The professor sat and stared at the paper for several minutes. Then he laid it aside and made an effort to speak. The student was too happily preoccupied with filing his nails to see that the teacher's face was red to the point of apoplexy. He made an effort to speak but there came only a gasping sound.

Finally, he rose to his feet, trembling, and pointed to the door. "Kindly leave this office at once," he commanded. "Get out before I throw you out!"

What price glory?

Presently there came a knock at the door. The professor raised his head and strained through his glasses toward the entrance. It seemed to him that so many crucial moments in his life had been spent waiting for somebody to open a door. He coughed dramatically.

"Come in," he said.

A young man came in with a sheet of paper in one hand. "Can I see you a minute, Prof?" he inquired. "I want to register. I want to take music appreciation, the American Indian, meteorology, and sex hygiene. Is that okay with you?"

The professor sighed. He closed his eyes for so long the student thought he had gone to sleep. "Yes," he said sadly, "that's all right with me." He adjusted his glasses and wrote "Music Appreciation" on a registration slip.

Some 52,000 cigarets were used by Williams college fraternities during rushing season this fall.

Exams keep kiddies home; marriages still top the news

The meager news trickling through the intellectual blockade from now until finals are over bears testimony to Dan Cupid's powers. The old boy has certainly been busy!

MAINLY AFFECTED

are alumnae. They are getting engaged and married in hordes. Maryannette Comstock, former DG, will be married on Feb. 16 to William H. Tucker. Susan Gibbs, former KKG, will be married Jan. 27 to Robert Ogier, Phi Delt alum. A former DG, Virginia Vasey, will marry a former Beta, Fred Vette, early in the spring. An unexpected announcement comes as a surprise to friends of a Tri Delt alum, Joan Gramlich. Her marriage to Dr. Hamilton Webb of New York City took place Dec. 30.

Barbs give 400 bids to party

Four hundred bids for the barb winter party are now available in the barb union office. They may be obtained free of charge by holders of barb membership cards. On Wednesday, February 7, before the formal if any bids remain they will be released to those barbs not having cards.

The party will be held Feb. 10 in the Union ballroom and will be semi-formal. Don Kelly and his Esquires will play. A dinner will precede the dance.

The barb bulletin will begin publication again next semester it has been announced. The Y.M.C.A. will furnish the help and the barb organization the material for the publication.

Saye talks to Economica
