Trackmen meet Wildcats Tonight

Nebraskans make second home start

Nebraska's brilliant track artists make their second home start tonight as Kansas State's team invades the Husker indoor layout...

Both teams hold wins over Kansas, but the Wildcats were beaten by Drake in their first meet of the season.

The Huskers, fresh from the Illinois relays, will undoubtedly be pressed harder by K-State than they were by Kansas...

Soit a find.

Darold Dodge, hurdler, Thaine High, 2-miler, shot putter Elmer Hackney, high jumper Gene Soit, and the mile relay team are the Wildcats best bets for first.

Dodge, who has marks of :07.1 and :07.8 in the hurdles, will have to beat out sophomore Bill Smutz, high point man against KU...

Hackney has been doing around 48 feet in the shot despite an injured hand, and will get his strongest competition from Ed Wibbels.

Lead K-State.

Soit, a former intramural star, has been doing better than any of the Husker high jumpers, while the relay team of Gibson, Haberle, Payne and Robinson got 3:30.7 in beating Kansas...

The Huskers, what with Littler, middle distance man, Harold Brooks, Smutz and Hunt, the brilliant sophomore quartet, look best in the other events.

Husker entries: Mile run—Harold Brooks, Ray Walker, Bill Cook, Linville Prall. 60-yard dash—Gene Littler, George Abel, Bill Smutz.

Husker quintet closes season as Phog's Jayhawks invade coliseum tomorrow evening

Nebraska's basketball team winds up the season tomorrow night against Kansas, as five Husker cakers finish up their collegiate careers.

Co-captains Bud Tallman, Creston, Ia., and Irv Yaffe, Omaha, along with Harry Pitcaithley and Bob Therien of Lincoln and Bruce Duncan, Broken Bow, are the seniors who will receive Tassels' scrolls of recognition before the game.

Yaffe, Tallman and probably Pitcaithley will be in the Husker lineup at the opening whistle. Don Fitz was at center at Iowa State, and will probably take over that post against Kansas.

NU wrestlers set for meet at K-State

Wildcat squad strong; favored to defeat Huskers Saturday night

Nebraska's wrestlers meet their strongest foe of the season as they go to Manhattan to tussle with Kansas State's grapplers Saturday night.

The undefeated Wildcats, who hold victories over Illinois, Minnesota and Iowa State, all of whom have beaten the Huskers, are odds on favorites to win the conference title at Ames March 8 and 9.

Leading the K-Staters is Capt. Leon Reynard, 175 pounder, who has held the Big Six title in his class for two years.

Fansher back

Milt Kuska will go against Farland Fansher, a two year letterman, in the 121 pound class. Ed McConnell faces sophomore Bill Hartman at 128 pounds.

Lee Clare, senior and a two year letterman has won his old place on the Husker team at 136 pounds, and will take on another sophomore, Vern McClellan.

Sophomore Newton Coppel will meet Glen Duncan, junior, in the 145 pound division. Duncan is second high scorer on the team, with undefeated Reynard being the only man to outscore him this season.

Tomes meets Jiggs

Jiggs Van Vleet, conference 155 pound champion, will be Ray Tomes' opponent, while Leland Porter, a junior as is Van Vleet, will tackle Dale Ruser at 165 pounds.

Heavyweights will be Bill Rumbolz, who wrestled his first match in last weekend's Iowa State meet for the Huskers, and 165 pound Keith Collins. George Seemann, Husker heavyweight, is still out because of a knee operation.

Swim team goes into three meets

Pete Hagelin's swimmers make their last tour of inspection of the conference, as they leave today to invade Kansas State over the week end, and stop over in Soonerland Monday, before returning home to start preparation for the Big Six meet at Ames March 1 and 2.

At Manhattan, today, the Husker tankers will tackle the same Wildcat squad that came from behind to defeat them here. While on their next stop at Lawrence—where Coach Hagelin thinks lies his second victory—they meet the luckless Kansas squad, which bowed of late to the Wildcats 52 to 32.

New pool.

On Monday, the Huskers will get their first swim in the new $60,000 Sooner pool, as they go against the improved Sooners, who have lost to Oklahoma A. & M., but who lost to Kansas.

The men making the trip with Coach Hagelin are Jim Ager, Norman Borden, Bill Edwards, Ray Rolland, Fred Rodenbeck, LeRoy Foster, Charles Roberts, Ernest Peterson, Ralph Worden, Fred Fairman.

Pit and Held amy get the call tomorrow night.

The Huskers hold somewhat of a home-floor jinx over Kansas, having beaten them here three years ago to tie the Jayhawks for the conference title.

Should the Huskers upset Kansas they will finish with three victories—one each over Iowa State, Kansas State and KU on the home floor, the same record as they had last year.

Ralph Miller and Bob Allen were the main cogs as the KU team beat Nebraska at Lawrence, and those two, who rank second and third among conference scorers, will have to be stopped if the Huskers expect to give KU a battle.

"Phog" Allen is fearing a repetition of a Husker scoring splurge such as burst out against Kansas State, and the Kansans, knowing the incentive a Nebraska team has to beat Kansas in basketball, are not taking the game lightly.

Probable lineups:

Table with columns: Yaffe, Tallman, Fitz, Pitcaithley, Held, Ebling, Miller, Allen, Harp, Voran

Underwear that doesn't sneak up on you!

MANY SHORTS seem to be made mostly of seams. Seams that never let you alone. They saw and chafe—heckle you the whole day through.

Not Arrow shorts! For Arrows have a seamless crotch—a patented feature that means real comfort, joyous freedom.

Bid goodbye to underwear torture and try Arrow Shorts today. They're Sanforized-Shrunk, fabric shrinkage less than 1%—a wide range of patterns with either snap fasteners or buttons. 65c up. Tops 50c up.

ARROW UNDERWEAR

We Take the Squirm Out of Shorts

The Arrow people, who make our shorts for us, have a technique all their own:

- 1. They eliminate the center seam that always gets you in the crotch. 2. They make shorts roomier! 3. And every pair is Sanforized—guaranteed never to shrink!

For Summer, comfortable shorts are indispensable!
