

Lawrence M. Judd (pictured above) will offer students a new insight on Hawaii today when he speaks at a convocation in the Union ballroom at 11 a. m. The topic of Judd's address is "Hawaii, Pivot of the Pacific," and he will endeavor to remove some of the current misconceptions in regard to the territory, which is closely allied with the United States in economics and politics.

Knows pineapples.

Judd was formerly governor of Hawaii and has been prominent in political life there. Being a colonel of the infantry reserves, he is aware of the military situation and his connection with the pineapple industry has given him a knowledge of business conditions.

Students who are interested in the business and education conditions in Hawaii are invited to submit their questions to Mr. Judd after his talk.

Band puts four Nebraska songs on wax for alumni

A recording of four of the most popular university songs by the university band is now available to alumni and friends of the institution over the country, according to E. F. Du Teau, alumni secretary.

The recording of "The Scarlet and the Cream," "The Chant," "On Cornhuskers," and "My Nebraska" was made in the university's radio

More than half . . .

U.S. college students smoke, but less than third by habit

By Joe Belden.

Editor, Student Opinion Surveys of America.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 10.—As a group, college students are giving the tobacco growers a good business, for well over half of them report that they are smokers. Less than a third, however, smoke habitually, and half of the women who attend the nation's colleges and universities say they never indulge in cigarettes.

Sending out its scores of interviewers to talk to students of all types, the Student Opinion Surveys of America, with the DAILY NEBRASKAN co-operating, has compiled statistics that show the tobacco habits of collegians.

Favorites?

"What is your favorite brand of cigarette?" a scientific cross section of the colleges was asked. And this is what they answered:

- Smoke pipe, cigars only . . . 3.4
- Lucky Strike . . . 12.1%
- Camel . . . 10.4
- Phillip Morris . . . 8.0
- Chesterfield . . . 6.9
- Old Gold . . . 2.9
- Pall Mall . . . 2.3
- All others . . . 2.9
- No particular choice . . . 9.8
- Don't smoke . . . 41.3

Both men and women in greater percentages prefer Luckies over any other brand (14.1 men, 8.8 women). But the girls placed Phillip Morris second with 7.6 per cent, 7.1 per cent selecting Camels. The preferences of men run in exactly the same order as those for all students above.

Any caricature of the typical college woman as a habitual smoker appears to be erroneous, for only 21.6 percent declare that they smoke regularly. Men use cigarettes, pipes, and cigars out of habit to quite a larger extent than the coeds, 34.3 percent, or over a third. The complete tabulations follow, statistically representing the entire U. S. college and university enrollment:

Smoke regularly . . .	24.3%	21.6%	29.5%
Smoke occasionally . . .	39.0	28.0	29.3
Never smoke . . .	35.7	50.4	41.3

Players' last show is called best of year

By Elizabeth Clark.

Jon Pruden and Grace Elizabeth Hill last night helped the University Players to close the 1939-40 season with probably the best production of the year, "Dodsworth," adapted from the Lewis novel.

Grace Hill, as the shallow Fran Dodsworth, who was afraid to grow old, afraid to face facts, and an actress in a private show all through her life gave an excellent performance and interpreted Fran as well as any amateur actress possibly could.

Jon Pruden, in the title role of a business man, American to the core, was entirely adequate and (See PLAYERS, page 4.)

RICHARD DE BROWN EDITOR DAILY NEBRASKAN

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA LINCOLN NEBR—

WE ARE PREPARING NEW SONG FOR NEBRASKA WHICH WE WILL PERFORM ON OUR CHESTERFIELD PROGRAM MAY 17TH NBC NETWORK 7 PM EST

REGARDS.

FRED WARING 1697 BROADWAY NYC

A telegram (printed above) from Fred Waring to the DAILY today told of his tentative plans to have a song for Nebraska ready to present on his Chesterfield program at 6:00 p. m. May 17th—if there is strong enough desire on the part of the student body to have such a song.

Petitions have been circulating on the campus for the past week; to date, 932 students have signified their wish to have a song especially written for the university. The DAILY is striving for a total of several thousand names before sending in the petition to the leader of the Pennsylvanians. "Waring's interest and gracious gesture in offering to do the song is deserving of the student's thanks and support," said Dick de Brown, DAILY editor.

By a name band.

To have an exclusively written Cornhusker song presented over the NBC national network by a "name" band like Waring's Pennsylvanians would bolster the prestige of the university, according to Editor deBrown. The merit of the song-to-be is not to be questioned, for Waring has turned out melodies for other colleges that have proven to be top-notchers.

All that remains is for the students to show their appreciation by signing the petitions now being circulated over the campus. Do your part—sign today. The DAILY asks that anyone who wishes to help in this campaign come to the DAILY office, get a petition, and have it filled with signatures. Students who have petitions already filled should turn them in today.

All-college queens must enter today

Candidates file photos in Daily office by 5; Judges will choose six

Nebraska coeds planning to enter the All-American College Queen contest, with a free trip to Hollywood as first prize and free trips to a movie premiere as semi-final awards, must have their entries in the DAILY offices by 5 p. m. today.

Campus BMOC's and a local movie representative will select about six of these girls who seem to have the best screen possibilities, and the campus then will ballot on the winning entrant from this university.

Pictures of the girl selected will be sent to five prominent New York artists to pick the 48 state winners. The artists who will judge are Russel Patterson, Dean Cornwell, McClelland Barclay, Jaro Fabry, and Armando.

Publish pictures.

Pictures of the most popular, most beautiful, and most talented coed from each of the 48 states will be published in three of the May issues of Movie and Radio Guide. All over the country citizens will ballot for the girl they think most representative and the 12 winning campus beauties will be sent to Galesburg, Ill., to the premiere of "Those Were the Days," adapted from the "Old Siwash" stories, which were written about Knox college at the turn of the century.

Hosts and hostesses at the premiere will be students at Knox and stars of the picture, including Bonita Granville and William Holden.

Crown for most typical.

While at Knox, one of the 12 "American beauties" will be picked by a committee of judges as the most typical American college girl, and crowned All-American College Queen.

The All-American College Queen will receive a free trip to Hollywood where she will be entertained by the stars, and will be screened by Paramount studios.

Says Barney Oldfield, Lincoln movie columnist and critic: "It's so simple, any Nebraska girl whose mirror tells her what she likes to know, owes it to herself to try."
