting chairman of the department of dentistry promotions.

In the college of dentistry promotions were as follows: W. C. Covey from instructor in pathology to assistant professor of internal medicine; D. A. Keys from instructor in operative dentistry and crown and bridge work to assistant professor of operative dentistry; H. W. Orr from instructor in dental surgery to assistant professor of orthopedics; B. F. Schwartz from instructor in oral hygiene and periodontal pathology; Guy L. Spencer from instructor in dental ethics and economics to instructor in operative dentistry; F. W. Webster from professor of oral surgery and instructor in dental pathology to professor of dental pathology and oral surgery, and chairman of department of oral surgery; J. Stanley Welch from instructor in principles of dental surgery to assistant professor of surgery.

In the college of engineering were: N. H. Barnard from assistant professor to associate professor of mechanical engineering; J. F. Colbert from assistant professor to associate professor of engineering mechanics; E. J. Marmo from instructor in engineering drawing to assistant professor of engineering mechanics; W. H. Ruten from instructor to assistant professor of practical mechanics.

In the college of medicine Manuel Grodzinsky was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of anatomy and assistant professor of surgery to associate professor of anatomy and surgery, and M. F. Gunderson from assistant professor to associate professor of pathology and bacteriology.

In the college of pharmacy P. J. Jannke was advanced from instructor to assistant professor of pharmacy, and Helena I. Redford from resident pharmacist to resident pharmacist and instructor in pharmacy.

In teachers college C. W. Scott was promoted from associate professor to professor of school administration.

In physical education for men W. W. Knight was advanced from assistant professor of physical education and athletics.

LEARN TO DANCE
GUARANTEE YOU TO DANCE IN 6 PRIVATE LESSONS
 TEN YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL TEACHING
LEE A. THORNBERRY
 Bus Service Within 1 Block
 2-3000
 Lessons Hour or Half Hour
 2300 Y Street

brighten up with a midwinter print

Shimmering frocks of jersey, with the young slim figure lines so flattering to all sizes. Rich Persian hand blocked rayon crepe prints, radiant in coloring. To brighten up the sombre winter with a new print in January is as traditional as the New Year. These are of the concave waist variety now so popular at the southern resort. Sizes 14 to 44.

Other New Prints $10.95 and $14.95

Ben Simon & Sons

MOVIE CLOCK
 Nebraska—"The Housekeeper's Daughter" 1:32, 3:37, 5:42, 7:47, 9:52.
 Stuart—"High School" 1:30, 3:36, 5:42, 7:48, 9:54.
 Liberty—"Four Wives" 1, 3:10, 5:10, 7:20, 9:30.
 Varsity—"Music in My Heart" 1, 3:15, 5:25, 7:40, 9:50.
 "Flight at Midnight" 2:05, 4:20, 6:30, 8:45.

Worcester gives radio summary at psychology meetings in Columbus, O.

Dr. D. A. Worcester, chairman of the department of educational psychology and measurements, was appointed to give a radio summary of the recent psychology sub-section meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Columbus, O.

SUNDAY
JANUARY 8—4:00

FREE VARIETY SHOW

Vaudeville Acts
 Full-length Movie

STUDENT UNION BALLROOM

The Lincoln Cathedral Choir
 Announces
The Beginning of a Series of Choral Vespers
 Opening Today
Hotel Cornhusker Ballroom
 Doors Open at 5 O'Clock
 THE PUBLIC IS INVITED