

Noted author and architect to visit NU

Emerson, MIT dean asks 'why not beauty?' in talks here March 21

William Emerson, for many years dean of architecture at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, author of many books, and distinguished practitioner both here and abroad, will speak at a public program in the Morrill hall auditorium the evening of March 21.

—Journal and Star
William Emerson.

Arrangements for the visit of the architect were completed by Prof. Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the department of architecture.

Emerson, who was recently elected a life member of the M. I. T. corporation, will also talk to students at noon March 21 in the student union on "Architectural Education." There will be a dinner in his honor at the University club in the evening, sponsored by the Nebraska chapter of the American Institute of Architects, followed by a public program and an address on "Why Not Beauty?" at 8 p. m. in Morrill hall auditorium. The Nebraska Architects association is also joining in the evening program.

The coming speaker is today considered one of the top names in the field of architecture. His work is known throughout this country and in France. He is a fellow of the American Institute of Architects, former president of the New York chapter, a member of the Society of Beaux Arts Architects, and is a past president of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.

He is the recipient of the French Chevalier Legion of Honor, and during the war served as major and director of the bureau of construction for the American Red Cross.

Ceres club offers two senior girls $25 scholarship

In recognition of extra-curricular efforts and scholastic attainments the Ceres club of ag college has established two senior scholarships of $25.

Any girl registered in ag college who will have 89 or more credit hours at the close of the present semester or summer school is eligible for one of the scholarships.

Applicants are requested to call, by appointment at the home of Mrs. C. E. Rosenquist, 1320 N. 37, between 1 and 5 p. m. on March 28 for an interview with the scholarship committee. At this time the applicants must present their credit book for examination by the committee.

Goddess - -

(Continued From Page 1.)

to rest on a hill, then as it rose revealed Miss Jack, who descended the hill to the dance floor, where she was met by her escort.

Her attendants were dressed in full striped skirts in pastel colors topped with blouses ornamented with beading.

Southern party

Theme of the event was a southern lawn party, with the building decorated with a white picket fence and papier-mache flowers combined with shrubbery and plants which transformed the activities building into a lawn scene for the dancers.

Chaperons for the function were Professor and Mrs. I. L. Hathaway and Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Frolik.

The party, sponsored by the Agricultural Executive board of the college of agriculture, was under the general direction of Ople Hedlund, Chappell, and Gans Richmond, Campbell. Committee chairmen: publicity, Marvin Kruse, Loretto, and Oscar Tegtmeyer, Burchard; decorations, Gwen Jack, Milo Tassar, Tobias; Rhoda Chesley, Callaway; Ellen Ann Armstrong, St. Paul; presentation, Will Pitner, Stratton; Betty Jo Smith, Ashland; tickets, Ruth Ann Sheldon, Nehawka, and Keith Gilmore, Callaway.

Carlson speaks to Chicago U Lincoln alums

Anton J. Carlson, a distinguished service professor of physiology at the University of Chicago, addressed the Lincoln alumni of the University of Chicago, Saturday evening at the University club. Prof. J. E. A. Alexis, chairman of the modern language department at Nebraska, served as toastmaster.

Carlson, who is recognized for his outstanding research in the field of physiology, once fasted 15 days during a study of hunger. He has been a member of the Chicago faculty for the past 36 years and head of the department of physiology for the past 24.

Carlson gave his views on university life from the standpoint of a staff member of many years. During the World war he served as a lieutenant colonel, assisting Herbert Hoover in his work of feeding the destitute children of Europe. While in Lincoln, Professor Carlson was the guest of Dr. Stanley J. Zemer, one of his former students.

Law fraternity initiates ten first year students

Phi Delta Phi, professional law fraternity, initiated ten first year students and an honorary member in special induction services held in the supreme court chambers of the state capitol last week.

Professor James Doyle was made honorary member. New student members are Robert Flory, Donald Moore, Richard Peck, Richard Doty, Frank Day, Paul Wenke, Bruce Grant, Cecil Brubaker, Lauren Lampert and Max Meyer.

Mortar Board creates two scholarships

Single $150 award split in half for sophomore women of next semester

Mortar Board scholarships have been changed from one graduate scholarship of $150 to two sophomore awards of $75 each, members of Mortar Board announced Saturday. Freshman women wishing to try for the sophomore awards should apply Monday through Saturday at the office of the dean of women. University application blanks will be furnished.

Scholarship and need

Winners will be chosen on the basis of scholarship and need. A minimum of 85 percent last semester will be required and the applicant must have no incomplete or down hours the first six weeks of this semester. She must have carried at least 12 hours each semester and plan to carry at least 12 in her sophomore year.

Half of the scholarship, $37.50, will be awarded in time to pay next semester fees and another $37.50 the second semester. The applicant must remain in good standing during this time. Winners will be announced at the Honors convocation.

DuTeau talks to Rotary

Elsworth DuTeau, alumni secretary, addressed the annual ladies' night dinner program of the Falls City Rotary club Tuesday on the subject "As Great as We Think."

Confucius sayers still doing it--can still win prize

For the best "Confucius sayings," the Saturday Evening Post is offering 167 cash prizes totaling $750 in a contest open only to college and high school students.

Idea of the contest is to write a simple sentence—phrased in Oriental manner—that gets across some selling point about the Post.

The contest closes April 5, and entries should be mailed to Prof. Charles E. Bellatty, Boston university, 685 Commonwealth ave., Boston, Mass. Students should consult a booklet of instructions regarding points of Post leadership to which the sayings must apply. A copy of the booklet may be consulted in the DAILY office or students may write of Professor Bellatty.

Rosenlof will speak before civic groups

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof of the department of secondary education will give several addresses out in the state during the next few weeks. March 19 he will give the Bryan day dinner address in Lincoln; March 22 he will talk at the meetings of the county school board association at Rushville; April 19 the Curtis commencement, and April 25 the Scottish Rite reunion address at Omaha.

Meredith Darlington of the extension division spoke recently at the Jefferson county rural institute at Fairbury on "Planning and Teaching a Unit on Mexico."

ICC official to attend uni conference

Commission chairman Chicago U professor to conduct round tables

J. B. Eastman, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and Prof. L. C. Sorrell, University of Chicago will head important round table discussions at the forthcoming second annual transportation conference, April 15, of the University of Nebraska. At the evening dinner Eastman will be the principal speaker upon the topic of "Comments on Co-ordination." This meeting will be presided over by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Co-ordination, competition.

The topic of the round table in which Mr. Eastman will participate is "Problems of Co-ordination and Competition." In this round table will appear nationally known men from each of the transport fields discussing matters in reference to the place of competition in transportation, equality of competition for the various agencies—including such points as subsidy by the government, and private, contract and common carrier relations, and unified regulation which involves the relations of state and federal jurisdiction.

The procedures of the conference will this year inaugurate the use of the round table method of discussion.

For daytime and date-time Shagmoor coats

AS ADVERTISED IN MADEMOISELLE

... perfect for knockabout college wear because they're made of soft, exclusive Shagmoor fabrics that simply shake out dust, moisture and wrinkles.

Left, $29.95 in monotone or tweed
Right, $39.95 in Alpaca... $29.95 in monotone or tweed

LOCALLY OWNED • LOCALLY CONTROLLED

GOLD & CO.

WE GIVE S & H GREEN STAMPS